mbassador Raps Cost of Utilities.

ERLIN, June 17.—(AP)—Ambassa- Frederic M. Sackett tonight au- ared a state- at that, despite ections by Sam- Insull, Chi- utilities mag- he would de- unchanged a ech he had pared for to- orrow's session e world pow conference. It had been ear- reported that ambassador. king Mr. Ip- 's protest, withdraw speech entirely and confine himself surveying briefly President Hoover's dings to the delegates.

FREDERIC M. SACKETT.

ord was given out this morning the embassy that some revision made in the speech, and this lent to the reports that the ambassa- had withdrawn it.

Ambassador Becomes Angry.

The circulation of these reports, wever, apparently roused the am- ador's ire, for the next develop- t was an emphatic assurance that speech would be delivered as writ- .

The passage to which it is under- d Mr. Insull objected began thus: "One of the primary reasons for ming such a conference as this to discuss and consider construc- criticisms in the field of its in- sts. As one who shared the re- sibilities of early development of er service and has retained an in- st in its welfare, I venture a sug- tion in the hope of contributing the betterment of this industry of ver supply.

Urges Lower Charges.

"I know of no other manufactur- industry where the sale price of product to the great mass of con- mers is fifteen times the actual cost production of the article sold. My rpose is sharply to define a weak- ss that calls for the keenest thought your deliberations.

"Until the power business is ought into line with other industries the relationship of its cost of pro- ction to the price paid by the con- mer, there can be little justification thinking that this great power dustry is rapidly approaching per- ction."

After asserting that "in most great ters, at least in America," con- mers paid for household service m fifteen to twenty times the cost the power, the speech added that "there is an extraordinary margin tween cost and sales price, to the duction of which science may apply lf with the greatest benefit to the ople as a whole.

Admits Argument "But——"

"Perhaps the premises of this sim- e statement may be disputed. It y be argued that no such discrep- cy exists. It may be excused or plained with the greatest ingenuity. "But you who are in this business uld remember that among the ers of your product the class which the greatest in number and consti- es the basis of that public opinion ich in the end judges and controls blic utilities is that vast body of n who every month pay a 6 cent harge in their households for an ar- le which we are constantly told being produced by efficient electric ations for from three-tenths to ur-tenths of a cent."

The ambassador said consumers ight be temporarily appeased by ex- anations that construction costs ere high for the service given to small users, and that large price re- uctions were made for quantity serv- e, but they looked to "conferences ke these to recognize deficiencies in the progress of the art and to apply e correctives of science."

Refers to Government Ownership.

Farther on the speech declared that "in America there exists a rapidly owing body of public opinion, led y laymen of great ability, which de- ands governmental competition in ase with private power enterprises.

"So drastic is the demand that it ealizes the thought that all water ower sources should be government wned and operated. This public clam- r cites with enthusiasm the delivered ats of certain municipally owned ystems in neighboring countries as roof of the iniquity of charges for lectricity by our privately operated ants."

LANDSLIDE FOR WET CANDIDATE IN NEW JERSEY

Gets Nomination for U. S. Senator.

BULLETIN.

Newark, N. J., June 17—(Special.)—With 2,098 of the 3,304 districts of the state tabulated in the Republican senatorial primary in New Jersey today Dwight W. Morrow appeared to have carried every county in the state, including the southern counties, noted for their dry sentiment, where Representative Franklin W. Fort had been expected to display formidable opposition to the ambassador.

The vote on the basis of 2,098 districts stood as follows:

Frelinghuysen, 25,465.

Newark, N. J., June 17.—[Special.]—Dwight W. Morrow, ambassador to Mexico, won the Republican nomination for United States senator in a sweeping victory at the primary election here today.

Running as an advocate of repeal of the eighteenth amendment and return of liquor control to the individual states, Mr. Morrow late tonight had a three to one lead over Representative Franklin W. Fort, dry candidate backed by the Anti-Saloon league, and Joseph S. Frelinghuysen, another wet, his opponents in the race for the long term nomination.

Mr. Morrow fairly swamped John A. Kelly, the fourth candidate, who with the ambassador was also a candidate for both the long and short terms.

Kelly Far Behind Others.

Mr. Kelly's vote was not being tabulated because he was running too far behind the other candidates to be a factor.

Due to the prominence of the candidates and the emphases laid upon the prohibition issue, the voting in the state attracted attention all over the country.

Mr. Morrow's lead on the basis of the returns received up to midnight prompted his campaign manager, Douglas G. Thomson, to predict the ambassador would win by a plurality of 165,000.

Fort Concedes His Defeat.

Mr. Fort who had remained hopeful that the returns from the rural and dry districts would pull him within striking distance of the ambassador sent this telegram to Mr. Morrow just before midnight:

"Please accept my sincere congratulations and the assurance of my earnest support throughout the election campaign. I have not the slightest doubt that you will be a fine and distinguished addition to the United States senate."

The primary contest was fought mainly on the wet and dry issue, and was viewed in many parts of the country as a test of prohibition's strength. Mr. Morrow's victory, it was anticipated, would have a distinct repercussion in other localities and would tend to strengthen the wet sentiment within the Republican party, particularly in New York state.

Morrow Calm in Triumph.

Apprised of Mr. Fort's concession of defeat, Mr. Morrow remained tranquil. Seated in a living room of his Englewood home he read throughout the evening and paid scarcely any attention to the returns. When Representative Fort's message was conveyed to him, he said:

"It seems I have carried my own ward."

He referred to his home ward in Englewood, where the vote gave him 562 to 15 for Fort and 3 for Frelinghuysen.

Mr. Morrow did not acknowledge his conquest until well after midnight, when he sent this telegram to Mr. Fort:

"Mrs. Morrow and I deeply appreciate your message and thank you most heartily."

A similar message was sent to former Senator Frelinghuysen, who also conceded defeat.

Make Statement Today.

"Since the returns are not complete," Mr. Morrow said, "I shall make no general statement until tomorrow."

Mr. Morrow is expected to remain in New Jersey only a few days longer. He will then return to Mexico City to wind up his diplomatic duties.

He will return to New Jersey in ample time for the general election when he will contest for the long term with former State Senator Alexander Simpson, who was unopposed for the Democratic nomination.

DIAGNOSING THE ILLS OF THE PATIENT

Coast to Coast in 14 Hrs.; Pair Flying Back

San Diego, Cal., June 17.—(AP)—Having set a new record for the westbound crossing from Jacksonville, Fla., to San Diego, Aviators Edward F. Schlee and William A. Brock took the air tonight at 5:11 o'clock on the return trip, hoping to reach the Florida seaport within thirty hours of their hop-off westward at 5:04 a. m.

The flyers made the trip from Jacksonville to San Diego in 13 hours 55 minutes 30 seconds, breaking all records for the transcontinental crossing. They averaged 152 miles an hour on the 2,100 mile course to the Pacific.

Dodge a Few Storms.

"We had good weather," said Brock, "except over Arizona, New Mexico and the Imperial valley. We had to dodge storms in those areas. The last was a dust storm over Imperial valley."

Refueling of the big Lockheed-Vega plane began almost as soon as the occupants left the machine. The flyers decided not to change the lubricating oil in the 450 horse power Wasp Wasp engine.

"Let's let good enough alone," said Brock with a laugh. "The motor is working fine."

Slice Record Seven Hours.

Their monoplane carried 450 gallons of gasoline at the takeoff from Jacksonville.

Brock and Schlee cut more than seven hours off the east-west record made by Lieut. James H. Doolittle, flying in 1922 from Jacksonville to this city.

The west to east record is held by Maj. T. C. Macauley of San Diego. He made the run from San Diego to Jacksonville in 1919 in 19 hours and 10 minutes.

Capt. Frank Hawks made the round trip from New York to Los Angeles and back in January, 1929, in 43 hours and 59 minutes, taking a longer route than that between Jacksonville and San Diego.

Zion Police Launch Drive on Smokers; Youth Nabbed

Police at Zion, Ill., launched a drive yesterday to enforce an anti-smoking ordinance, which had been in disuse since the Supreme court declared it invalid sixteen years ago. The first victim was Francis Hurst, 19 years old, whom Policeman G. T. Miller arrested as he puffed a cigaret at the Salem boulevard station of the North Shore electric line. Hurst, an orphan, was held two hours in Zion jail until a chum's father, Lloyd Cunningham, produced a $400 cash bail. Cunningham announced he would finance a fight to the Supreme court if the boy is convicted at his trial, set for Friday.

THIS EXPLAINS THAT TASTE IN SO. SIDE WATER

The presence of a large quantity of phenol waste in the lake water pumped to the south side has made it necessary to increase the chlorine in the water by one pound per one million gallons. The phenol in combination with the chlorine, according to City Engineer Gayton, gives the water on the south side a bad taste, but it is safe to drink.

A southwest wind is responsible, Gayton said, for the presence of the phenol in the vicinity of the Chicago intake pipes. The phenol is discharged into the lake at its southern end by the large industries. Two other factors, according to Gayton, are that the Calumet river has been reversing its flow intermittently during the last few days and that the lake has been stirred by the wind.

He also had done a sketch from life of President Wilson.

Gallant Police Hold It Shame to Pinch Lady

A small yellow touring car drove up to the two story frame residence of Mrs. Caroline Czarnecki, 4419 South St. Louis avenue. It contained Sergt. Anthony Bieschke and Policemen William Duffy, Phillip Dorr, and Christ Hynes, all members of the Brighton Park station flivver squad. Hynes' comrades call him Maude because of the kick he packs in either fist.

Blond and Buxom.

"I am in the bath, gentlemen," said Mrs. Czarnecki, through a window. She is 35, blond and buxom. Sergt. Bieschke tipped his cap, bowed gallantly and remarked:

"That's all right, lady."

The policemen were there at the behest of Mrs. Hattie Yenkoitevitch, who lives on the first floor. She and Mrs. Czarnecki had been having words over the rent. Mrs. Yenkoitevitch had signed a complaint alleging Mrs. Czarnecki had threatened to beat her up if she didn't pay. Therefore the police.

"It's a shame to have to pinch that dame," observed Sergt. Bieschke as the front door swung open. It was Mrs. Czarnecki. She had a .45 Colt in her hand.

"Screw, you bums," she said, and started shooting.

Maude Hynes ducked under the front porch. Sergt Bieschke beat a bullet around the corner of the house. Duffy and Dorr slid in a coal chute.

Call for Help.

Mrs. Czarnecki, in negligee, strode after Bieschke, firing willy-nilly. Bieschke made a telephone and called for reinforcements. Lieut. Al Booth came at the head of the reserve squad. By then Mrs. Czarnecki had run out of ammunition. It was necessary to toss a tear bomb into the house before she surrendered.

DUMP TONS OF N. Y. VEGETABLES INTO EAST RIVER

New York, June 17.—(AP)—An oversupplied market has forced commission merchants to dump hundreds of truck loads of perfectly good vegetables into the East river during the last three days, a newspaper survey today disclosed.

Bumper crops throughout the east and south have sent a flood of spinach, string beans, melons, tomatoes and lettuce into the New York market, which the merchants declare is causing them to lose heavily on each carload lot.

Lodge Friends Visit Grave for $20 Per Visit

Before Louis A. Thiel, a fresco artist living at 2125 Leland avenue, died last February, he took a precaution against being forgotten. Each member of his lodge who visited his grave on June 17 or Nov. 17, he arranged, would receive $20. Stated friends and relatives who visited his grave at the prescribed dates would receive sums ranging from $5 to $20.

Yesterday, at 2 o'clock precisely, a little group of men assembled at the spot in Montrose cemetery where Mr. Thiel rests in peace.

One Hour Set for Visit.

"Well, they have an hour to make it in," one member observed, pulling out a large gold watch. "The contract says that they must be here between 2 and 3 o'clock." He sighed with the satisfaction of being well on time.

William Zeuch, 85 years old, of 3507 North Seeley avenue, and his wife, his daughter, and his grandson, also were on time. They came early so that papa could occupy one of the benches, the daughter explained.

Papa had been too feeble to go anywhere, even to lodge meetings, in a long while, Mrs. Zeuch then said. Yes, fifty years he'd been a lodge member, papa said in a piping voice. Neither Mrs. Zeuch nor any member of the family could collect the $20 without papa's being along, according to the stipulations made by Mr. Thiel. The contract said "lodge members."

Crowd Worries Some Brothers.

At 2:30 p. m. the number of those present had swelled so that some brothers looked a bit worried. One remarked that the bank which had issued some of the bonds worth $2,500 which Mr. Thiel had posted with his lodge, the new Chicago lodge of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows, had failed, and that there was less money. Also, it all wouldn't be distributed today; other years were coming when other visits must be made, it was said.

But A. T. Roner, head of the board of trustees, waved aloft a thick packet of $20 bills. On the whole, it could not be said that the spirit of the mourners was one of depression. As a new member arrived certain of his friends slapped him on the back.

Woman Barely on Time.

Among the last to arrive was a tall, thin brother who carried an umbrella and a tin dinner box. Mrs. Martha Maurer, 4204 North Lincoln street, also arrived, a little breathless, just before 3 o'clock.

"Where is Mr. Maurer?" some one asked her accusingly.

"It says in the contract that if either him or me comes it's all right," she said.

"That's right," affirmed Rudolph Lang, a trustee of the lodge.

"We're among the friends," she explained. "I never met him, but he and Mr. Maurer played cards together. I met her at the funeral. And we have a cemetery lot the other side of theirs," she said cheerfully, pointing to the tombstone the Maurer and Thiel families had in common, on the other side of which her name and her husband's were engraved, awaiting their demise.

At 3:05, a woman and a man hurried toward the group, now swelled to 76 persons. "They won't get any. they're late," one man said.

Relatives Are Late.

"We're relatives," she explained anxiously, "and we couldn't get her any quicker. We're the only relatives here, too. Surely we'll get it, won't we?"

She was Mrs. Louisa Klein of 6120 South May street, the only relative slated for the sum of $20, the others getting lesser amounts. With her was her son, William, who was to receive $10.

The trustees held council. Inasmuch as the Kleins were the only relatives who appeared to collect their share, it was agreed that, though late, they should be rewarded.

"I don't see why they should get anything; they're late," said Arthur Jacobson, 2125 Leland avenue, who was one of several friends who apparently came without hope of reward. "No, I didn't get anything, except that my wife and I get our rent free so long as we take care of Mrs. Thiel, who is sick. We live upstairs, you see."

No Flowers Are Added.

"Form in twos, brothers," Mr. Lang shouted.

They did, beamingly. As they passed around Messrs. Roner and Lang each received his $20; and others received their due share.

When they left, they did so merrily. Mr. Thiel's grave still bloomed with the same red geraniums which have bloomed all spring. Not a single flower had been added by the mourners. Not a tear had been shed.

TAX OFFICIALS SUMMONED TO HOUSE INQUIRY

Called to Testify at Springfield.

BY PERCY WOOD.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., June 17.—[Special.]—The house of representatives in committee of the whole late today moved unanimously to call the Cook county board of assessors, the board of review, Harry S. Cutmore, director of tax reassessment, and William H. Malone, chairman of the state tax commission, before them tomorrow afternoon.

The officials were invited to appear on motion of Democratic Minority Leader Michael Igoe, in support of a bill he introduced this morning to wipe out the boards of assessors and reviewers and supplant them with one assessor and two reviewers.

This motion, supported by some hot oratory during which it was charged that the root of Chicago's financial and criminal troubles was "not far from the Republican party" was the one lively period in a day of routine correction and advancing of the Strawn measures for the relief of the major taxing bodies of Cook county. At adjournment all the bills, save one, had reached the third reading stage in an amended form. They are due for passage action later in the week.

Shore Restoration Held Up.

The one bill not advanced was introduced in the morning to take the place of one of the Strawn program. It provided for the issuance of $1,000,000 in bonds without a referendum for shore restoration on the north side and bore the approval of the Lincoln park commissioners. The bill displaced was similarly worded, save that it called for a referendum. Some doubt was expressed that the measure could progress far this session, due to the shortness of time before July 1. The amendments attached to the proposed legislation were largely of a technical nature.

Representative Igoe introduced his measure shortly after the roll call, which ended with 121 members marked present. He termed his plan "the only legitimate and honest effort to correct the intolerable situation in Chicago and Cook county," and hailed it as the only bill introduced which would not increase taxes. He assailed Gov. Emmerson for a past refusal to call a second special session "for political reasons," and tacked the designation of "Little Red Riding Hood" on Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick, whom he did not mention by name.

Demands Tax Cleanup.

"You can pass all these bills and you have not accomplished a thing unless you clean out this cesspool," said Igoe. "My measure will give relief to the small taxpayer, and you folks from Cook had better bear that in mind. I'm trying to help the little taxpayer—the big taxfixers have been helped enough. This is the first time we have been able to chase certain rats into their holes. They've got our town strangled and it is all brought about by cheap Republican politics. They've made a goat out of the chief of police and the chief of detectives and I wish to remind you that Chicago's mayor is a Republican.

"Who collected the money to elect that mayor? A member of the board of review. Who kept the dog tracks open? Another member of the board of review. If you want the connection between crime, politics, and vice you don't have to travel far from the Republican party. Little Red Riding Hood has been selected to carry the senatorial banner, and she can carry that city hall with her.

Reviews Tax Muddle.

"Cook county today is in the position of having bad tax valuation officers—the reviewers and the assessors—who have conducted their affairs in such a scandalous manner that the complete assessment roll of 1927 was set aside. It was so fraudulent that no taxes could be collected upon it."

SWANSON ASKS EVIDENCE

State's Attorney Swanson last night said he will ask William H. Malone, chairman of the state tax commission, for all evidence which may substantiate charges that the board of assessors and board of review have willfully violated the rules of the commission. Earlier in the day the prosecutor received a letter from Malone, in which the latter criticized the conduct of the taxing bodies in the 1928 reassessment.

"Mr. Malone's letter contained only conclusions and failed to present any evidence of violations," Swanson said. "However, I shall ask him to produce all the facts which he says he can provide and then will decide what steps to take. I will do this when I find the time."

Mr. Swanson said he could not understand why Malone has delayed in sending him evidence regarding irregularities, which the commission is said to have collected. More than a month ago Malone announced he would place the matter before the state's attorney immediately.

Although the letter to Swanson did not specifically request a grand jury investigation, it was implied that a grand jury should be assembled to hear the evidence. The findings of the commission's auditors were offered to the prosecutor and his attention was directed to the statutes regarding the alleged violations.

Charges Disregard of Law.

"It was the mandatory duty of the assessors and reviewers to obey the laws and rules of this commission," the letter stated. "This plain duty the members of the board of review and board of assessors willfully violated by executing their offices in open and contemptuous disregard of the rules of procedure enjoined by statute and the regulations of this commission.

"The effect of these willful violations has been to encourage unfairness, lack of uniformity and inequality in the assessments by the protection and encouragement afforded by secrecy."

The letter charges violations of rules 14 and 15 which prescribe the procedure in fixing property valuations and the hearing of complaints.

Claim Secret Hearings.

"As disclosed by reports of examiners representing this commission," the letter continued, "many cases have occurred of unlawful and secret hearings, where in the face of full knowledge of the facts officially presented, valuations have been removed from assessable property, or so reduced to show design to evade the law.

"We request that you take the necessary action to enforce the law."

Members of the two boards declined to make statements but said they would welcome any form of an investigation.

WRANGLE HOLDS UP THE BILL FOR ARTILLERY RANGE

Springfield, Ill., June 17.—[Special.]—The house this afternoon took up the Camp Grant artillery bill which would appropriate $600,000 to purchase 6,000 acres near the camp for an artillery range. It has already been passed by the senate.

An amendment to the bill was first considered which would strike out the acreage limitation, so that less but more expensive land could be purchased nearer Rockford.

The house resolved itself into a committee of the whole and Representative Ernest W. Turner became chairman. Representative Leroy M. Green of Rockford opposed the amendment and offered a counter that no range be voted until the bill was approved by the voters. It was moved that this be tabled and the amendment reported out of the committee with a favorable recommendation.

The ensuing viva voce vote was decided by Chairman Turner to this effect, but Green characterized this as a "palpably unfair and dishonest ruling," and moved that it be recommitted to the committee of the whole. Representative Grover C. Borders of East St. Louis upheld Green and said the Chicago legislators "could not stampede the motion through, contrary to the wishes of the citizens of the district."

Green's motion to rerefer the matter was passed by a standing vote—45 yeas and 47 nays—and the whole committee must consider the amendment again on a later day.

COOK MAY GET DOWNSTATE HELP FOR REMAP BILL

BY PARKE BROWN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., June 17.—[Special.]—Just before the battle over the proposed amendment to the tax article of the state constitution, Cook county members of the general assembly today expressed the hope that they will have help from several downstate districts in their effort toward reapportionment.

The decennial census, now being wound up, the assemblymen from Chicago and its suburbs said, has demonstrated more strongly than ever the need for redrafting the boundaries of senatorial districts.

Kane County Population 125,000.

Kane county alone now has a population of 125,258, having grown from 99,499 in 1920. It now is large enough to be a district by itself, but under the present apportionment Kendall county, with a population of 10,549, is included with it in the Fourteenth district.

Kane county residents in such centers as Elgin and Aurora, it is reported here, now are inclined to frown on a further refusal to follow the constitution and establish equality of representation in the legislature. Two of its assemblymen, Senator Harold C. Kessinger of Aurora, and Representative Frank A. McCarthy of Elgin, were attending the special session today when this subject was brought to their attention. "I always have voted in favor of obedience to the constitutional provision concerning apportionment," said the former.

"There is every reason now to expect that a solution of the problem will be attempted seriously by the new assembly when it meets next January," said Representative McCarthy.

Will and Du Page Growing.

Will and Du Page counties together constitute the Forty-first district. Will, which centers around Joliet, had a population of 92,911 in 1920, and the present figures gives it a total of 110,842. Du Page, its neighbor, has grown from 42,120 to 85,388 in the last decade.

Together they have a population of 196,230, making the Forty-first the largest of the thirty-two districts outside Cook county. In contrast there are three districts in the state that average little more than 75,000 in population.

Two spokesmen for this big district, Senator Richard J. Barr of Joliet and Representative Lottie Holman O'Neill of Downers Grove, Du Page county, discussed the apportionment situation.

"I have voted for reapportionment in the past," said Senator Barr, "when there was no question involved of its giving to one county a majority of both houses of the legislature. If the 1930 census raises that question I should want to give it serious consideration."

"I have voted in favor of constitutional apportionment," said Mrs. O'Neill, "and I feel that the people of my district are in favor of it."

One other district that has grown so that the Chicago leaders say it should have additional representation at the capital is the Eighth. It includes Lake, McHenry and Boone counties. Lake jumped from 74,285 in 1920 to 103,350 in the 1930 census. McHenry and Boone, which have populations of 35,061 and 15,069 respectively, have not grown so rapidly but the three counties have a combined population of 153,480, which is higher than the district ratio if the state were redistricted in conformity with the new figures.

Test May Come Now.

While there can be no re-apportionment bill passed at this special session because Gov. Emmerson did not include it in his call, the question is expected to be the center of a big debate tomorrow. Downstate consented today to permit the lower house to consider the Strawn committee bills for the relief of the local governments of Chicago, but at a conference in the governor's office Chicago spokesmen were given to understand that the resolution for the amendment of the revenue article of the constitution will be taken up at least for the purpose of amendment tomorrow.

One of the principal amendments backed by the Cook delegations is one prohibiting exercise of the new powers granted by the proposed change in the constitution until the state has been apportioned in conformity with that constitution. Then the fight will be on.

Senate Group O. K.'s Hoover in Hiding Treaty Secrets

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 17.—[Special.]—The administration won an overwhelming victory in the action taken by the senate foreign relations committee on the navy limitation treaty today.

Senator Hiram W. Johnson [Rep., Cal.], leader of the opposition to ratification of the treaty, moved that the committee withhold disposition of the treaty until the President submits the correspondence between London and Washington and other documents pertaining to the treaty negotiations which the committee requested, but which Mr. Hoover declined to furnish.

The motion was defeated, 4 to 14.

Here Is How Senators Voted.

FOR THE MOTION.

Hiram W. Johnson [Rep., Cal.].
George H. Moses [Rep., N. H.].
Henrik Shipstead [Farmer-Labor, Minn.].
Arthur R. Robinson [Rep., Ind.].

AGAINST THE MOTION.

William E. Borah [Rep., Idaho].
Frederick H. Gillett [Rep., Mass.].
Simeon D. Fess [Rep., O.].
Arthur Capper [Rep., Kas.].
Robert M. La Follette [Rep., Wis.].
Arthur H. Vandenberg [Rep., Mich.].
Claude A. Swanson [Dem., Va.].
Joseph T. Robinson [Dem., Ark.].
Key Pittman [Dem., Nev.].
Thomas J. Walsh [Dem., Mont.].
Walter F. George [Dem., Ga.].
Pat Harrison [Dem., Miss.].
Robert F. Wagner [Dem., N. Y.].
David A. Reed [Rep., Pa.].

This Is First Test Vote.

The only absentee was Senator Hugo L. Black [Dem., Ala.], who stated afterward that he would have voted for the motion had he been present.

This was the first test vote on the treaty in the committee and indicates that the opposition to the agreement will muster not to exceed four senators against a favorable report to the senate. After the Johnson motion had been voted down the committee agreed to vote at 11:30 a. m. next Monday on the question of the action to be recommended to the senate.

Chairman Borah, who is lukewarm toward the treaty, said that he would report it to the senate with the simple recommendation that it be ratified, but without submitting reasons therefor. He left it to be inferred that it will devolve upon Senators Reed and Robinson of Arkansas, who were members of the American delegation at the London conference, to summit a report presenting the views of the committee, if any is presented.

Will Call Special Session.

In accord with the administration program, the President will summon the senate to meet in special session the day following the adjournment of this session of congress next week. Administration leaders predict that the treaty will be ratified before July 4 with not more than a dozen votes against it.

In support of his motion in the committee to withhold action on the treaty until the administration produces the documents, Senators Johnson put it squarely up to the majority to enforce its declaration that the senate is entitled to the information withheld by the President. The committee voted, 10 to 7, last week to insist upon its right to the information and in accord with this vote Chairman Borah transmitted to Mr. Hoover the reiterated demand for the documents. But Mr. Hoover stood pat on his refusal to disclose the secrets of the treaty negotiations.

Chicago's Rotary club at its weekly luncheon yesterday announced, incidentally, that $28,000 has been raised to provide college scholarships for 14 boys, selected by high school principals of the city.

ADAMS ASKS TO REMODEL THREE OLD BATTLESHIPS

Navy Chief Gets Hoover's Permission for Plea.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 17.—[Special.]—Secretary of the Navy Charles Francis Adams today transmitted a letter to the house naval affairs committee recommending the passage of legislation providing for modernization of three of the fleet's older battleships, the Idaho, Mississippi, and New Mexico. The alterations would include elevation of the turret guns, installation of new turbines and boilers, thickening of deck armor, and other repairs making these vessels as up to date as possible. The total estimated cost was set at $30,000,000.

Administration for It.

Navy department recommendations calling for modernization of these vessels have been before the budget bureau for close to a year. The approval of President Hoover was withheld, however, until today. Following today's cabinet meeting at which Secretary Adams discussed the subject with Mr. Hoover, the naval secretary dispatched a letter to Chairman Fred A. Britten [Rep., Ill.] of the house naval affairs committee recommending passage of a bill authorizing the alterations on the three ships.

The President's permission for the navy department to recommend its modernization program to congress came less than a week after President William Green of the American Federation of Labor had urged Mr. Hoover to take immediate steps to alleviate unemployment in the government shipyards.

Four Thousand Jobs Involved.

Mr. Green informed the President that unless appropriations were provided for modernization of another group of battleships—an additional 4,000 men would be discharged from the navy yards within the next few months. He pointed out that the Arizona and Pennsylvania, the last two capital ships modernized, would be completed by next March.

If the Idaho, New Mexico, and Mississippi are modernized it will give the United States twelve capital ships with gun ranges comparable to the best ships of the British fleet. This country would still have three capital ships that would be outranged by British vessels in a battle, as British vessels would retain supremacy in speed and have the advantage enjoyed by possession of the Rodney and Nelson, the best fighting ships afloat.

HURT IN FALL, DIES.

Frank A. Raley, 59 years old, 4926 Sheridan road, died yesterday in Lakeview hospital of complications developing from an injury suffered a week ago when he tripped over a chair in his bedroom and fractured his thigh.

THREE PALESTINE ARABS EXECUTED FOR KILLING JEWS

JERUSALEM, June 17.—(AP)—The execution of three Arabs convicted of having murdered Jews during the Palestine riots last August today precipitated another difficult situation for British authorities in dealing with the Moslem population in the holy land.

The three men were hanged in the prison yard at Acre. The Arab executive, supported by Christian church leaders, vainly attempted to obtain a reprieve for them.

Arab leaders immediately countered by calling a general strike throughout Palestine, which was rigorously observed by Moslems. British police guards in Jerusalem and other important cities were reinforced and kept on the alert.

At Haifa, rioting broke out and Police Superintendent F. M. Scott of Tel Aviv, temporarily on duty in Haifa, was injured. In Jaffa, police broke up a demonstration.

STAFF PROPOSED TO UNITE FORCES IN WAR ON CRIME

Swanson, Alcock Await Council Action Today.

$55,825 IN REWARDS.
Rewards totaling $55,825 are offered for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the murderer of Alfred Lingle, Tribune reporter.

State's Attorney Swanson yesterday announced a plan to coördinate all investigating bodies that are seeking to put gangsters and criminals from Chicago and at the same time solve the murder of Alfred Lingle.

The prosecutor and Acting Police Commissioner John H. Alcock announced a conference today, which will probably take place after the city council meeting at which it will be determined whether Alcock is to remain in temporary command of the police department.

Swanson's plan calls for a downtown office which all public bodies and civic and semi-official agencies may use as a headquarters or clearing house. This downtown headquarters staff would offer every aid to the city council and city civil service commission in the prospective investigation of the police department. Chief investigator Pat Roche and a staff of assistant state's attorneys would be assigned to duty there and would devote their entire time to investigations in preparation of evidence for grand and petit juries.

Prosecutor Sees Normoyle.

Mr. Swanson conferred during the day with Chief Justice D. J. Normoyle of the Criminal court, who ordered a special jury investigation of the Lingle murder and corollary matters. It was the prosecutor's idea that the evidence to be acquired regarding the Lingle murder should be kept secret until "significant stages" are reached, and that the power of the grand jury in subpoenaing witnesses and putting them under oath would be used advantageously.

The state's attorney said he would favor the permanent appointment of a police commissioner at the earliest possible moment, as work cannot go on at full blast until he knows whether Alcock is to remain in charge or whether he must deal with another man as police commissioner in a short time.

Alcock Still in the Dark.

Acting Commissioner Alcock said he had no word from the mayor or any one else as to his tenure of office. It was generally presumed that if Mayor Thompson does not submit the name of another as his nominee for police commissioner to the council meeting today Alcock will probably be the executive during the remaining seven months of Thompson's administration.

Alcock made no important moves yesterday and a reason advanced for this was that he was awaiting the outcome of the city council meeting. Ald. Thomas J. Byrne [15th], chairman of the council committee on police and public institutions, conferred with him in the afternoon, but both said there was no discussion of the proposed police department investigation which is to get under way tomorrow morning.

Albert Has New Resolution.

Ald. Arthur F. Albert [43d], who was in the foreground of those demanding the resignations of Police Commissioner Russell and Chief of Detectives Stege, and who introduced a resolution asking for the police investigation, said he would have a new resolution to offer today.

"What we should determine is how it has been possible for organized criminal gangs to have built up an anarchy in this community under the noses of the state's attorney and police," Albert declared. "I propose that we call in the captains and deputy commissioners and others who should know something about gambling and vice.

"We should ask them how they deal with crime. To show that they have not solved a crime should show that they must be inefficient. We want to see who has been paltering with crime.

"I will ask the council to delegate full power to its police committee, and I will endeavor to get the federal government's help in going into the sources of income not only of criminals but of police officials as well. There are police officials who have their big automobiles and summer and winter homes. They should be investigated.

"I will ask that Frank J. Loesch and other citizens be called in to give ideas. The council can reorganize the police department in a revolutionary manner, and it should be done."

Ames Ready to Help.

Maj. Carlos Ames, chairman of the civil service commission, said he and his fellow commissioners would be glad to sit with the aldermen in the police investigation if they are invited. Ald. Albert's plan is to have them present so they can get first hand information about conditions of the police department, as they may later be called upon to hear charges against some police officials, he said.

Acting Commissioner Alcock said he would lend all the power of his office to the aldermanic body in the investigation. Upon reaching his office yesterday to begin his first day in the new position he announced that he had walked around the city during all of the previous evening watching for policemen—of whom he saw very few—and noting conditions generally.

"There'll be no dillydallying in the police department," he asserted; "neither with gangsters nor in other police work. Little is going to be said, but much is going to be done by the police department."

Alcock appeared in good physical condition as he sat in the commissioner's chair yesterday. When he said he felt able to work 16 or 18 hours every day he was asked how old he is and he replied:

"You can say I am 50, that will do."

Stege Back to Bureau.

John Stege, who, upon voluntarily resigning as chief of detectives Monday, resumed his civil service rank of captain and was assigned by Russell to the Jefferson Park station, reported to Alcock's office at 9 o'clock. Alcock had rescinded Russell's last order assigning Stege and transferring other captains, and Stege was therefore unassigned. Alcock told him to report back at the detective bureau.

Deputy Chief of Detectives John Egan was in temporary command there, but, like Alcock, he did not know whether he was to remain in command. Stege spent the day in going over details and the status of various criminal cases with his successor. If left at the detective bureau, Stege was expected to be assigned to some special detective bureau activities.

Offers of aid to the new police head poured in. The Chicago Broadcasters' association adopted a resolution and station WBBM wrote a letter offering Alcock radio facilities.

METHODIST PASTORS ASK UNITED ACTION AGAINST GANGSTERS

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

Ministers of the Methodist Episcopal church, represented by a recently appointed committee, appealed yesterday to the Chicago Church federation to appoint a "strong representative group" to investigate the background of the murder of Alfred Lingle as well as the general crime situation. The committee met yesterday at the Chicago temple under the chairmanship of the Rev. Dr. A. M. Pennywell, pastor of the Ravenswood Methodist Episcopal church.

The Methodist committee deplored the overlapping and lack of unity among reform organizations of the city and state.

The Methodists resolved to "cooperate with the federation and other groups" which plan to "go to the roots of the crime situation and make recommendations for purging our city of the criminal element."

Dr. Pennywell declared that the crime situation "reduced to the least common denominator" results from criminal demand for "big easy money." "Gangsters are working under protection of public officials," he said. "The newspapers have the power of correction if they tell all they know. If the papers would expose the 'big shots' behind the protection the city will soon be cleared of gangsters."

PICK FOUR JURORS TO TRY RONGETTI; DENY DELAY PLEA

CRIMINAL COURT.

Dr. Amante Rongetti, once under sentence of death for the murder by abortion of Miss Loretta Enders, unwed mother, and her baby, failed in an effort yesterday to get another continuance of his trial for the murder of Mrs. Elizabeth Palumbo of Bellwood. Four jurors pledged to inflict the death penalty in a proper case were selected on the first day of the trial in Judge Martin Isaac's Criminal court.

The physician was scheduled to go to trial before Judge Daniel P. Trude, who on Monday said he would not grant another continuance as asked by Attorney William Scott Stewart.

Two Suburban Policemen Get Reward for Heroism

William Powell and Otto Piltz, La Grange Park policemen, who, on the night of May 3, saved from death Earl Holmes, a Chicagoan, and captured the three ex-convicts who had "taken him for a ride," were toasted as heroes last night. They were guests of the La Grange Chamber of Commerce at a banquet in the Edgewood Valley Country club and Attorney General Carlstrom praised their courage. On behalf of the Chicago Association of Commerce, its president, Col. Robert I. Randolph, gave each policeman a $100 check.

TROOPS MOVE INTO CHICAGO FOR WAR SHOW

Units from Ft. Sheridan at Soldiers' Field.

Chicago began to assume a warlike aspect yesterday as companies of infantry, batteries of artillery, anti-aircraft squadrons and other military units assembled in the near Soldiers' field for the war show which opens on Saturday.

The 2d infantry and the band of the 3d field artillery journeyed from Fort Sheridan and pitched camp on the field. Battery E of the 3d artillery, under the command of Capt. Paul Welland, made the thirty mile march in a little more than six hours while the other detachments rode in on a special North Shore line train.

Special Rehearsal Tomorrow.

Tomorrow night there will be a special rehearsal of the entire tournament under the direction of Brig. Gen. C. H. Conrad Jr. Sixty airplanes will roar overhead, dropping bombs upon the combatants below while the anti-aircraft guns will boom. The battle of Chateau Thierry is to be refought with 3,000 infantrymen, hundreds of artillerymen, tanks and armored cars taking part.

The program, to be given twice daily for a week, was completed yesterday. While the spectators are entering Soldiers' field scores of attack, pursuit, observation and bombing planes will stunt overhead. A smoke screen will be dropped. The pursuit planes will engage in startling dips and dives. Blimps will float overhead and searchlights will play on the flying craft at night.

Review Will Open Show.

The show will start with a review of all the units which form the cast of the spectacle. A 21 gun salute will be fired as the flag is raised. In quick succession will follow cavalry stunts, infantry drills, a demonstration of tanks in action and artillery drill.

The climax of each performance will be the reënacting of the battle of Chateau Thierry with the French village shown as it actually existed when American troops won their victory there during the war. A fireworks display and another 21 gun salute as the flag is lowered will conclude the performance.

The general admission charge will be $1. Proceeds will be given to the Army Relief society, an organization that cares for widows and orphans of the regular army personnel.

Chicago Endurance Plane in the Air Nearly a Week

The endurance plane, City of Chicago, was soaring over Sky Harbor airport early this morning, nearing the start of its second week of continuous flight. At 12:40 a. m. the pilots, John and Kenneth Hunter, had been aloft 152 hours. The present endurance record of 420 hours is held by the St. Louis Robin.

Shot to Death in Lovers' Lane with Girl by His Side

New York, June 17.—[Special.]—The body of Noel Sowley, 26 years old, of Bergen Beach, was found today with two bullet wounds in the left temple, in his coupe in a lonely lane in Creedmore, Queens. The police began a search for a madman. The circumstances of Noel's death were definitely linked with the murder last Wednesday of Joseph Moyzynsky, a grocer, whose body was found in his automobile at a similar lovers' rendezvous in College Point.

Series of Warnings.

In Sowley's pocket the police found a newspaper clipping telling of the Moyzynsky murder and on the margin of the clipping was the notation, in pencil, "Here's how."

A series of warning notes to a New York newspaper, advising that "another body" would be found in Queens and that "thirteen more men and a woman" will be murdered, have convinced the police that the crimes are the work of a maniac.

The murders were committed near the state hospital for the insane at Creedmore. So far as could be learned tonight, however, no inmates have been reported missing from the asylum.

Tells of Killing.

Miss Elizabeth Ring, 18, of Mineola, L. I., who was brought from her home to the Jamaica station tonight for questioning in connection with the Sowley death, readily admitted, according to the detectives, that she was in the coupe with Sowley when a man crept up and fired the two shots that killed him.

A somewhat similar story was told by Miss Catherine May, 19, of College Point, who was with Moyzinsky when he was killed. She said that a man crept up upon her and the grocer in the dark, fired through the open window and then dragged her into the road and escorted her to a bus. Miss May is held under $50,000 as a material witness in the Moyzinsky case.

BOY VIOLINIST CANNOT SOCK THE OTHER KIDS

New York, June 17.—(AP)—Even a child prodigy, it seems, it not entirely free from the old rule that boys will be boys.

Miss Beth Lackey, testifying in court today in the action of Pietro Ricci, west coast bandmaster, seeking to obtain from her the guardianship of his two musical sons, Ruggiero and Georgio, answers charges that the 8 and 9 year old boys were not permitted to play with friends.

"They were allowed friends," she said, "but Ruggiero [the elder brother] had to be restrained somewhat because he sometimes got into fist fights. I could not risk his hands."

REVENUE POURS IN AS PRESIDENT SIGNS TARIFF ACT

Importers Rush Goods to Escape Higher Duty.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 17.—[Special.]—President Hoover today signed the Hawley-Smoot tariff bill in the presence of members of congress who had a hand in framing it, Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, and others. The new duties become effective at midnight tonight.

Treasury officials reported an eleventh hour rush at ports of entry by importers eager to obtain the benefit of the lower rates of the old law. A large amount of revenue poured into the treasury from sugar and other commodities removed from bonded warehouses and entered at the old rate.

Mellon and Smoot Present.

Those present when President Hoover signed the bill included besides Secretary Mellon, Senator Reed Smoot [Rep., Utah], chairman of the senate finance committee; Senator Samuel Shortridge [Rep., Cal.], Representative W. C. Hawley [Rep., Ore.], chairman of the house ways and means committee, and Representative A. T. Treadway [Rep., Mass.], all conferees on the tariff bill, and F. X. A. Eble, commissioner of customs. The Democratic tariff conferees of the senate and house were not invited. Several pens used by the President in signing the bill were given to Senator Smoot, Representative Hawley, and the others who figured in the proceedings.

The tariff continued to figure in discussions in congress. A colloquy took place in the senate between Senator W. F. George [Dem., Ga.] and Senator Smoot as to the bearing of the tariff law upon the stock market, the former attributing the downward trend of prices to its influence and the latter asserting that the stock market is being manipulated by speculators, and that it would have made no difference whether the bill had become law or not.

Suggests Giving Pen to Grundy.

Senator George quoted newspaper accounts of declines in stock market and commodity prices. He referred to the signing of the bill by the President today and advance reports that several pens would be used.

"It might be economy," said Senator George, "to use only one pen and donate that pen to the distinguished junior senator from Pennsylvania, Mr. Grundy, for safekeeping."

Senator William E. Borah [Rep., Idaho], who voted against the tariff bill, introduced a resolution requesting the tariff commission to investigate costs of production here and abroad of various commodities which farmers must buy, with a view to reduction in duties under the flexible tariff, if warranted.

SWAMP WAREHOUSES HERE.

The United States customs warehouses in Chicago have been swamped with business because of the new tariff bill which became effective today. Collector of Customs Anthony Czarnecki explained that there had been a rush to clear goods before the new higher duties went into effect, while those on which duties were decreased were left to pile up in the warehouses for removal today under the lower rate. Receipts increased from a daily average of $30,000 during the discussions on the tariff measure to a peak of $267,349, on Monday Mr. Czarnecki said. Saturday's receipts were $88,580, and $70,790 was taken in yesterday.

JUDGE APPEARS IN HIGH COURT; DEFENDS RULING

Judge Harry Fisher of the Circuit court appeared before the Supreme court yesterday to argue against the application of State's Attorney John A. Swanson for a mandamus asking that the judge be compelled to expunge from the court records a finding of not guilty in the case of Albert Weinberg, who was charged with rape. The prosecutor charges that the judge exceeded his authority in allowing Weinberg to waive a jury in a felony case. The judge heard the case without a jury and entered a verdict of not guilty.

In his argument to the reviewing court Judge Fisher pointed out that similar procedure is followed in other states to speed up the work of the courts.

The case was taken under advisement and a decision probably will not be rendered until the October term.

SHIPS RACE TO ESCAPE HIGHER RATES IN THE NEW TARIFF MEASURE

New York, June 17.—[Special.]—A large fleet of passengers and freight ships from ports all over the world steamed for New York today in a race against time, with hundreds of thousands of dollars controlled by the rising tariff as the stakes for the winners. Over a dozen of the ships reached port safely and entered their cargo at the custom house under the old tariff rates, which were no longer in effect after midnight last night.

Others delayed by fog and the elements, or by positive inability to get to New York before tomorrow, gave up the attempt this afternoon.

Brokers and shippers did not have until midnight to slide their merchandise through under the lower tariff rate. The custom house closes officially at 4:30 p. m. and goods entered after that are booked on the next day's ledger.

As a last gesture to the hurrying ships today, custom officials advanced the closing time for an hour, and all brokers who appeared at the building with bills of lading and cash in hand by 5:30 p. m. were able to gain handsome profits for their clients.

Three of the ships which failed to get in under the line were the Spanish liner Manuel Arnus from Spanish ports, the Ward liner San Jacinto from Mexico and the Baltic American steamer Pulaski, from Danzig.

The White Star liner Olympic from Southampton headed the fleet of ships in size and reached the technical limits of New York harbor only ten minutes before the "deadline."

THRONGS BLOCK MICHIGAN AVE. AS FIRE RAGES

Bursting from a heap of basement rubbish, flames swept through four floors of shops to the roof of a building at 174-176 North Michigan avenue yesterday at 4 p. m., attracting thousands of spectators, who choked the avenue and adjacent streets until police lines were established. Damage was estimated at $75,000.

With fire apparatus converging at Randolph street and Michigan avenue in response to a 3-11 alarm, downtown traffic was flagged to a standstill for 15 minutes and the snarl was not fully untangled for an hour. Flames and smoke routed from the burning building approximately 100 persons, mostly women shoppers and workers.

The single casualty was John Cotter, 28 years old, pipeman of Engine 42. Plunging into the smoky basement, he stepped on a rat, which bit him.

Flames, roaring up elevator shafts, decommissioned the elevators. Seventy girl employés of the Manhattan Hat works scampered down the fire escapes from their workroom on the top floor.

A bit of unpremeditated drama was provided by Daniel Breck, 35 years old, 3309 Warren avenue, a crippled entertainer in a second floor restaurant, who hobbled downstairs on a peg leg and garbed in pirate's costume. Remembering the cork leg he had left in the restaurant dressing room, Breck reentered the building and a moment later returned triumphant with the artificial limb under his arm.

The fatalities surpass all previous records in Los Angeles vicinity in the same space of time.

BELGIUM ORDERS PROTEST AGAINST NEW U. S. TARIFF

Envoy Told to Point Out Unfairness of Boosts.

BRUSSELS, June 17.—(AP)—The Belgian government has instructed its ambassador at Washington to make a final approach to the United States government and to point out that the new increased duties in the tariff bill cannot fail to make the trade balance between the United States and Belgium even more unfavorable to Belgium than it is at present.

The ambassador has been instructed to call the attention of the United States to the "unfortunate effects" which the new tariff scale may have on the economic relations between the two countries.

Demand Europe Unite.

Vingtieme Siecle, Catholic Democratic paper, which voices the opinion of Belgian farmers, insists that the Belgian government, as the promoter of economic policy at Geneva, take a lead in bringing about concerted international action of mutual defense and set up a united front of Europe against America.

Independence Belge, voicing the views of liberal conservative high industrial and shipping interests, expresses belief that aggressive American "egoism" will prove a decisive factor in promoting a federation in Europe.

Italian Indignation Grows.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ROME, June 17.—The growing indignation in this country against the adoption of the U. S. tariff bill manifested itself tonight in wrathful tones in the official press editorials.

Denying that the United States is "a pacifist country," the Fascist daily, Impero d'Italia, ironically compares America, "the classic land of all freedoms," with pre-war Germany with her nationalistic protective economy, which reached a climax with the German Zollverein, or customs union. Admitting the necessity of some protective measures, the Impero says that no nation can shut herself up like America is doing.

Urges Italians to Drop U. S. Trade.

"The United States is doing her business and we will go about ours," the paper says. Henceforth any Italian purchaser of American goods is worthy of the utmost contempt. After so many deceptions, we will have our eyes open to the true American mentality."

La Tribuna urges the Italian grain campaign, as dictated by Premier Mussolini, to be continued strenuously in order to render Italy as near as possible self supporting for bread. For the other materials Italy now imports from America, La Tribuna takes up the suggestion made last night by Giornale D'Italia for a new market.

The deficit in Italian trade with United States amounts to $125,000,000, which is almost the total of the Italian budget's deficit, La Tribuna admits.

Chicago Water Diversion Foes Assail Bill 3 Hours

BY ARTHUR CRAWFORD.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 17.—[Special.]—The lake states hostile to Chicago water diversion had their innings today in debate in the senate on the Illinois waterway provision of the rivers and harbors bill.

Senators A. H. Vandenberg, [Rep., Mich.], and John J. Blaine [Rep., Wis.], together occupied three hours in attacks on the committee amendment authorizing the secretary of war and chief of engineers to control the water diversion necessary for the waterway.

They urged approval of the Blaine substitute which has the effect of limiting the ultimate diversion to the 1,500 cubic feet per second which the Supreme court held to be the maximum necessary for navigation needs in the port of Chicago, but which did not take into account possible requirements after the Illinois waterway is federalized.

Deneen to Speak for Illinois.

Senator Charles S. Deneen, [Rep., Ill.], will present the Illinois side of the case after Senator Roscoe C. McCulloch, [Rep., Ohio], has spoken from the lake states viewpoint.

Action on the Blaine substitute seems likely tomorrow, although the debate may run another day.

Senators Vandenberg and Blaine insisted that they were not opposing completion by the federal government of the Illinois state waterway project as provided in the bill but that their opposition was confined to the water diversion proviso.

Blaine Sees Canada Object.

Senator Blaine went so far as to suggest international complications with Canada. The only recourse Canada would have, he said, would be war with the United States, but he hastened to add that there was no possibility of anything of the sort occurring.

"The point at issue is not whether the Illinois shall be federalized at an expense of $7,500,000," said Senator Vandenberg. "That proposition is cheerfully conceded by the socalled lake states provided only that it shall not trespass upon the rights of the lake states or establish new diversion rights at Chicago.

Up to Another Congress.

"We are ready to let a subsequent congress determine the water diversion issue within its constitutional rights. But we are not willing to approve a provision that will justify a continued diversion which will be an injustice to the lake states. We of the lake states have asked just one thing, namely, that the legal status quo of the diversion shall be maintained and that congress shall not condone what the Supreme court has condemned."

Senator Blaine's suggestion that Canada would object to the diversion of a considerable volume of water at Chicago drew a comment from Senator Otis F. Glenn [Rep., Ill.], that Canada has taken more water at Niagara for power purposes than Chicago is taking. Senator Blaine replied that this made no difference, if true.

Dwelling on a possible protest from Canada Senator Blaine said that country "has no recourse except one."

"It is unthinkable," he added, "that the sword should ever be drawn against us from the north."

Warns Canada Can Retaliate.

"If we pass the senate amendment," went on Senator Blaine, "the United States government challenges Canada. We say to Canada we are going to take whatever amount of water we choose from the navigable waters of the great lakes and what are you going to do about it.

"War is the farthest from my thoughts, but Canada has no remedy at law. It cannot seek any judgment in our courts. If we violate the rights of Canada and of the lake states Canada would do the perfectly peaceful and proper thing—refuse to negotiate with us a treaty for the St. Lawrence waterway, and without such a treaty there can be no St. Lawrence waterway. In my opinion unless my amendment is adopted we will close the door forever against the St. Lawrence seaway."

$95,000,000 FOR DRAINAGE LOAN O. K.'D BY SENATE

Washington, D. C., June 17.—[Special.]—A revolving fund of $95,000,000 for making government loans to drainage and levee districts burdened by the debts would be provided under a bill by Senator Otis F. Glenn [Rep., Ill.], which passed the senate today. An identical measure is on the house calendar.

The Glenn bill offers a plan for refinancing distressed districts where there are now outstanding securities for the payment of farm and flood relief works, on a long term basis. It authorizes the secretary of the interior to loan out of the revolving fund amounts sufficient to redeem the securities under certain restrictions, not more than $19,000,000 to be appropriated in any one year.

"Small farmers along the river valleys will receive the greatest benefit, especially in Illinois and Missouri, where postwar drainage and levee works put the districts heavily in debt," said Senator Glenn.

"It is estimated by the National Drainage association, sponsors of the bill, that more than 5,000,000 farmers in 35 states are directly benefitted by the passage of this relief."

The Chicago Bar association startled Chicago legal circles yesterday with a petition, filed before the state Supreme court at Springfield, charging 56 attorneys with "unprofessional and disgraceful" conduct in connection with the sanitary district pay roll scandal. The association asked permission to file information against the lawyers. Disbarment was not asked specifically, but the high court was requested to hand out such punishment as it should see fit to "uphold the standards of the legal profession and maintain its honor and dignity."

Lawyers Attack Petition.

The attorneys named will fight the petition, it was predicted. Maclay Hoyne, former state's attorney and head of the sanitary district in 1927 and 1928, whose name headed the list, issued a statement in which he accused the association of seeking to place itself above the law. Other attorneys in the list, which included the names of some of the most prominent lawyers in the city, attacked what they termed the "tyrannical" action of the association.

Hoyne and Hector Brouillet, head of the district law department in 1925 and 1926, were accused of acquiescing in the placing of an excessive number of the lawyers on the district pay roll and in paying them salaries in excess of their services to the sanitary district. Other lawyers were charged with being on the pay roll without giving adequate legal services for their compensation.

Named in Bar List.

Among the better known lawyers named in the list were James C. O'Brien, known widely as "Ropes" O'Brien for his success in winning hanging verdicts in murder cases while he was an assistant state's attorney; William Scott Stewart, also a former assistant state's attorney and well known criminal lawyer; Stephen A. Malato, John F. Higgins, Sidney Ryon, Al F. Gorman, John R. McCabe and Eugene L. McGarry.

John C. Garriott Jr. is charged with getting his brother-in-law, Hugh Miller, a place on the law department pay roll and with receiving $150 without giving any services.

Pay Roll Charges Against 53.

In addition to Hoyne, Brouillet, and Garriott, accused of acquiescing in the payments, 53 other lawyers are alleged to have been on the pay roll without returning adequate services. These 53 and the amounts they are alleged to have received follow:

Formal Charge of Bar.

The formal charge against the lawyers states that they are guilty of unprofessional and dishonorable conduct, denoting a lack of good moral character, calculated to bring the courts of justice into disrepute and considered by the Chicago Bar association as guilty of malfeasance in their office as attorney."

If the Supreme court grants the petition, it will issue an order requiring the attorneys named to show cause why action aiming at disbarment should not be taken against them. It will then be up to the defendants to prove that they gave full legal service for the salaries they received from the sanitary district.

The petition pointed out that there was a rapid increase in the number of employes in the sanitary district law department from 1925 to 1928. In the latter half of 1925 there were 24 attorneys whose names appeared on the regular pay roll and 20 attorneys on the miscellaneous pay roll. In 1928 43 attorneys appeared on the regular pay roll and 93 on the miscellaneous pay roll.

Inquiry Committee Named.

When the sanitary district scandal broke two years ago, the Bar association became interested in the investigation as it affected lawyers on the pay rolls. A subcommittee, with Edgar B. Tolman as chairman, was appointed to investigate the case, and yesterday's petition was a result of 18 months' questioning and examination of the attorneys involved.

The subcommittee met three times a week and summoned every lawyer whose name appeared on the district pay rolls to explain what services he had given for the salary he received. Then his statements were investigated and he was summoned a second time to be cross-examined.

The attorneys in some cases were offered the alternative of paying back the money they had received or facing disbarment proceedings. Seven lawyers accepted this compromise and returned the salaries they collected. A total of $17,836 was repaid in this manner.

Among those who returned their fees were State Senator Arthur A. Huebsch, William G. Thon, member of the lower house at Springfield; Isadore Goldstein, Abraham Lepine, Maurice E. Burr, F. H. Miller, Isadore Becker, and Edward J. Crawford.

Hoyne Cites District Rules.

Mr. Hoyne, in his attack on the action of the Bar association, said:

"The law of 1889 creating the sanitary district, the decisions of the Supreme court of Illinois and the rules of the board of trustees of the sanitary district are all to the effect that the attorney for the sanitary district is wholly without power to employ any of his assistants, clerks or investigators and is equally without power to discharge them.

"I am surprised at the action of the committee, which seeks to place itself above the law. I will defend myself in any court and when I do I will have something to say about some of these committees of the Chicago Bar association, which have lived too long and which are made up of lobbyists for certain private interests who have pestered the legislature at Springfield, the city council, the county board, and other organizations where pennies are to be picked up."

Other attorneys named in the list expressed surprise that the bar association did not accuse certain lawyers who returned the money they had collected from the district.

SENTENCE $605,300 ST. LOUIS EMBEZZLER TO TEN YEARS' TERM

St. Louis, Mo., June 17.—[Special.]—The total defalcations of Frank L. Berryhill, former salesmanager and director of the First National company, were announced today by court officials at $605,300.

Berryhill today pleaded guilty to four embezzlement charges and was sentenced to 10 years in the penitentiary by Circuit Judge Taylor.

The $605,300 represents the value of bonds and securities that Berryhill used as collateral for his unsuccessful stock market speculations. The bonds belonged to customers of the First National company, investment division of the First National bank.

The bank has announced that the customers will be fully reimbursed for their losses. In turn, the bank expects to collect from the American Surety company with which Berryhill is indemnified.

Berryhill was overseas with the American troops during the world war. Although under a ten year sentence, under the good behavior rule he may have to serve only five years and ten months.

Berryhill, who had been missing for more than a week, surrendered yesterday.

$30,000 IS WHAT HER BOY FRIEND COST CLARA BOW

Texas Man's Wife Denies She Received Money.

Dallas, Tex., June 17.—[Special.]—Clara Bow, the girl from Hollywood, who has so much "it" that it really should be "those," is in Dallas to see about things.

Beneath her red locks, Clara has an idea some one has done her wrong. According to her version, she has lost a swell sweetie, has paid, presumably to the sweetie's wife, $30,000 in her hard earned money, and now faces suit for a sum so large Miss Bow gasped when she tried to say it.

What particularly peeved her was that she heard the wife quoted as saying she had not received a cent of the $30,000 which Miss Bow paid some one to square something. She started for Texas immediately when she got that report.

Keeps His Name Secret.

Miss Bow would not tell who her boy friend was, or what he did, or anything much about him, but she did vouchsafe that she was going to see him.

"I met him out on the coast," she said. "He was good looking and smart and had nice ways about him, and I fell for him pretty hard. He told me he and his wife were always squabbling and didn't understand each other. I never had 'had a date' with a married man before in my life, and I wouldn't think of the possibility of having dates with this one if he had had any kids, but, of course, he didn't. And do you know the next thing that happened?

"The wife sued me for 150,000 smackers for alienation. Blam!—like that! One hundred and fifty thousand smackers!

"Why, I never had seen that much money before. You may think I get a lot of money for my movie work. That's boloney.

Lays $30,000 on the Line.

"Well, I didn't have the money, and I told the studio I was going to fight the case, but they insisted that I settle up the best I could and so keep out of the papers. I laid $30,000 on the line and the lady took it. After that she had us watched by detectives and the boy friend's father made him take a trip to Europe to try to forget me.

"His folks didn't know me, see? They thought I was a terrible person because they saw and heard me in the movies and I said 'ain't' and all that sort of thing. They didn't really know me.

"The boy friend and his wife didn't get a divorce then—the final decree is coming up in Los Angeles in August and he'll have to be out there then, I guess. She followed him to Europe, but I used to get the longest cablegrams ever sent over the ocean from him and I would send word that I didn't want to see him any more.

"I was done, see?

"Of course, I did see him just before he sailed from New York, but that was the last time before now. When he got back he kept writing me and I kept wiring him that I didn't want to see him.

"The wife told him that she hadn't taken any of that $30,000 and when I found that out I decided to take the train for Dallas."

ROBS DOWNTOWN SHOE STORE.

Posing as a customer, an armed man yesterday morning entered a shoe store at 222 South Michigan avenue, compelled R. C. Gibbs, the manager, and Edward Kolker, a clerk, to remove their shoes and trousers, and then departed with $150 from the cash register.

MODELS? YES! BUT UNDER CHAPERON, U. S. ARTISTS TOLD

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, June 17.—Owing to the storm of protest in the Latin quarter over what the indignant Bohemians terms "Y. M. C. A. regulations," at the American student home at the Cite universitaire, the management is considering making drastic concessions it was reported tonight.

One of the grievances of the students has been that artists have not been allowed to invite models to their studios to pose. According to John R. Bacher, director, a suggestion to modify the ban on models has been made by Senator Honorat, French member of the Cite universitaire committee. It is understood M. Honorat's plan would establish studios where the models could pose and the artists could paint under the watchful eye of a chaperon. The models would be selected for moral character.

CONFIRM LEGGE FOR 2D TERM ON FARM BOARD

Washington, D. C., June 17.—[Special.]—Chairman Alexander Legge and Charles C. Teague, fruits member of the federal farm board, were assured a second term when the senate late today confirmed their nominations by President Hoover. The present one year terms of Mr. Legge and Mr. Teague will expire July 1.

The senate considered the nominations in an executive session lasting only a few minutes. There was little discussion, although Senator Kenneth McKellar [Dem., Tenn.] asked to be recorded as voting against the confirmation of Legge. There were no other negative votes. Favorable action by the senate had been forecast yesterday when the agriculture committee unanimously recommended the confirmations.

A second term in office for Chairman Legge insures the farm board against a change in leadership.

OLD DOCTOR'S IDEA IS BIG HELP TO ELDERLY PEOPLE

In 1885, old Mr. Caldwell made a discovery for which elderly people the world over praise him today!

Years of practice convinced him that many people were endangering their health by a careless choice of laxatives. So he began a search for a harmless prescription which would be thoroughly effective, yet would neither gripe nor form any habit. At last he found it.

Over and over he wrote it, when he found people bilious, headachy, out of sorts, weak or feverish; with coated tongue, bad breath, no appetite or energy. It relieved the most obstinate cases, and yet was gentle with women, children and elderly people.

Today the same famous, effective prescription, known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, is the world's most popular laxative. It may be obtained from any druggist.

WARNS CANNON THAT HIS SILENCE WILL CONVICT HIM

Tinkham in House Speech Asks 12 Questions.

Retort from Cannon

Washington, D. C., June 17.—(AP)—Bishop James Cannon Jr. tonight telegraphed the following statement from Louisville:

"When Congressman Tinkham shall give to the press over his personal signature the statements reported by the press as made by him today on the floor of the house of representatives, where he is immune from prosecution for false libelous statements, he may command the respect of honorable men, but making such attacks on the floor of the house, where he knows his immunity from prosecution, brands him as a blustering, cowardly congressman appealing especially to his wet Roman Catholic voters to retain him in office."

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 17.—[Special.]—Unless and until Bishop James Cannon Jr. explains under oath what he did with the $48,300 paid to him by E. C. Jameson for use of the Virginia anti-Smith Democrats in 1928 he will stand "convicted in the eyes of all honest men of having appropriated that money to his own uses," Representative George Holden Tinkham [Rep., Mass.] charged in a speech in the house today.

Cannon's bucketshop transactions and his refusal to tell the senate lobby committee what became of the $48,300, Tinkham asserted, can "give rise only to sinister implications" which the bishop should have welcomed an opportunity to disprove.

"If that great church of which he is bishop, the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, had been in full possession of all the facts presented to the senate lobby investigating committee," he added, "it is inconceivable that he would have been continued by it as one of its spiritual leaders."

Caraway to Make Report Today.

Tinkham's attack upon Bishop Cannon in the house came at the same time as an announcement by Senator T. H. Caraway [Dem., Ark.], chairman of the lobby committee, that he will submit a report tomorrow on the Cannon inquiry. The report is expected to consist merely of a transcript of the record without comments.

Representative Tinkham, who caused the inquiry into Bishop Cannon's activities by the lobby committee, addressed the house for a half hour, reviewing the circumstances leading up to the churchman's appearance and refusal to answer certain questions put to him by the committee.

Discussing the bishop's alleged violation of the federal corrupt practices act Tinkham said that "undisputed" evidence before the lobby committee showed that Jameson, a New York capitalist, paid $65,300 to Cannon and that the latter accounted for only $17,000 of it under the corrupt practices act.

Propounds Twelve Questions.

Brushing aside as "worthless" Cannon's statement to the press that the $48,300 was spent in certain Virginia congressional districts, Tinkham propounded a list of twelve questions which he declared Cannon "feared" to answer under oath and subject to cross examination. Among them were:

"Whether or not at the time he was receiving money from E. C. Jameson he owed any money to Kable & Co., or Harry L. Goldhurst who operated a 'bucketshop,' and who subsequently was prosecuted and convicted by the United States government for using the mails to defraud, and with whom Bishop Cannon is now known to have had extensive transactions shortly before his receipt of contributions from Jameson.

"Whether or not he had any dealings with one Joseph Radlow, a partner of Goldhurst, who subsequently it is stated organized with Goldhurst a 'bucketshop' under the name of the Cosmopolitan Fiscal corporation and who also was later convicted of using the mails to defraud.

"Whether or not he had dealings with the Cosmopolitan Fiscal corporation organized by Radlow and Goldhurst.

"Whether he incurred any financial obligations in connection with extensive stock options signed by Radlow and executed Oct. 4, 1928, when he was receiving contributions from E. C. Jameson.

"Whether any of the money received from Jameson was used by him on account of any personal indebtedness."

"Tried to Divert Attention."

In order to divert attention from the suspicions aroused by his refusal to answer the committee's question, Bishop Cannon appealed to sectarian prejudice, charging that Roman Catholic interests were conspiring against him, Representative Tinkham declared, explaining that he, himself, is not Roman Catholic but an Episcopalian.

"When questioned by a responsible and duly organized committee of the senate as to what he did with $65,300 which he received in his rôle of political dictator for the use of the anti-Smith Democrats, at a time when men were speculating in the stock market and dealing with bucket shops, influencing legislation, and buying votes with money, the bishop becomes confused, he has no answer to make, and he falls into that practice of the defendant so familiar to the criminal lawyer of clutching as a last resort to his immunity in declining to answer the simple question, 'What did you do with this money?'

Only Sinister Inferences.

"Bishop Cannon came before the committee voluntarily. His refusal to answer questions when he was under oath and subject to cross examination concerning the use that he had made of the $48,300 for which he has made no accounting in any way can give rise only to sinister implications in the mind of any honest man.

"If his transactions would stand the light of day, if there was no taint of scandal or illegality in connection with the use which he made of the money to preserve such reputation as he may enjoy and to clear his name he should have welcomed the opportunity to make an explanation, to disprove the charges made against him and to confound his alleged enemies, and he owed it to the church which he officially represents and which recently reelected him to his exalted office to do so.

"Under all the circumstances, until Bishop Cannon has made, under oath and subject to cross examination, under duress or otherwise, a statement of when, where and for what purposes he expended the $48,300 entrusted to him by Mr. Jameson for which he has made no accounting, he will stand convicted in the eyes of all honest men of having appropriated the money to his own uses."

"ROSIE" DOLLY WANTS TO DIVORCE "MONTY" DAVIS, BUT HESITATES

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MONTREAL, Que., June 17.—Paris reports received here today said that Roszika Dolly, one of the Dolly sisters, has decided to start divorce action against Mortimer Davis Jr. as soon as the estate of her father-in-law, the late Sir Mortimer Davis, is settled in Canada. Her husband has been here for some time in connection with a civil suit over the Davis estate, but could not be reached today.

When Sir Mortimer Davis, founder of the Imperial Tobacco company, died in March, 1928, he left an estate valued at about $30,000,000.

He was opposed to the marriage of his son to Roszika Dolly, and the will stipulated that not a cent should go to any issue of that marriage.

Under the will Lady Davis and Mortimer, the son, received $67,000 annually. Each was also to get half the revenues of the estate. These revenues, said to have been considerable, weakened in 1929 and were not paid.

So much did the value of the estate drop that Lady Davis and Mortimer took action to oust from executorship of the estate Lord Shaughnessy and A. M. Reaper.

The case ended last Saturday. The plaintiffs alleged the estate had shrunk from $31,000,000, gross value, and an equity of $17,000,000 in March, 1928, to a present deficit of $500,000. A decision will be rendered June 30.

8 BELIEVED SPILLED FROM SPEEDBOAT TO DIE IN LAKE ERIE

Toledo, O., June 17.—(AP)—The belief that eight Toledoans who have been missing since Saturday, when they started for Pelee island in a speed boat, lost their lives in Lake Erie, was accepted by relatives tonight, following the recovery of the body of John Liptack, 25, mechanic of the boat.

Liptack's body, encased in a life preserver, was found this afternoon by the crew of the coast guard cutter 173, a few miles from where the speed boat was found Saturday night floating upright but minus all passengers.

The watch worn by Liptack had stopped at 10:50. Coroner Frank G. Kreft said this would indicate that the eight missing men were pitched into the water less than two hours after they left Toledo.

A shirt containing the initials of Herbert W. Nauts, another passenger on the boat, was picked up, with a brown cap believed to have been worn by Internal Revenue Collector Nauts, father of Herbert.

Coast guardsmen have 20 boats searching the lake and said they would continue their efforts to locate the other missing men. Airplanes and private boats also scanned the lake today in the search that has been going on since Sunday.

Why Fat Folks Stay Fat

"The trouble with me, and I guess this applies to 99% of the men and women who are putting on weight, I didn't have the energy or 'pep' to keep it off. Lost all interest in any healthy activity and just lazed around accumulating the old pounds until I got that 'Kruschen feeling'."

Start taking Kruschen Salts—that's the common-sense way to reduce—but don't take them with the idea that they possess reducing qualities in themselves.

This is what they do—they clean out the impurities in your blood by keeping the bowels, kidneys and liver in splendid working shape and fill you with a vigor and tireless energy you'd most forgotten had existed.

As a result, instead of planting yourself in an easy chair every free moment and letting flabby fat accumulate you feel an urge for activity that keeps you moving around doing the things you've always wanted to do and needed to do to keep you in good condition—you get the needful exercise.

Be careful of the foods you eat—then watch the pounds slide off!

Kruschen Salts are the up-to-date Fountain of Youth. Take one-half teaspoonful in a glass of hot or cold water tomorrow morning and every morning—and if they don't change your whole idea about reducing go back and get the small price you paid for them. Get an 85 cent bottle of Kruschen Salts—lasts 4 weeks—at any progressive druggist anywhere in the world.

It's the Little Daily Dose that does it.

"More SunWheats, please, mother." Children don't have to be coaxed to eat vitamins and minerals when they come in this delicious form.

Created by scientists of the Universities of Wisconsin and Toronto who studied the food needs of 7,000 children, SunWheats won instant approval.

Now—an amazing new cookie safeguards child health

Crisp... crunchy... delectably good to eat—the invention of child-feeding specialists of the Universities of Wisconsin and Toronto

MOTHER, an amazing new health cookie has been developed for your child by scientists in the Universities of Wisconsin and Toronto. These scientists studied the food needs of over 7,000 children!

They saw listless, not-quite-well children transformed into sturdy youngsters that fairly bloomed with health. Just by adding the necessary vitamins and minerals to their diet.

And yet they saw many children denied this perfect health. Because even urging and coaxing often fails to get many children to eat enough wholesome foods to supply all the different vitamins and minerals growing little bodies need.

What SunWheats are

So they took from wholesome foods these elements so vitally necessary to child health, and combined them into a delicious cookie. They call these cookies "SunWheats," because in addition to all the other precious vitamins and minerals, they are enriched with the wonderful sunshine vitamin... by the method discovered by Professor Steenbock of the University of Wisconsin.

Before SunWheats came, you had to know just what different vitamins and minerals various foods contained. Then coax, urge, and often force, childish appetites to make sure they ate all foods.

What they mean to child health

By the new method, you give children only as much of wholesome foods as their appetite craves! Then supply possible deficiencies by allowing them to have all the SunWheats they want. Thus you do away with harmful coaxing. You allow your child to develop a natural, healthy appetite. You let SunWheats help protect him against dangers of vitamin and mineral deficiencies.

Start at once to give your child the benefit of this protection. Serve SunWheats with meals, as a delicious dessert, between meals and before going to bed. Your grocer has SunWheats.

NO WONDER YOU FEEL SICK

When Constipation Gets Its Grip You Can't Keep Well. What You Need Is Kellogg's ALL-BRAN

That tired feeling, that persistent headache, that bad breath are often symptoms of constipation.

There is only one thing to do—clean out your system. Do it now or you may be seriously sick. Your intestines are clogged because you have not eaten enough roughage. And there is no better roughage than that healthful, appetizing cereal—Kellogg's ALL-BRAN.

ALL-BRAN is a natural food that brings natural results regularly. Its fiber content sweeps the intestines clean of poisonous wastes. Much better than habit-forming pills which become useless unless their dose is increased.

In addition, Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is rich in iron. Scientific research has proved that practically all of this iron goes into the blood—bringing the glowing color of health to the complexion and strengthening the entire body. A wonderful way to enjoy keeping well!

You will like the nut-sweet flavor of ALL-BRAN. Ready-to-eat with milk or cream—fruits or honey. By letting ALL-BRAN soak a few moments in milk or cream, its rich flavor is brought out.

Use Kellogg's ALL-BRAN in making muffins and hot breads. Recipes on the package. Sprinkle it into soups, on salads. Mix it in scrambled eggs or meat loaf, add it to every diet.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is guaranteed. Just eat two tablespoonfuls daily—recurrent cases, with every meal. Sold by all grocers. Served in hotels, restaurants, on dining-cars. It is the original ALL-BRAN in the red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

OKLAHOMA DRY AGENT ACQUITTED IN DEATH OF TWO

Enforcer Exonerated by Jury in 5 Minutes.

Guthrie, Okla., June 17.—[Special.]—Snake Thomason, federal prohibition agent, was cleared of the murder of James Harris without one witness being called for his defense when Judge Edgar S. Vaught instructed the jury in federal court to return a verdict of not guilty here at noon today.

When the state rested its case, Judge Vaught ruled no witness had been produced who could swear that Thomason fired the shot that killed Harris, therefore, the jury was not entitled to convict on the evidence.

Mrs. James Harris, widow of the farmer who was slain on his farm during a dry raid headed by Thomason last July 4, testified her husband had started back to meet Thomason and a posseman, Jeff D. Harris. The three met at the bottom of a ravine and several shots were fired. James Harris was dragged out of the ravine by Thomason and Jeff Harris, a short time later, with a wound that proved fatal.

One Serving 50 Year Term.

When the verdict was returned by the jury after it had been out five minutes, friends and fellow officers rushed to Thomason to congratulate him on his victory. Out in the hall stood a frail widow, three small children clinging to her skirt. All were in tears.

Less than a year ago, the family was preparing to celebrate the independence of the country of which its head had served during the world war. Armed men, unusual to peace times invaded the farm home. It was all so strange. Shots were fired. When the smoke had cleared away, the husband of that frail widow had a bullet hole through his body. Her brother lay dying where another bullet had felled him. Within 24 hours both were dead.

One of the men, Jeff D. Harris, was tried in the state court for the murder of Oscar Lowery. He is serving a 50 year term in prison. The other was acquitted.

Convicted Dry Agent Wins Stay.

Frankfort, Ky., June 17.—(AP)—A stay of execution of the two year penitentiary sentence imposed upon Roy V. Miller, federal prohibition agent who was convicted on a charge of manslaughter growing out of the shooting of Frank Sears during a liquor raid in Hopkins county in 1925, was issued today by Gov. Sampson. Miller is the first prohibition agent convicted of a killing committed in a dry raid and his sentence recently was affirmed by the United States District Court of Appeals at Cincinnati.

Two other men who took part in the raid already are serving two year sentences.

Slayer of Boy Must Serve Term.

Montgomery, Ala., June 17.—[Special.]—Deputy Sheriff Cecil Guthrie of Clay county must serve a sentence of 10 years in the penitentiary for the slaying of Clarence Bailey, 17 year old high school boy, whom he killed in a liquor ambush last fall. The Alabama court of appeals today affirmed the decision of the Circuit court jury in convicting and sentencing the officer on charges of manslaughter.

According to testimony at the trial, Bailey was killed by Guthrie after the officer had commanded the youth to halt as he and a group of schoolboys approached a liquor cache in the woods. Guthrie claimed that the bullet that killed him was fired unintentionally as he tripped and fell.

Enforcer Killed in Gun Fight.

Goldsboro, N. C., June 17.—(AP)—Two suspected liquor runners early today fired on four prohibition enforcement agents who were pursuing them in an automobile, killing one and wounding another.

P. L. Flinchum, 33, was killed and H. V. Andrews, 41, wounded in the left arm and right leg. B. A. Dale, 40, and F. E. Street, 52, the other agents, were bruised and cut when the automobile which Flinchum was driving swerved from the road and crashed into a tree after he was shot. The liquor runners escaped.

Launch Drive on Rum Shops in School Zone; Woman Fined

An attack on the speakeasies in the neighborhood of public schools was started yesterday by W. L. Bodine, supervisor of compulsory education, when it became known that several such places have been selling intoxicating liquor to school children. William Keith, assistant supervisor, charged that several children have come to class partly intoxicated.

The first definite step in the campaign was taken when Judge Samuel Heller fined Mrs. Mary Karkoska, 1035 West 47th street, mother of five children, $100 for selling beer to Thomas Cahill, 10 years old, 1055 West 47th street. Mrs. Karkoska pleaded that she was destitute, but she readily obtained the money for her fine when the judge threatened to send her to the Bridewell instead.

Mrs. Mary O'Brien, a truant officer, had gone to the Karkoska home to learn why Anna Karkoska, 10 years old, a student in the Sherman school, had been absent from classes. At the door she met the Cahill boy, also a student in the Sherman school, who explained his absence from classes by saying that his father had sent him out for beer. Two other boys of the school also admitted buying beer from Mrs. Karkoska.

Mr. Bodine immediately asked the cooperation of the police department and issued instructions to his force of 123 truant officers to report any such nuisance within two blocks of any school. Complaints have been received from all parts of the city, Mr. Bodine said.

THREE DEAD AND ONE WOUNDED IN BOOTLEG AFFRAY

Ravenna, O., June 17.—(AP)—Three men are dead and a fourth was at the point of death here today as the result of a shooting affray.

The dead are: Joseph Dinato, 40; Benjamin De Angilin, 36, and Frank De Eulis, 33.

The wounded man is Ralph D'Amico, 34, owner of the Roxy club, where the shooting occurred. Dinato, known as a bootlegger, entered the club last midnight and accused D'Amico of causing police to interfere with him. D'Amico, witnesses said, ignored him, but he shot the three men and then himself.

"I always recommend Palmolive ...for a very good reason"

says LINA CAVALIERI

Former opera star, now a celebrated Parisian beauty specialist

Unless the pores are freed of impurities, dirt, oil, make-up, serious blemishes appear. Olive oil, in soap, removes these accumulations gently and safely.

LINA CAVALIERI! Romantic figure in the world of opera; important figure, today, in the world of beauty culture. Born in Rome, Mme. Cavalieri was singing in opera in the great cities of Europe and America by the time she was 18. Today, she has turned to beauty culture, with salons not only in Paris, but in the smartest hotels of Europe's most fashionable resorts: The Hotel Carlton, Cannes; the Hotel Roseraie, Biarritz; Hotel de Paris, Monte Carlo, and another shop—opened last summer—at Le Touquet.

Madame Cavalieri's approval of Palmolive Soap is doubly important . . . one might even say triply. For she speaks not only as a beauty expert and a former opera star but also as one of the world's most beautiful women. Therefore, when she finds Palmolive "safe, soothing, healthy for the skin" every woman must listen with interest.

Madame Lina Cavalieri's treatment

"Before retiring, of course, use Palmolive. Massage its lather gently into the skin of face and throat. Rinse with warm water, gradually changing to cold. Then, I advise the application of my Camphorated Jelly No. 5.

"In the morning, cleanse the skin thoroughly with this same soap. Then use my "Lotion Onctueuse" No. 7 before applying my cream No. 2 for neutral skins.

"By following this simple treatment, you will keep that schoolgirl complexion."

Go to the outstanding beauty specialists in any of Europe's leading cities—in any American city—and you will find every one of them recommends Palmolive Soap. A total of more than 23,000 professional beauty specialists advise their patrons to use this soap in preference to any other—for bath as well as face. Why?

Palmolive is made of the oils of palm and olives, famous for generations as the greatest natural cosmetic oils. Its color is the natural color of those same oils. It requires no heavy perfumes to mask rancid fat odors. Vegetable oil soaps are safest, most soothing, gentlest on the skin. Follow Lina Cavalieri's advice—use Palmolive.

"Ordinary soaps may cause serious irritation: if you have the mistaken notion that soap may harm your skin, it is because you are not using the right soap. Next time try Palmolive. I heartily advise it . . . to keep skin smooth and lovely."

Lina Cavalieri

61, AVENUE VICTOR EMMANUEL III, PARIS

Here is the exterior of Madame Cavalieri's famous salon at 61 Avenue Victor Emmanuel III. It will be recognized by travelers to Paris . . . for it is one of the most pretentious salons in a city famed for its beauty shops.

Here is professional approval that means something. More than 23,000 of the world's beauty experts advise Palmolive.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

Ald. Guy Guernsey, one of the three members of the city council who voted against the proposed indeterminate transit franchise, submitted some of his criticisms to the Collegiate club at a luncheon yesterday noon in the Morrison hotel.

"The ordinance will be approved on the referendum July 1," Ald. Guernsey said. "Nearly everybody I meet seems to be for it." Then the speaker presented his criticisms:

"We were promised 23 miles of extensions in the old 1907 ordinance and haven't got any in the last 10 or 12 years. Under the present ordinance there is no more assurance we will get extensions than was contained in the 1907 ordinance.

"In order to make the securities of the new company good, the bankers have taken the whole works away from the city. It is promised that this ordinance will take transportation out of politics. It is impossible to take such a necessity out of politics. The transfer scheme seems fair for the first three years. But on the first day of the fourth year there will be an increase in fares."

"No Promise To Build."

Ald. Guernsey read the ordinance provision on extensions, and then commented: "There is no promise there to ever build anything. They will begin building in the spring such extensions as are profitable. None will be built this year.

"There is no forfeiture clause in this ordinance, and no adequate penalty for default by the company."

Former Ald. William F. Lippe asserted yesterday that the nonpartisan committee for the ordinance made an error in announcing that the Birchwood District Improvement association had indorsed the ordinance. It was also announced that the City Club has not indorsed the ordinance, although its committee on local transportation has done so.

The nonpartisan committee, headed by Ald. Joseph B. McDonough, announced yesterday that directors of the Chicago and Cook County Bankers' association have urged support of the ordinance. The statement of the association urges active support of the ordinance as a means of development of outlying communities.

The Police post and the Chesterfield post of the American Legion also have passed resolutions favoring the ordinance. Other indorsements handed out yesterday by the McDonough committee follow:

North Central association.
North Clark Street Business Men's association.
North Avenue Real Estate brokers.
Crawford-Springfield Improvement association.
Great West Property Owners' association.
Austin Kiwanis club.
Greater Central District association.
Illinois Retail Coal Dealers' association.
The Citizens' association.

With these indorsements the proponents of the ordinance say that 76 organizations have formally expressed their approval of the transit plan.

AVERAGE MOTORIST PAYS $20 GAS TAX, STANDARD OIL SAYS

New York, June 17.—[Special.]—The movement toward increased state taxation of gasoline is rapidly getting out of hand, according to an analysis of these taxes in the current issue of "The Lamp," official publication of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey.

"Including estimated levies of $550,000,000 for 1930, motorists will have paid $1,750,000,000 in gasoline taxes for the last five years alone," the survey says. "In 1929 registration fees averaged approximately $13 a car—gasoline taxes nearly $18. This year it will cost the motorist approximately $20 for gasoline tolls alone."

JAIL POLICEMAN AFTER QUARREL WITH MOTORIST

Patrolman Michael E. Murphy, 30 years old, 8743 Blackstone avenue, was arrested and locked in a cell at the Stanton avenue station yesterday following an altercation with a motorist and his woman companion at 32d street and Lief Ericson drive during the morning rush hour. On the recommendation of Capt. John Horan of the Stanton avenue station, to which Murphy was assigned, Acting Commissioner of Police Alcock ordered his suspension pending investigation of charges.

When Policeman Joseph Smith of the South Park force arrived on the scene after being attracted by confusion in the traffic he found four men holding Murphy who was belligerent and appeared to have been drinking. The motorist and the woman with whom Murphy's quarrel began disappeared.

Murphy was unable to give a coherent statement, but Capt. Horan learned that he had been given a ride from the vicinity of 57th street and Calumet avenue by a man and a woman. Murphy has been in the department only two years, is married and has two children.

SIR HENRY COLE ARRIVES HERE TO START FAIR WORK

Sir Henry Cole, former director of the exhibition division, department of overseas trade of the British government, who will have charge of the European exhibits for the world's fair, arrived in Chicago yesterday to assume his duties.

A luncheon, attended by fair officials, was given in his honor, followed by a tour of the lake front site of the fair. Sir Henry expressed himself as greatly pleased with the site. He said he believed the scientific theme of the fair would make it the greatest in history.

Sir Henry came to America with Ambassador Dawes and traveled to Chicago with Rufus C. Dawes, president of the fair organization. Ambassador Dawes will arrive today from Washington.

The United States senate yesterday passed the house resolution directing President Hoover to appoint a commission to plan the participation of the federal government in the exposition.

TWIN TENS or WALLET—

Chicago likes its WINGS AIR-COOLED

15¢

IN old-fashioned, bulky packs of twenty cigarettes, the last three or four smokes invariably get mangled and mashed. Half the tobacco leaks out—clutters up your pocket (or purse)—a waste and a nuisance.

Maybe that's why so many people welcome WINGS in these two new packs. Some like the WALLET—some the TWIN TENS.

But ALL agree on this: they like their smokes air-cooled.

The WALLET—really a folding cigarette case of rigid construction—protects every single smoke in the pack—keeps each firm and fresh and deliciously plump. The TWIN TENS is utterly new! Two slender, trim little packs of 10 each instead of one chunky, crumply, wasteful pack of 20. Easy to slip into a vest pocket. Fits nicely, too, into the modish new flat handbags. A secret delight for women smokers!

New process makes 'em AIR-COOLED!

Air-washing is an exclusive new process. All the delicious Turkish, Virginia and Burley tobacco that goes into WINGS is air-washed! All burn, sting and bite are air-washed away! No flares or hot-spots remain.

Air-washing makes WINGS the tastiest, cleanest, coolest smoke you ever reached for! The kind you can smoke continuously, all day—every day—each one with renewed, live enjoyment.

Take WINGS today! They're smooth as cream! Cool as a breeze!

WINGS!

NO MORE CRUSHED OR HALF-EMPTY CIGARETTES!

SCHOOL TRUSTEES FINALLY APPROVE AIR FIELD LEASE

Proposal Goes to Council; Early Action Urged.

BY ROBERT WOOD.

The board of education yesterday voted to lease to the city its 589 acres of vacant property at Clearing which the city has sought for two years to acquire and improve the Municipal airport at 63d street and Cicero avenue. If the lease is accepted by the city council the airport will be enlarged to three times its present size. Immediately after the board's action Ald. Dorsey Crowe, chairman of the council aviation committee, announced that he will take the lease before the council immediately and demand early action. Walter W. Wright, the director of aviation, parks and playgrounds, began drawing up plans for the improvement of the property.

Sixth Proposal Up to Board.

The lease was the sixth proposal submitted to the board in the last two years. The lease is for 50 years, although either party may cancel the agreement at the end of the first 20 years. At that time the property is to be revalued and the city is to pay an annual rental of six per cent of the valuation.

The city is to pay $20 an acre a year for the first five years, $25 for the next five years, $27.50 for the following five years and $30 for the next ten. It is also to pay for all special assessments and improvements. The board of education is to receive, in addition, ten per cent of the gross income of the airport.

Railroad Divides Land.

The property is bounded roughly by Pulaski street, Cicero avenue, West 55th street and Central avenue. It excludes the right of way of the Chicago & Western Indiana railroad, which divides the land, and two small sections of property—one in the southwest corner and one in the northwest corner of the tract—which have been reserved for school purposes.

A total of 240 acres of the tract is to be leased by the city and of this 120 acres is improved as landing area and hangar sites. This old lease, which still has 4 years to run, is canceled by the new lease on the entire tract. A bond issue of $450,000 was approved in the April election for improving the remainder of the property now under lease.

Board Votes 8 to 2.

The board's vote was eight to two. Trustees Hefferan and Mullenbach opposed the lease, declaring it did not adequately protect school interests. Those voting for were Trustees Brandenburg, Blatchford, Meyers, Durante, Ettingway, Schmidt, English, and President Caldwell.

J. C. Meigs, chairman of the Chicago aero commission, said that while the lease was not all that the aviation interests sought it was acceptable to the commission.

MOTORCYCLE COP IS KILLED WHILE CHASING SPEEDER

Collides Head On with Auto.

Harry Hasselborg, 42 years old, 717 Ridge avenue, Wilmette, a motorcycle policeman in Glencoe, was killed yesterday while chasing a speeding motorist through Glencoe and Winnetka. The accident happened at Tower and Sheridan roads in Winnetka. At the inquest it was found he was accidentally killed, and M. H. Samuels, 8009 Phillips avenue, driver of the automobile which collided with Hasselborg's motorcycle, was released.

The policeman had followed the speeder through Glencoe and into Winnetka and as the motorist turned into Sheridan road the policeman swung to the left of the speeding car. The policeman's motorcycle crashed headon into the machine driven by Samuels. The speeder did not stop.

This death and four others yesterday increased Cook county's motor toll for the year to 410. The victims:

Paul H. Schmitt, 148 East 107th street. Killed when his automobile was struck by a Rock Island train at the 119th street crossing in Blue Island. The crossing is not guarded by gates.

Miss Ella Ehlert, 47 years old, 1781 North Karlov avenue. Died in the Garfield Park hospital from injuries received when the automobile in which she was riding overturned at Waukegan on June 11.

THE TARIFF AND THE MARKETS.

The passage of the new tariff bill has been accompanied by a slump in the prices of securities and commodities. Mr. Hoover's announcement that he would sign the bill, far from rallying confidence, had the reverse effect. Weak markets became still weaker.

A tariff revision upward can be counted upon ordinarily to strengthen the markets. If this bill has failed to do so it is because the business men of the country have at no time since Mr. Hoover's election felt that there was any real need for tariff revision. The uncertainty regarding the duties, which has extended for nearly a year and a half wh the debate has been on in congress, has not caused but it surely has accentuated the depression in which business finds itself. We know at last where we stand, but the knowledge has come too late.

The tariff bill took long in the making because there was no public opinion demanding it and setting its character. Congress did not know what was expected and accordingly worked listlessly and aimlessly. Meanwhile exporters in a score of foreign nations took alarm and pressed their governments for reprisals, many of which have been granted. The consequence is that whatever has been gained in restricting the American market to American labor and American manufacturers is likely to be lost in the reduced volume of American exports to foreign lands.

That is the fact which has been reflected in the trend of the markets these last few days. The result has proved what has been evident from the start: the country did not want a general revision of the tariff.

IN THE SYSTEM.

The retiring prohibition commissioner, Dr. Doran, discloses the fact that his retirement will be partial. He will remain in the treasury department as head of the bureau of industrial alcohol, the prohibition unit having been passed on to the department of justice. The event is not peculiar to the prohibition régime, but illustrative of a permanent characteristic of the public service in which the maxim that few die and none resigns has pretty generally prevailed. Once fixed on the government pay roll the incumbent is exceptional who can or will be detached. To pass from one desk to another is not an unusual proceeding, but to pass out is. Dr. Doran is not the individual nor his circumstances under the present administration of a sort to make him an exception to this rule of bureaucracy.

CZARDOM IN THE HOUSE.

A characteristic situation has developed in congress in respect to the bill to put a reasonable check upon Mexican immigration. The bill, sponsored by Representative Johnson, watchful guardian of the nation's vital interest in immigration, has been passed by the senate and recommended for passage by the house committee on immigration, and is now being obstructed on the theory, expressed by Mr. Tilson of Connecticut, that it "would undo all the good we are doing in improving relations with Mexico." Speaker Longworth and Representative Snell of New York are in accord with this view, and will assist in preventing the house from expressing its will upon the measure. A special rule is required to raise the measure out of the ruck of pending bills.

The bill would put Mexico on the quota basis, where it belongs. Unrestricted immigration is creating social, political and economic conditions which are injurious to the welfare of the nation, and the argument that a proper check upon it must not be applied for fear of some imaginable effect upon our relations with the Mexican government will not bear free examination in the house or elsewhere. The purchase of good opinion by concessions injurious to the permanent interests of the nation in assimilation and quality of citizenship is a delusion and a cheat. Good relations with Mexico are highly desirable and important, but they are not to be bought at the price of such concessions. For years these relations have been the football of shortsighted expediences varied by sentimental fallacies, and our conduct procured us nothing but the scorn and hostility of recurrent Mexican governments. There is no chapter of the history of American foreign affairs less creditable to American diplomacy than this chapter, and it is time we put our policy under the control of consistency and self-respect.

We are ready to believe that Mr. Morrow has accomplished much toward mutually profitable relations between Mexico and the United States and have no disposition to undo his work, but it is certain that in so far as that accomplishment is founded on realities, upon the real factors of mutual profit, it will not be undone by the exercise of a proper control over the influx of Mexicans into the United States.

But even if the gains achieved by Mr. Morrow were to be jeopardized temporarily by the much needed correction of present conditions it does not follow that we should hesitate to make it. The price for what are vaguely referred to as good relations is exorbitant and congress should insist upon its right and duty to protect the general and permanent interest of the nation. Investment of American capital so greatly needed in Mexico and the establishment of American security in that country are important to both countries, but they are not considerations which outweigh those which support our immigration policy. The house should not submit to official dictation on this issue.

THE LINGLE INVESTIGATION GOES ON.

Nine days ago Alfred Lingle, a TRIBUNE reporter, was assassinated. At the time of his death and for several days afterward the general assumption was that he was killed to prevent the exposure in THE TRIBUNE of facts about gangland which were known to him. The assassination was regarded as a threat to the press and especially to its leader.

More recently rumors have arisen regarding Mr. Lingle's relations with gangdom. It has been said that he was, in one fashion or another, an ally and that he was killed for violating in some manner the code of gangdom. These rumors have been accepted by those wishing ill of THE TRIBUNE in its fight for decency and have been propagated by those who have neither the disposition nor the courage to make the fight themselves.

THE TRIBUNE does not know why its reporter was killed. It is engaged in finding out and expects to be successful. It may take time; the quicker the better, but this enlistment is for duration. It may require long, patient efforts, but THE TRIBUNE is prepared for that and hopes that some lasting results will be obtained which will stamp justice upon the face of crime.

Meanwhile, in justice to the memory of Mr. Lingle, we can say that during his lifetime Mr. Lingle's honor was not questioned by the editor of THE TRIBUNE. Furthermore, every rumor, however unlikely its foundation, is being investigated. We will pursue the inquiry to the end, wherever it may lead.

Little is known of gangland and its ramifications which may be regarded as accurate. Therefore it is difficult to tell whether any or all of these rumors are true, whether they emanate from those whose purpose it is to defeat justice, whether they come from the ill disposed or whether they are the product of pure light-headedness.

The inquiry is proceeding steadily. This editorial is intended to serve as notice that the investigation will go on until the truth is established and the guilty punished, whoever they may be. The public, we believe, knows that when THE TRIBUNE starts to accomplish such an end it never stops until the end is reached.

THE TRIBUNE can ignore the coyotes among its critics, but it will not permit them to stand in the way of the investigation.

WISCONSIN'S DILEMMA.

Wisconsin has been able to boast that for thirty years there has not been a failure of the ice crop or a lack of political arguments. There is no indication of a shortage of ice to meet the popular demand for all time, but some steps may have to be taken to keep the political kettle boiling.

The difficulty is that all parties and factions seem to have decided that the ideal campaign issue is that touching upon the growth of chain banks. No one, it appears, wants chain banks, excepting chain bankers. Even some of the bankers who have been active in politics as Progressives, conservatives or Democrats have decided they had best not be associated with a chain and have withdrawn their indorsements. So now, instead of it being a controversial question, all parties propose to denounce the "banking trusts." How can one fight if every one agrees with him?

Chain stores also seemed to offer possibilities. But the conference season finds all the delegates opposed to chain stores in the abstract, even though they trade with them and rent their buildings to them. Apparently all Wisconsin factions will denounce chain stores, carefully refraining however, from offering any remedy.

Utility rates offer a fair target for platform pronouncements. No voter will object to the statement that lower rates are better than higher ones. All parties and factions, therefore, will include a plank advocating lower utility rates, but not specifying any particular locality or rate, or method of obtaining this boon.

The Democrats in convention assembled urged a law preventing friends of candidates from spending money in their behalf. They have had difficulty getting friends of their candidates to come across. The La Follette faction denounces large donations, but will not mention Mr. Lee. Republicans at Oshkosh ask that the law be clarified so they will not be embarrassed when their numerous supporters insist upon giving luncheons and distributing tire covers to the loyal voters.

That about sums up the possibilities for differences in platform utterances. Democrats and Progressives denounce "Hoover prosperity," while the Oshkosh conference sees a brighter era in the offing. But there is no national election this year.

It looks as if there may be a failure in one of Wisconsin's staple crops this fall.

Editorial of the Day

DEMURE UNDER THEIR BRIMS.

[New York Times.]

People will recall the clarion tones in which American womanhood a year ago announced its readiness to die in the last ditch against the Paris dressmakers rather than go back to long skirts and slavery. The ditches are not perceptibly heaped with female corpses. Once more has been demonstrated the power of fashion and the fickleness of woman. That having been established, it is in order to point out that American men are now wearing their panamas and leghorns with the brim turned down.

The temptation to explain the new mode on grounds of common sense must be resisted. The depressed edges are not unbecoming and are eminently protective against sun glare. But these things have been true at least since the Spanish-American war. The reason why strong men now cultivate the mushroom umbrella effect is probably the prince of Wales or somebody last winter at Palm Beach or in a musical show on Broadway.

With the coquettish down-flare of the men's plaited headgear goes a daring but successful color note in their suits. One encounters plum color everywhere, adventuring at times toward the borders of maroon. In the shop windows green suits are on exhibition. Why men should be veering toward Sir Walter Raleigh in a season that finds women harking back to Victoria cannot, of course, be explained. But it would seem that in fealty to style, Judy O'Grady and Jim O'Grady are not so far apart.

FOR AND AGAINST.

The Accused—There's the lawyer we stuck up. It's all up wit' us. He's goin' to testify against us.

CHANGING THE LABELS.

A CERTAIN mouth wash once displayed the following words on its label: "A most reliable antiseptic and germicide. Its action upon all diseased surfaces is not only curative but corrective, reducing inflammation and destroying all disease germs known by all doctors to be the cause of sickness and disease."

The food, drug, and insecticide administration bureau of the United States department of agriculture got after the owners of this preparation for cheating and lying, and they modified their label to make it conform to the law. It now uses these words: "A reliable antiseptic and germicide for minor cuts, wounds, abrasions, or burns. Gargle. Mouth wash."

Another preparation made the following claims: "An active astringent, antiseptic, and deodorant. Makes the gums firm and healthy, the breath pure and sweet, and tones the oral cavity. For pyorrhea, tender, spongy, bleeding, or receding gums, or any unhealthy condition of the oral cavity." Under pressure, this became: "An active astringent and deodorant. Is eminently beneficial. Is astringent and aromatic. Sweetens the breath. For use as a wash, spray, gargle, application, or douche."

Another preparation has these words on the label: "A delightful and purifying mouth wash. Healing, antiseptic, and prophylactic. Keeps the gums firm. Preventive treatment when pyorrhea is threatened." When the government convinced the manufacturers that the only true statement on the label was "a delightfully refreshing mouth wash," the latter withdrew their product from the market.

Another bore the legend: "Antiseptic lotion for pimples, blackheads, acne, eruptions on the face or body, barber's itch, eczema, enlarged pores, oily or shiny skin, and similar infections of the skin." This was transformed into: "A local astringent for the skin and complexion."

A bulletin issued by the government bureau says: "By and large, the public of today can accept at face value the statements appearing on most packages of antiseptics that are shipped within the jurisdiction of the federal food and drugs act." They do not give any approval to antiseptics made and sold locally. The labels on these preparations may be fraudulent and deceptive in more ways than one. Second, their approval is given only to what is said on the label. If the purchaser will pay no attention to any reading matter except that which appears on the label, he will be safe and he will not be cheated. This applies only if he reads the actual words there found and applies to them accepted meanings. He must not infer anything not stated nor read into words meanings that he has borrowed from statements made elsewhere. By the word "antiseptic" the label means antiseptic as diluted and applied, as the remedy actually is when it is applied to the gums, or skin, or other parts.

The bureau has examined only about one thousand so-called antiseptics. There are doubtless some they have not examined. The bulletin does not mention by name either the preparations disapproved or those they approve.

REDUCING A TEMPERATURE.

Mrs. M. D. C. writes:

1. Is nitre good for reducing a person's temperature?
2. What is good to do so?
3. Does sitting in the hot sun or getting overheated make one's temperature go up?

REPLY.

1. It has no material effect on temperature although it is a time honored remedy used for that purpose.
2. Baths are effective. Cold baths are most so, though tepid ones have some effect. There is a line of synthetic drugs for reducing fever that are in extensive use. It is not always advisable to reduce fever without removing the cause.
3. Yes. In sunstroke the temperature is very high.

DEPENDS ON WORDING.

Aurora, Ill., June 6.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—A went to his banker to invest money for five years. The banker wrote bonds for a long term of years. A protested at once, but had to keep them as the banker says it is unlawful to give such money back. How can A proceed to compel the banker to refund the amount at no loss to him?

M. Q.

His original rights against the banker depended on the wording of the agreement with the banker. If he wishes to enforce that agreement, by court proceedings if necessary, he should employ a lawyer.

VACATIONS FOR ALL.

Chicago, June 14.—[Friend of the People.]—1. Are all civil service employés for the city entitled to vacations, or is it just the city hall employés and firemen and policemen?

2. Does the civil service law call for a vacation for all city civil service employés?

T. L.

All employés of the city who have worked for the city one year are granted a vacation of two weeks with pay.

Vacations are granted by ordinance of the city council for city employés, by order of the board of education for employés of the board, etc.

J. D. OSBORNE,

THIRTY DAYS.

Chicago, June 12.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—Supposing a landlord rents under no written lease, verbal agreement, the month to month rule being fully explained to tenant, on say the 5th day of April in the afternoon. When does the time expire that the tenant should vacate, it being understood that the tenant had given the legal 30 day notice? Would it be midnight May 4 or some time May 5? R. D. C.

The notice should be served a full 30 days before the date when it is to be effective. We cannot apply the rule to your facts since you have not made clear when your month begins. In order for a notice to be effective May 1 it must be served April 1.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may.

FOR EAST IS EAST AND WEST IS WEST.

The death of that inestimable Chinese, Wong Soongdong, for fifty-nine years a member of the American consulate general in Shanghai, reminds us. One day—many, many long years ago we called at the consulate in Shanghai with a New York journalist who just naturally knew everything, even though he had landed in Shanghai only the day before. We entered the consulate to have a talk with the consul general, but saw no one sitting there but a Chinese in his native costume. "Hey, boy!" said the New York journalist, who in a couple of weeks on the China coast imagined he was a master of pidgin English. "Us reporter men—you savee?—me wantee ask consul man bad Chinee man soon makee fight—boom! boom!—you savvee? You go topside—makee ask consul man—come back chop chop—can do?" The Chinese pondered a moment and then said: "His excellency the American consul general is out of the city for a few days. However, I think your fears of an uprising of the natives at present are groundless. If you gentlemen will kindly leave your address with me I will take the matter up with the consul general as soon as he returns, and he will probably write you a note giving his opinion. I hope this will be satisfactory." Now, you probably imagine that this reply simply rolled the New York journalist out flat. It simply never touched him. Without blinking an eyelash he said: "When consul-man he come this side you askee what fashion bad Chinamans he fightee. Chop chop, can do?"

EXTERIOR.

Today when I went down the street
I wore a proper smile,
My coat was quite the latest thing,
My new hat was the style.
My cheeks were rouged a cherry red,
(I saw them in a glass)
And lots of men would hesitate,
And smile and wait, then pass.
Yes, I was looking rather well,
There wasn't one who knew
It hadn't been an hour
Since I broke my heart in two.

HELEN WELSHIMER.

SEVERAL CONGRESSMEN raised the point in the house yesterday as to whether it would be safe for them here in Chicago at the World's Fair in 1933. Well, boys, it will be as safe for you in Chicago at that time as anywhere else in the U. S. will be. It depends on how this new tariff works out.

NEWS from Washington says the 15th federal commission is now being drafted. But this one's a shipping commission and we're waiting until a commission is appointed to study the Sale and Consumption of Malt and Spirituous Liquors in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, of the Dominion of Canada. Now that would be a commission on which we would certainly like to commish.

BELIEVE IT OR NOT.

Maybe you think cops don't read anything but the funnies and the racing cards. Now, we've got a nice policeman, Arthur is his name, who is an omnivorous reader of things way above racing forms. Art is now eating right straight through Charlie and Mary Beard's Rise of American Civilization, Sir James Jeans' The Universe Around Us, Will Durant's Story of Philosophy, Gaston Means' The Strange Death of President Harding, and Oswald Spengler's Decline of the West. He is also conscientiously wading through the encyclopedia and has got as far as the middle of the H's. He's a Lincoln park cop, is our literary policeman, and if he grabs you for speeding you'd better say you were so engrossed reading that thrilling story, Reports of the United States Fisheries Commission for 1873, that you quite forgot how fast you were going. It's worth trying, anyhow.

WE STOOD for an hour yesterday watching the players on one of those cunning little corner lot golf courses. Two boys who used to play baseball on the same ground stood by. "Oh, mercy!" exclaimed one of the he-golfers as he made a shot, "how silly! I foozled my approach!" And one of the baseball players said to the other, "Wot horrid languidge, Clarence; let us hasten quickly away ere we hear more vile words spoken!"

WE ARE simply appalled! We were reading the editorials in the esteemed Chicago Evening Post last night, and before we could detour or put on the brakes or anything we skidded right into this: "If a politician walks into the police commissioner's office and says, 'Hands off this racket,' the commissioner must be free to tell him to go to h——." We were inexpressibly shocked because we know full well what the Post meant by "h——." Of course, there are probably a great many who are innocent enough to think that "h——" means home, or helping, or happiness. But it does not; it means a very wicked, terrible place, and the Post is not deceiving us by printing it "h——."

FOR A LOVABLE VILLAIN.

Your lips upon my eyelids
With ardent tenderness,
Have made my blood flow sweet as wine,
I reluctantly confess.

And all the precious glamour
You have kissed into my ear
Has left me quite defenseless,
Though I know you're insincere.

But, damn it, I cannot forget
These perilous details,
And probably you are not worth
My silvered finger nails.

DAVIDA.

LAGNIAPPE.

COOK COUNTY (and Chicago is most of Cook county) has more than half the population of Illinois. Cook county would make a fine state, and if it was a state it would have its own governor and national guard. A governor probably wouldn't help much; we could use a small army around here. Yes, indeed, an army might help a lot.

65 YEARS AGO TODAY

JUNE 18, 1865.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Alexander H. Stephens in an application for pardon occupying two quires of paper reasserts the state rights doctrine and demands on this principle exemption from the effect of the amnesty proclamation. His effrontery is followed by many rebel notables—Nicholson, Anderson, Gen. Johnston, and others who are unwilling to give up their cherished heresy. They seem to consider that their defeat by the bayonet requires no more apology than a defeat by ballot, that there has only been a grand election and the worsted party should be allowed to succumb gracefully.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The sale of Ford's theater to the Young Men's Christian Association of Washington for $100,000 throws a good fortune into the lap of the owner. John T. Ford's property, including improvements, cost less than $50,000, leaving him a net profit of over $50,000.

NEW YORK.—The Herald's Washington special says: "Among the papers captured with Jeff Davis' party was one written by Jeff to Mrs. Davis immediately on conclusion of the negotiations between Generals Sherman and Johnston. Jeff informs his wife that they have secured in the stipulations more for the south than they ever asked either before or since the commencement of the war. He also states that the agreement is an indorsement of the southern views of state rights."

30 YEARS AGO TODAY

JUNE 18, 1900.

PHILADELPHIA.—For President, William McKinley; for Vice President, Theodore Roosevelt. That is the ticket which is written on the wall tonight as the result of a remarkable landslide toward the New York governor. Gov. Roosevelt came here for the Republican national convention strong in his desire to decline the second place on the ticket, but he had not been here 24 hours before a boom in his behalf developed which resulted in the extinguishment of all lesser lights. In spite of his declarations of the last month or two, Gov. Roosevelt kept quiet during the day, and his closest friends say he will be nominated without a word from him. Delegates admit this with the single saving clause that if the administration does not like it the landslide can be checked, but not otherwise. There is scarcely any doubt the rapid concentration on Roosevelt has been engineered by Platt. The New York boss wants to get rid of Roosevelt, and can do it in no way except by putting him on the ticket. Platt has the aid of Quay.

LONDON.—A dispatch from Peking June 14, via Tien Tsin, says: "A serious anti-foreign outbreak took place last night when some of the finest buildings in the eastern part of the city were burned and hundreds of native Christians and servants employed by foreigners were massacred within two miles of the imperial palace. The Boxers burned the Roman Catholic east cathedral, the large buildings of the London mission, the American Board missions, and all the buildings in the eastern part of the city occupied by foreign employés of the maritime customs office." The seriousness of the situation in China completely overshadows the war in the Transvaal.

NEW YORK.—Viola Kraus, divorced from Victor von Schlegel the day before Joseph Browne Elwell's murder, was the central figure tonight in the district attorney's investigation of New York's great death mystery. She was quizzed in private by Assistant District Attorney Dooling at the home of her sister, Mrs. Walter Lewisohn, and seemed to satisfy him that she held back nothing. He declared that Miss Kraus was not in the slightest way involved in any intrigue with Elwell, but he said he obtained from her information that may be valuable. Following her questioning Von Schlegel was grilled for several hours, but he answered all questions fully and freely, Dooling said.

"A FINE ANTI-TRACTION RECORD."

Chicago, June 14.—Mr. Newton Jenkins in a recent article congratulates a former mayor on "his fine anti-traction record." The phrase is a happy one to indicate the attitude of those who can make a virtue out of anti-anything, even of anti-quick transportation and anti-property rights.

In their own interest, voters should know that the company's and the public's interests are identical. If the company makes money it will attract money and give better service, just as the small business man who makes money can borrow money and extend his business. If the company does not make money the public will continue to sweat in crowded cars and freeze on street corners, and waste time in slow transportation until these men are able to take their "fine anti-traction records" to the bank and use them as security to raise money to better the properties.

How will this present settlement touch the pocketbooks and personal convenience of the public? To earn a fair and reasonable return on existing properties requires about ½ cent increase in average fare. Engineers estimate that several minutes in average riding time will be saved, and that about 175 square miles will be added to the area within which people can live and still be within forty-five minutes of downtown, under the present program. In other words, those with "fine anti-traction records" are suggesting that the voters, in order to save a daily sum which they themselves would be the first to laugh at, shall lose time worth many times as much—also comfort, convenience, and the opportunity to live in open spaces.

The "fine anti-traction record" people have accomplished much. They have achieved the destruction of millions of dollars of savings, represented by securities bought, mistakenly perhaps, but nevertheless in good faith. They have achieved that the remaining capitalization shall receive less than a "fair and reasonable return"—because part of that must go to the city. They have even achieved that if the properties are not practically doubled in 10 years—if nearly as much is not done in ten years as in the past seventy-five—$65,000,000 of the remaining capitalization shall be rendered virtually valueless. Let them be satisfied, and not in addition ask the public to continue to sacrifice itself to their theories by defeating this franchise.

C. H. WILMERDING.

A FRIENDLY POLICEMAN.

Chicago, June 13.—Traffic on Wacker drive at La Salle street was heavy at 10 o'clock today. Suddenly the traffic officer blew his whistle, stopped a truck and ordered two little ragamuffins, 12 or 13 years old, off the tail board. They were dirty faced little urchins, their clothes were cut downs and, as he lined them to the curb, their faces showed half defiance, half fear. He put his arm around each boy's shoulder.

"Look here, you kids; I didn't pull you off that truck to spoil a hitch for you. You're a couple of right guys and I don't want to see you hurt, that's all. You mustn't steal a ride here in the loop; it's too dangerous. You'll be killed sure. . . ."

I passed out of hearing, but the boy looks had changed from the cop-hater of the street Arab to grins. I watched them over my shoulder. After a few more words of admonition the cop returned to his post in the street with a final pat on the shoulder of each boy. Half a block away the boys turned and waved their hands at him. He good naturedly waved back when he saw them.

He's a young officer. I predict that he will go far in the department. More like him would materially reduce the hoodlum element in the city and in a few short years.

SEWAGE TREATMENT.

Oak Park, Ill., June 11.—The sanitary district proposes to build a sewage treatment plant on the southwest side of Chicago, in the district bounded by the canal and 51st street, Lavergne and Austin avenues.

As a property owner in this section I protest bitterly against it. I feel that it will not only depreciate present values from 80 to 90 per cent, but destroy the potential value of all the property in the southwest side fifty to one hundred million dollars within the next twenty years. It will literally kill that district which is ideally located for homes and business, situated as it is between two large manufacturing districts. Archer avenue is destined to become one of the main arteries of the city; Cicero avenue another.

J. MARTIN STOLBA.

THE PRICE OF MILK.

Chicago, June 12.—The price of milk has been cut from 1 to 2 cents a quart all through the east; butter prices are down. The milk companies are paying the farmer less for milk than last year. Why doesn't the milk trust reduce the price and thereby benefit consumers? They are quick in raising prices.

NATION FINDS JUSTICE LESSON IN MILWAUKEE

Court Rule Speedy, but Not Hasty.

"We keep out of Milwaukee," said a gunman to me in Chicago. "We may go up there when things get hot in another city, but we don't work there. Milwaukee courts are too fast for us."
— R. W. CHILD.

BY JAMES O'DONNELL BENNETT.

Milwaukee, Wis., June 17.—[Special.]—Judge Shaughnessy of Milwaukee has a chin like an anvil, and kind eyes.

To enter his court is like entering an orderly, earnest, serious clinic in a medical college instead of a greased pole contest of smart alecks.

He is sole administrator of Criminal justice for a city and county of 716,000 inhabitants.

He has been judge of the Municipal court for six years.

He is 45 years old.

For a clean calendar his court ranks with the Supreme court of the United States, which, as to that detail, is perfection.

On Jan. 1, 1923—the year before George A. Shaughnessy became judge of the Municipal court—there were 971 pending cases on its calendar. Some of them had been awaiting trial for three years or more.

On Jan. 1, this year, there were seven pending cases on Judge Shaughnessy's calendar, and the oldest of the seven was a week old.

Few Cases Transferred.

Of 1,845 cases he disposed of last year only eleven were transferred to the Circuit court for trial, and seven of those were against one defendant.

On the first day of this year there were in the Milwaukee County jail only five prisoners awaiting trial in the Municipal court, and four of these had been offered the opportunity of trial.

Among lawyers who appear before Judge Shaughnessy, such a ruse as a continuance for purposes of stalling is unheard of. They know their judge. They know that at the utmost he will grant a continuance for a week or ten days. Hence the attorneys are ready.

Furthermore—and this is a vital point—there are no professional bondsmen in Milwaukee. The calendar is clean. Hence cases are brought to trial in a very few days. Nothing is to be gained by a defendant who gets out an bail. Thus is a quantity of human vermin eliminated from legal procedure in Milwaukee. I mean bond sharks.

Gives All Credit to Judge.

Judge Shaughnessy's record has been crowned. At its annual meeting in Memphis last October the American Bar association reported Milwaukee as having the smallest number of crimes, per thousand of population, of any large city in the United States and the largest number of convictions in proportion to the number of arrests.

What has brought to Milwaukee within six years a cleaned up criminal calendar and its accompanying blessings?

I asked a score of citizens and they said "Judge Shaughnessy."

I asked Judge Shaughnessy and he said "Diligence," adding, "and the loyal cooperation of court, police and district attorney."

When this remarkable jurist and humanitarian ascended the bench in July, 1924, he looked into the faces of the attorneys—right into their faces—and said, "The hour for the opening of court is changed from 10 o'clock to 9. Nine means 9."

To court attachés he said, "I am going to clean up the calendar." The probation officer and others remarked under their breath, "He either is crazy or soon will be."

He is not crazy yet.

Chicago Lawyer Amazed.

In six years he has never been late for the 9 o'clock opening of court. In the first year bets were made that he soon would be late. Now there are no takers. The entire bar, all jurors, all witnesses, have learned that 9 means 9 and they are in court three minutes before 9. In most Chicago courts, 10 means 10:30, with adjournment at 12:30 for luncheon, and not infrequently the clerk has to tell the lawyers at 2:30 "the judge just telephoned he won't sit this afternoon." The regular hours of the Municipal court in Milwaukee are 9 to 12 mornings, and 2 to 5 afternoons. Never fewer. But frequently more. On some of these warm June days Judge Shaughnessy has been sitting from 8:30 to 12:30 mornings and 1:30 to 6:30 afternoons.

The day, May 23, when I was privileged to watch him at work was one of his short days—9 to 12, and 1:30 to 3, but in those 4 hours and a half the court made eleven dispositions and held 19 trials. A Chicago lawyer who studied with me at the end of the day the disposition and trial chart, on which there were no trivial matters, said, "At home we would have taken two or three weeks over this amount of business." He was amazed.

Even with the utmost diligence on the part of the judge, this court's record of more than 1,800 cases annually disposed of could not be achieved if (1) Wisconsin law did not permit the defendant in a felony case to waive trial by jury; (2) if the grand jury system were not, so far as the Municipal court is concerned, practically done away with; (3) if Judge Shaughnessy himself had not assumed the heavy responsibility of taking charge of his own calendar and setting all cases for trial, and (4) if the judge himself did not examine jurors as to their qualifications, the attorneys being permitted to ask additional questions if necessary.

Grand Juries an Exception.

All those measures are time savers and they mean:

(1) That jury trials would not be waived to the extraordinary extent they are waived—611 waivers in 1929 as against 104 jury trials—unless the local bar had implicit confidence in Judge Shaughnessy; (2) that only special occasions are considered by the judge to warrant the calling of grand juries. Instead, all complaints are made direct to the district attorney. In 12 years only two grand juries have been called—one in 1922 and one last year; (3) that the keeping of the calendar by a nonpartisan judge reduces the peril of political influence in obtaining delays—which always favor the guilty—helps to keep the calendar clean, and insures early preparation for a trial on the part of both prosecuting and defending attorneys; [4] that, as a result of examination of jurors by the judge, they get a jury within an hour, even in a sensational murder trial.

Such is the machinery of this court. Its spirit is lofty.

No slangwhanging among counsel disgraces his court. On almost his first day on the Municipal bench he remarked curtly to an obstreperous attorney, "None of these side remarks to counsel now." The anvil chin gave the order lasting effect.

Emphatic as he is, George A. Shaughnessy is not that shoddy pet of sensation seeking reporters, a slambang judge. "My men" said George T. Primm, a pensioned Chicago police lieutenant, who became chief of police in Appleton, Wis., "picked up some Chicago shoplifters working here, and I asked them why they had come so far. 'Why didn't you work in Milwaukee?' I asked, 'it's closer to Chicago and the picking ought to be better?' 'No Milwaukee for us,' one of them replied, 'all that Judge Shaughnessy can say is "twenty years."'"

The anecdote is illustrative but not just, and Judge Shaughnessy resents it. "Please don't think," he said, "that we send them all to prison. We have a wonderful probation department and I place between 450 and 600 first offenders on probation every year.

"We believe in speedy and certain justice but not in hasty justice—and we believe that there is no justification for the gunman."

Wins Confidence of Prisoners.

"And," he added, "I don't let a man leave the courtroom without knowing why the particular sentence was imposed. As a result, even when the guilty are sent to prison they do not hesitate to write to the judge for advice while there or to apply to him for assistance when they are released."

Now what do they all come to—the decorum, the diligence, the vigor of this court. Here is an incident in answer:

Not long ago three Chicago gunmen went to Milwaukee and with loaded revolvers committed a night holdup. They immediately started for Chicago but were arrested before they could get out of Milwaukee. Before noon of the next day they had each been sentenced to 30 years at Waupun and they were taken there the same afternoon.

One suggestion: Make the judge send you copies of some of his remarkable addresses on the decent and efficient administration of criminal courts. They are fraught with lessons for Chicago.

DOG WHICH WON WAR MEDAL AND SOLDIER'S PENSION PUT TO DEATH

Dennison, O., June 17.—(AP)—Preparations were made today for the military funeral of Bing, world war hero and the only dog said to have been decorated for services with the American expeditionary force in France. Gas he inhaled in the trenches as a puppy nearly 12 years ago, together with his advanced age, made it necessary to chloroform him.

Bing's body will be interred in the soldiers' plot in Urichsville Union cemetery, but his skin will be preserved and mounted by a taxidermist.

The dog was the only canine to receive a bonus from the United States government. He was assigned $60 a month as a soldier's pension.

Bing's citation was from the French government for his act in saving battery D of the 136th field artillery from gas. The dog, a bulldog, was the property of Ernest Gray, a member of the company he saved from gas.

ANOTHER WET RISING AFOOT IN NO. DAKOTA

Townley Raises Banner of Repeal.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Fargo, N. D., June 17.—[Special.]—North Dakota, which made America rub its eyes two years ago by coming within an eyelash of throwing prohibition out of its state constitution, is planning another effort in November. A rural revolt against Volsteadism in a state which has been constitutionally bone dry since it became a state more than forty years ago is preparing to move into the foreground after the primaries June 25.

High lights of the primary battle are:

An effort by the Nonpartisan leaguers to defeat Gov. George E. Shafer, an independent, as the "regulars" style themselves out here, in the Republican primaries and capture control of the state industrial commission.

A campaign by A. C. Townley, founder of the league some fifteen years ago, to be nominated for congress in the Third district.

Townley's Power About Gone.

Townley no longer cuts much figure in the league, and he is running against Congressman James H. Sinclair, a leaguer, who has the support of Senator Gerald P. Nye and other league leaders. The independent candidate is S. Hendrickson. Townley is running as a wet in a wet district, but the politicians look for Sinclair to win.

The independents are playing up league history, pointing to the two million dollars the state borrowed on a bond to start the Bank of North Dakota and which was sunk, leaving the taxpayers still paying off the bonds. They dwell on the loss of $400,000 in the home building association, a state venture under the league, which the taxpayers will finish paying for this year. They mention the state mill, against which a four million bond issue is still outstanding.

The argument Gov. Shafer and the independents are stressing is:

"The league put the state into business and into debt. The independents are trying to get the state out of business and out of debt."

League's Redness Fades.

In the last eight years or so a vast change has come over the league. It is now little more than a party faction. The extremists and ultra-radicals blew them when the pickings grew lean. The redness faded to seashell pink.

The league candidate against Gov. Shafer is E. H. Brant of Linton. Senators Frazier and Nye are supporting the league ticket. Shafer is regarded as a contender against Senator Nye two years hence.

The Democratic state convention at Jamestown recently adopted a plank for repeal of state prohibition.

SCHALL EASY WINNER OVER CHRISTIANSON IN MINNESOTA PRIMARY

St. Paul, Minn., June 17.—(AP)—Thomas D. Schall, blind United States senator, piled up a heavy margin of votes for the Republican nomination for reelection as returns from yesterday's primary election rolled in.

With reports from more than half of the state's precincts, Schall had a lead of 65,000 votes which threatened to swell to more than 100,000. Returns from 2,479 precincts out of 3,698 in the state gave Gov. Theodore Christianson 129,786 votes, Schall, 194,633, and John F. Selb, 18,565.

White Wins in Maine.

Portland, Me., June 17.—[Special.]—Congressman Wallace H. White Jr. of Lewiston, won the Republican nomination for the United States senate in the Monday primary election by approximately 9,000 votes over former Gov. Ralph M. Brewster of Dexter.

REVOLT RAGES IN BOLIVIA; ALL CITIES UP IN ARMS

BUENOS AIRES, June 17.—(AP)—The Argentine vice-consul at Villazon, Bolivia, today telegraphed the chancellery from La Quiaca that a serious revolutionary situation existed throughout Bolivia. He heard reports that insurrection had broken out in all the big cities.

His message said Roberto Hinojosa, young radical leader, whose followers this morning captured Villazon, just over the Bolivian border from La Quiaca, was acting in conjunction with a revolutionary coalition from northern Bolivia. "Soviet agents" were said to have instigated the attack.

Three Wounded in Attack.

The Argentine vice-consul informed his chancellery that "all government authorities were forcibly removed from office at Villazon, and three persons were slightly wounded. Great tension reigns there. Commercial houses and two hotels were raided, and money and goods looted."

The commissioner of police went over to the insurgents at Villazon and aided in the seizure of government funds and levying of charges on business firms. Argentine customs officials at La Quiaca blocked an attempt to run arms and ammunition for the insurgents over the frontier. They confiscated more than 20,000 rounds of ammunition and 46 rifles.

Advance on Another City.

Railway communication from La Quiaca northward was suspended. Hinojosa's agents declared that railway workers had joined the insurgents in the state of Oruro, south of La Paz, and had interrupted traffic.

Hinojosa and his followers advanced through the sparsely settled country of lower Bolivia toward Tupiza tonight. Communication with La Paz has been cut.

REDS STIR RIOT IN LITHUANIAN ASSEMBLY HERE

Communists Ejected by Squad of Police.

Capt. Michael Delaney of the Deering Street Police station and thirty patrolmen quelled a riot yesterday when a group of communists tried to seize control of the convention of the Lithuanian Alliance of America at 3133 South Halsted street.

The alliance is said to be a national fraternal society with approximately $1,500,000 in its treasury. Dissension marked the opening of the convention Monday and after President S. Geguzis of Pennsylvania made several efforts to gavel the meeting into order the convention was adjourned until yesterday.

It was said the group of communists has been trying for several years to gain control of the organization. This year the Red faction is represented mostly by women, many of whom, it is charged, were brought to Chicago to control the convention or break it up.

The alliance meeting was in session yesterday only for a brief time when the communist group began to heckle the chairman and the speakers.

Clashes between the conservatives and radicals followed. A riot call brought Capt. Delaney and his reserve squad to the scene. One young woman radical began to fight the police and in the struggle she bit the hand of Patrolman Michael Fahey of the Deering street station. The hand was bandaged at a nearby physician's office and the policeman returned in time to see thirty radicals loaded into police patrols.

Population of California Increases Over 65.6 Percent

San Francisco, Cal., June 17.—(AP)—Compilation today by the Associated Press of official census figures for all but three of California's fifty-eight counties indicated the state's population growth for the last decade was approximately 65.6 per cent. With Humboldt, Butte and Sierra counties yet to report, enumerators have already counted 5,562,654 persons, or 2,205,000 more than were in the entire state in 1920.

If the three counties merely maintain their combined 1920 census total of 69,226 the present state population would be approximately 5,632,000. If, however, the average increase by the other fifty counties be returned, California's 1930 figure will be approximately 5,675,000.

St. Louis Figures Revised.

St. Louis., Mo., June 17.—(AP)—Revised figures announced today give St. Louis a population of 818,252, an increase of 45,355 since 1920. The preliminary total was 817,334. The new figure includes absentees, but does not include any additions from the chamber of commerce's list of 31,000 persons believed to have been missed.

Nebraska Has 1,386,619.

Lincoln, Neb., June 17.—(AP)—Revised preliminary census returns today gave Nebraska a 1930 population of 1,386,619. District federal census supervisors have announced the preliminary counts in all counties of the state. The 1930 count is an increase of 90,247, or 6.9 per cent over the 1920 census, 1,296,372.

Indianapolis Total, 362564.

Indianapolis, Ind., June 17.—Recording an increase of 15.39 per cent during the last decade, the 1930 population of Indianapolis tonight was estimated by census officials at 362,564. The 1920 total was 314,194, showing an increase of 48,370.

FRENCH SECRETLY BEHEAD 13 FOR COLONY MUTINY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, June 17.—Thirteen Indo-Chinese leaders, found guilty of instigating the mutiny of Yenbay in which five French officers were killed and five were wounded, were executed at dawn today a short distance from the scene of their crime. Fearing an uprising, the men were kept in the fortress at Hanoi until the last minute.

The train was met by a covered truck guarded by French soldiers with rifles and tear bombs. Another truck transported the guillotine to the market place, and the men were led up to kneel under the knives as fast as the bodies of their predecessors could be removed.

Mary Wilder Drops Plea for Divorce; Happy Again

Mrs. Mary Scott Wilder, who two weeks ago filed suit for divorce, alleging mental cruelty, against Paul Wilder, wealthy broker, is again living with her husband in their Lake Forest home, it was learned yesterday. "I have ordered the suit dismissed," she said. "I got to thinking of our young son. Paul and I talked it over and decided that for his sake we should adjust our differences. Since we were reconciled we have been happier than ever."

After the First Twenty-five Thousand Miles

THE VALUE of sound design, good materials and careful craftsmanship is especially apparent in the new Ford after the first twenty-five thousand miles. Long, continuous service emphasizes its mechanical reliability and economy of operation and up-keep.

As you drive the Ford through many months and years you will develop an increasing pride in its appearance and a growing respect for the substantial worth that has been built into it. From every standpoint—in everything that goes to make a good automobile—you will know that you have made a far-seeing, satisfactory purchase.

Wherever you go, you hear enthusiastic praise of the car and this significant, oft-repeated phrase—"I'm glad I bought a Ford."

A FORD owner in New York tells of a 13,000-mile trip across the United States and back in sixty days and says "the car was extremely economical to operate, comfortable and speedy." A grateful father tells how the Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield saved his wife and children from serious injury in an automobile collision.

To test tires, a large company drove a new Ford day and night, for an average of 500 miles every twenty-four hours. It was still giving satisfactory service after 105,000 miles.

A Ford car that had fallen into Fernan Lake was submerged for twelve days before being raised. After a new battery and carburetor bowl were installed, it was driven back to Spokane under its own power.

Many police departments have written of the special advantages of the Ford in crowded traffic because of its alert speed, acceleration and ease of control. An increasing number of fleet owners are also purchasing the Ford because their cost figures have given conclusive proof of its economy of operation and up-keep.

In addition to important triumphs in Germany, France and Italy, the Ford won six out of seven leading places in a contest in Finland, first and second in the Rafaela races in Argentina, first and second in the run from Copenhagen-to-Paris-to-Copenhagen, three gold medals in England, first ranking in the durability test over the tortuous Amancaes road in Peru, and first place in the 1930 reliability run conducted by the Royal Automobile Club of Sweden.

This contest was an exceptionally severe test of endurance and sturdy construction because it was held in the dead of winter and covered 600 miles of steady running over snow-covered country roads and mountainous hills.

STRIBLING vs. VON PORAT.

WINNER of the Young Stribling-Otto Von Porat bout at the stadium Friday night cannot be the logical contender against Herr Max Schmeling in the next title bout. That is their misfortune. The reason is because the German schlager's right to the championship will be clouded until he has disposed of Jack Sharkey.

VITTORIO CAMPOLO

If victory is in any way decisive, however, the winner will be at the top rank of potential challengers. Perhaps he will be esteemed a match for Vittorio Campolo who, in our opinion, was most promising of those in the bouts preliminary to the Sharkey-Scott fiasco at Miami last winter. If the suspension ban is raised, Carnera, whom Stribling has met twice, each bout ending in foul, with winners reversed, also must be considered a factor.

Young Stribling, known as the "Georgia School Boy" until long after school age, several times has looked toward the title. His record is more impressive than Von Porat's, although Otto is hailed as a knocker-out.

Stribling's best chance to reach the higher flight was against Sharkey a year ago last winter in Miami. The Wake thought different ring tactics possibly might have landed a decision which went to Boston Jack.

At the time we wondered whether there was too much "family" at the camp. "Pa" Stribling was manager, "Ma" did the timekeeping in training bouts, W. L. III. furnished amusement to camp customers by his childish acrobatic stunts, while Mrs. W. L. Jr. frequently watched the proceedings. Thought of family and fighting do not ordinarily mix well. If there was too much family support, it was loyal support anyway.

While not champion, Stribling has been one of the most industrious glove wielders in the business. He does not wait a year between battles. In fact he does not regard two opponents a month more than ordinary business. As a result, Young Stribling is another whose ring earnings have carried him to a comfortable fortune.

Von Porat has looked great at times. At other times just the reverse. This Swedish born young chap of 27, classed as a Norwegian racially, has a reputation as a knocker-out. He has ranged along in the second flight and just as it seemed he might get somewhere he lost on a foul to Phil Scott, the Briton.

Von Porat is dangerous if he lands. He will meet a clever, experienced fighter in Stribling. It could be a great battle. It also could be tame if Stribling elects to outpoint his man for a decision, and Von Porat is unable or unwilling to force the issue.

STRIBLING HURTS HAND; POSTPONE VON PORAT BOUT

Agrees to Fight Friday to Avoid Suspension.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

Young Stribling and Otto von Porat, who were scheduled to fight teh rounds tonight at the Stadium, will meet Friday night instead. The two day postponement was agreed upon yesterday by the Stadium officials and managers of both fighters when Pa Stribling asserted his son had injured his left hand in training.

Stribling at first asked the fight be held over until next week or until June 30. The demand was refused by Sidney Strotz, president of the Stadium corporation. The principals then adjourned to the offices of the Illinois Athletic commission.

The commissioners heard the report of their physician, Dr. John S. Sweeney, who examined Young Stribling's hand. He reported the hand was not broken and that the fighter could enter the ring tonight.

"There is a noticeable flabbiness about the hand, because it has been in a cast for several days," the doctor said, "but X-ray photos show the bones are not fractured."

Stribling Ordered to Fight.

The commissioners, Gen. John V. Clinnin, George Getz, and Fred Gardner, then ruled Stribling must go through with the fight or face an indefinite suspension.

The two day postponement was a compromise. Strotz and the managers signed new contracts, identical with the originals except the date.

"We do not wish to force Stribling to fight if he is not in condition," Mr. Strotz said yesterday. "However, we believe the additional training will put him in shape. The change also will insure the public against an inferior exhibition."

Ed Stevenson, Von Porat's manager, who earlier in the negotiations for the match attempted to withdraw after verbal agreement to terms, accepted the postponement. After the commission had suspended him and his fighter for six months on that occasion, he signed the contracts and the suspension was lifted at the request of the Stadium.

Injures Hand Boxing.

"The sprain was a recurrence of an injury four months ago," Mr. Stribling said. "Since then he has fought twice, the last time winning a decision over Frankie Wine in Birmingham. We thought the hand was healed. Then he hurt it last week when he clouted Mike on the head with a left hook.

"Dr. C. R. G. Forrester has been treating the hand and it was placed in a cast when we went to New York. The cast was removed when we returned, and yesterday my son tested it in his gymnasium drills. Finding it still pained him I decided to ask for a postponement."

Delay Costs $5,000.

The postponement will cost the Stadium $5,000, officials said yesterday. International Rotary has leased the building for six days, beginning Monday, and the contract calls for the Stadium to be turned over to decorators Thursday. A special stage will be erected and the Stadium agreed to pay these expenses if the Rotarians permit the work to begin Friday at midnight.

The advance sale for the fight totaled $60,000 at noon yesterday. Even with a prospect of a sell out, which would gross $94,000, the Stadium's profit on the promotion will be less than anticipated because of two postponements.

The fight was advertised originally for June 16, and tickets were printed for that date. These expenses were duplicated when the date was changed to tonight. This second change also may affect the seat sale, although Stadium officials were not of this opinion yesterday.

Carnera May Break Tradition and Fight Godfrey on Level

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, June 17.—The return of Prima Carnera and his coterie of interesting young business men is arousing much interest just now and the attendance at his prize fight with George Godfrey, the large Negro, in Philadelphia next Monday evening will prove again that the customers scrupulous, and mysterious.

PRIMO CARNERA.

Philadelphia is a sort of hell's half acre of the prize fighting trade, where there has never been any serious pretense at scrupulosity. The chairman and the only really diligent member of the prize fight commission, Mr. Frank Weiner, observed some time ago that the business had taken on the character of a racket in his jurisdiction during his time and this admission, far from alienating the customers, only stimulated their interest.

Will Draw Outside Fans.

Carnera's prize fight with Godfrey probably will draw more out of town trade than any other prize fight ever held in Philadelphia with the one exception of the first Tunney-Dempsey performance. That one, of course had the benefit of Jack Dempsey's drawing power, Tex Rickard's showmanship and the lure of the heavyweight championship as well as some sordid goings-on all its own.

Primo will draw the patrons because he is now prominently established as the racketeers' own champion. He has been barred almost everywhere else by orders of the various prize fighting commissions, and this fact and the evidence upon which he was declared to be undesirable make him an interesting artist.

I have been told that Godfrey positively refuses to hold still for Primo and will do his utmost to defeat him, but the patrons, of course, will be gazing at the exhibition with suspicion and pleasure, hoping to detect some cue or high sign at which Godfrey will poise himself, take off and go into the water as Primo's other adversaries have done. The customer takes a singular pride in his shrewdness, and he often calls the turn correctly, but he also pays his money for the privilege, so the satisfaction is general.

Others Will Reinstate Him.

If Primo defeats Godfrey, as I am given to understand he undoubtedly will, it will only be a matter of time, probably less than a year, until the other boxing commissions including the New York commission decide that he has atoned for his ethical lapses out along the line and authorize him to do business in their various jurisdictions again. He will become a formidable heavyweight and the business considerations in the prize fight industry are such that it is impossible to exclude formidable heavyweights permanently.

Max Schmeling was not nearly as impressive nor as interesting as Primo, and he was readmitted to practice in New York less than one year after he had been banished for the rest of his life when it presently appeared that he and Jack Sharkey could draw the greatest gate of the year. The same traits or offenses that made Schmeling undesirable last fall would seem to make him undesirable now, for the young man has neither changed nor repented, and it would be an unfair discrimination to withhold the same generous forgiveness from Primo.

In some quarters I hear the Carnera-Godfrey prize fight is to be waged strictly on the level, as Primo's board of directors have decided to take a gambling chance at last to see whether they own a prize fighter or just a monstrosity who should be turned over to Mr. Ringling for his side show.

It's Hard to Believe.

But this is hard to believe and I repeat the rumor with the greatest hesitancy, believing it unjust to Primo's firm, who have yet to be accused of doing anything on the level, in a tour from this coast to the other one and back. The boys have made a remarkable record, humbling Joe Lynch's record nineteen prize fights with one sparring partner who used nineteen different names, and it would be regrettable to mar their achievement with a square fight now.

I am erratic in my judgments of prize fighters and it is my perverse notion that Primo Carnera can lick any heavyweight now in practice except Jack Sharkey and Victorio Campolo, who are just rugged enough to stand up to him and belt him back until his features become indistinguishable.

Schmeling could not beat him because Schmeling is small and goes at his work like a taught golfer remembering all his lessons at every shot. Primo is as big as Jess Willard, but he scampers about the ring with the most surprising agility, and when he has bumped into a fighter weighing 185 pounds four or five times, the shock of the collisions subdues the victim.

CUBS' FINAL WITH GIANTS RAINED OUT; HOME TODAY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, June 17.—The Cubs profited today by rainfall that prevented their final engagement with the Giants. Shortly after luncheon the local bosses decided that it was no day for brisk business at the turnstiles and it was a break for the champions in two different ways. For one thing, they were shy on pitching talent for the day, and on top of this the postponement made it easy for them to catch an early train which will unload them in Chicago tomorrow afternoon.

The champs will start entertaining eastern clubs at Wrigley field Thursday. The Braves will be the first to call around.

Japanese Davis Cup Team Defeats Czechoslovakia, 3-1

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, June 17.—(AP)—Japan clinched its Davis cup tennis series with Czechoslovakia today when Takeichi Harada defeated Jan Kozeluh, 6-2, 6-3, 6-2. This gave the Japanese the necessary three victories and carried them into the European zone final where they will oppose the Italians for the right to play the Americans in the interzone final.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

The luscious series the White Sox had anticipated with the arrival of the miserable Boston Red Sox yesterday turned out to be 100 per cent wormwood and gall for the said White Sox. Boston swept the series by taking the final of the home stay, 8 to 5.

While our nine was staggering around on the road some time back the optimists in the entourage voiced the comforting prophecy that "Once the boys get back on the home lot they will steady." This prophecy turned out to be a little fuzzy, for in the home stay the poor fellows lost eight games while winning four. It is a singular item that the only club that swept a series was the tail end Red Sox, and the only club that lost more than one game to the Sox was the world champion Athletics, who split a four game series, thus giving the home fellows half of their total accumulation of wins during the invasion of eastern clubs.

Play Senators Tomorrow.

The Sox left after yesterday's humiliation for Washington, where tomorrow they will play the Senators, deal out uniforms to Garland Braxton and Benny Tate, and change their signals so the Great Shires can't catch onto their sly maneuvers, if any.

The game yesterday was just a wee bit more disgraceful than any of the previous foldups of the Sox. They yielded six runs in the first two innings, during the course of which Ed Walsh and Hal McKain gave masterful emonstrations of how baseballs should not be pitched to batsmen.

Caraway pitched the last seven innings and yielded two runs, one in the fifth on a double and a triple, and another in the seventh, which was not his fault, seeing as how Clancy lost the ball in a cumulus cloud, there being no sun at the time.

Though it may seem to White Sox fans like prodding an ulcerated tooth, journalistic duty requires that we set down the details of Boston's first and second innings.

Oliver flied to Watwood to start the game but Sweeney singled through the box. Scarritt then tripled to left, scoring Sweeney. Webb doubled, scoring Scarritt. Miller flied to Jolley and Narlesky grounded out to Clancy.

McKain Replaces Walsh.

Rhyne launched the second inning by grounding out to Cissell, but Berry singled and so did Gaston, whereupon Walsh resigned at the suggestion of Manager Bush. McKain went in and walked Oliver to fill the bases. Then he walked Sweeney to force Berry across. McKain finally located the plate and when he did so Scarritt knocked a single which scored Gaston and Oliver. McKain gave up and Weiland went in. Webb flied to Kerr, and Miil singled to center, scoring Sweeney. Scarritt tried to reach third

ANOTHER GREAT CIVIC SETBACK

BY ARCH WARD.

THE heavyweight prize fight which was to have been committed west of the loop tonight has been postponed. Showing no concern for the mental anguish he is inflicting on the citizenry, Young Stribling decided he was not in condition to cross knuckles with Otto Von Porat. The commission physician ruled that he was. So for a reason quite vague to this department Stribling opines he will be in shape to keep his appointment Friday.

YOUNG STRIBLING.

Something always seems to happen to these big fistic enterprises. You read in the first edition that everything is set for one of the greatest battles in pugilistic history. Then in the sports final you read it was all a mistake.

Civic leaders preach that it is a healthy sign when the public becomes steamed up about great issues such as gang warfare and flask toting. Whether Stribling and Von Porat as an issue rate with either of these, we are not prepared to say, but they seem to have been provocative of nearly as much argument.

Possibly a victory for either would make the winner stand out as a rival for Max Schmeling. This, of course, is of great importance. Perhaps that is why Mr. Stribling thinks it is best not to rush matters of such consequence too swiftly.

Cubs Still Up There.

The Cubs are homeward bound from eastern diamonds in almost the same position in the pennant fight as when they left two weeks ago. When they opened their invasion in Boston June 3 they were three games behind Brooklyn. This morning they are trailing by three and a half. Not bad for a club that has suffered the loss of Hornsby and Carlson.

The Cubs' ability to keep up there in the face of hard luck is one of the surprises of the National league race. The club's pitching has been in and out, mostly out. But the team still is hitting the ball. That's why it won eight games while losing five on eastern soil.

William Veeck, president of the Cubs, reports that Rogers Hornsby will be able to rejoin the club in about three weeks. Perhaps the Rajah's absence is a blessing in disguise. He kept on playing in spite of the trouble with his heel he might have left himself open for permanent injury. Now he is letting nature mend both his ankle and his heel. The club has kept in the running without him. If he is able to rejoin his mates for the dash down the home stretch, chances are bright for the Cubs repeating as National league champions.

Maj. John L. Griffith, commissioner of athletics in the Western conference, is the author of the following contribution:

"The day before I read your recent criticism regarding the poor visibility of the events at the National Collegiate track meet I had written Amos Stagg suggesting that next year we try to start and finish all the races on the far side of the track. None of the football stadia that I know of has been built with a view to the comfort of spectators at track and field meets.

"I have attempted to watch the races from seats near the finish line at Soldiers' field and at Northwestern university and I had the same difficulty that you had at Stagg field. Further, I sat in the stands at Harvard at the final Olympic tryout a few years ago and I found out that their stadium was not unlike stadia out this way.

"The only answer to this problem that I can see is the one I have suggested."

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

HOYLAKE, England, June 17.—Led by the veteran English professional, Archie Compston, 112 golfers out of a field of nearly 300 today survived the 36 hole qualifying round of the British Open tournament. Compston, with a 71 added to his 70 of yesterday, turned in the lowest qualifying score of many years, his 141 beating by three strokes the medal score of 144 made by Leo Diegel, American professional champion, last year.

Scores on the whole were the lowest of any qualifying round since the war. Heretofore 160 has been sufficient to qualify, but today, under the pressure of the stiffest competition in a decade, the maximum score to qualify for the championship round, which starts tomorrow, was 158.

Eight Yanks Qualify.

Eight Americans qualified out of the ten who finished the two 18 hole rounds. Diegel, who tied for second place yesterday with a 70, dropped to fourth with 75 for 149, four places behind Compston, but still ahead of the other invading Americans by several strokes.

George Von Elm, second ranking amateur, stood sixth with a 71 and 76 for 147 in a group of four which included Cyril Tolley, last year's British amateur champion and member of the Walker cup team.

Bobby Jones had a bad day, finishing twentieth in the list. He did not extend himself, however, and landed among the qualifiers, adding today's card of 77 to yesterday's 73 for 150. Standing ahead of him is MacDonald Smith in the 148 division, and with him and five others in the 150 group is Jim Barnes, who trimmed yesterday's card of 77 to a 73 today.

After them came Horton Smith, one stroke behind. The young Missouri pro's rounds were easy with 75 and 76. Don Moe, the youngest ranking American amateur, had a bad 80 today and landed far behind in a group scoring 155 after yesterday's round at 75.

The other American to qualify was F. C. Stevens, an amateur from the Lakeside club, whose card read 79—78—157.

Cotton Second with 143.

Henry Cotton, who is a member of a family of British professionals, and who has won a number of second rate competitions in Great Britain, took second place among the qualifiers with 143. W. T. Twine, the Kent champion whose 68 yesterday was the best score in the qualifying rounds, finished third with 144. After him are Leo Diegel and Percy Allis, British champion of Germany.

Tom Green, Midland champion, is tied with Von Elm and Cyril Tolley at 147. Two brothers who are among the strongest professionals playing in England are bracketed with MacDonald Smith. They are C. A. and F. R. Whitcombe. Abe Mitchell, England's hope to win this cup for his country for the first time since 1923, had 149.

George Duncan, who broke the string of American victories the only time since the war, finished with a lagging 156 among several others of supposed class.

The two days of golf finished with an uproar, supposedly released by Diegel, against the treatment the Britons are giving the professionals. They are not welcome in the clubhouse of the Royal Liverpool club and must sit on a bench outside while waiting to play. Paid golfers who want a glass of beer are forced to the back entrance of the lunch tent marked "Professionals Only." They are shooed from the clubhouse by guards standing at all doors.

Pros Eat Separately.

The professionals also have been given a separate place to eat in a tent. The officials said that to give permission to all professionals, who form a big majority of the entrants, to use the clubhouse is impossible because of the number, but the amateurs are given free run of the premises. The same rule applies throughout England where pros are still nothing but paid workman, it was pointed out.

Both Jones and Von Elm played good golf only in spots today, and Bobby called his "the worst round I ever played in England." Jones dropped strokes all along for his 77, and was particularly weak and uncertain with his approaches. A big gallery followed as he crossed the greens and witnessed his worst play of the day at the seventh hole.

He was over the green into the Gehrig Hits His 18th Home Run.

Cleveland, O., June 17.—(AP)—The New York Yankees continued their heavy bombardment of Cleveland pitchers today, taking the third and last game of the series, 17 to 2. Twenty-one hits, including Lou Gehrig's eighteenth homer of the season, rang off the Yankee bats as Clint Brown, Pete Jablonowski, Ken Holloway, and Sal Gliatto paraded from the bullpen to the pitcher's mound and back again. Roy Sherid went the route for the Yanks, holding the Indians to seven hits. Score:

FATHER IS SOLE MOURNER AT SEGRAVE RITES

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, June 17.—The body of the late Sir Henry O. D. Segrave, world's greatest racer, who was killed while breaking the water record last Friday, was cremated today at Golders Green, a suburb of this city.

More than 200 wreaths were received at the Segrave home before the funeral, but only four of these were placed in the hearse, the remainder being laid on the cenotaph, Great Britain's monument to its war dead.

Only two cars followed the hearse bearing a plain oak coffin. The first of these was empty, and the second contained the racer's father, Lord Wakefield, the sole mourner. Sir Henry's widow and mother were not present at the cremation.

Husky Crews Take 3 Races from Badgers

Madison, Wis., June 17.—(AP)—University of Washington crews were on their way to the Poughkeepsie regatta tonight after beating Wisconsin—the midwest's hope—in three races here today.

Exhibiting all the power and rowing skill that made them Pacific coast champions, the Washington varsity eight swept over a two mile course in 10:14 to shatter all records for that distance here. The Badgers stroked the course in 10:25.

Backing up Washington's varsity oarsmen were the junior varsity and freshmen crews, both of which beat out the Badger shells over the rain and windswept course. The victorious junior varsity and freshmen crews negotiated the course in 10:32.5 and 10:36 respectively. The Badgers came through in 11 and 10:46.

Varsity Wins by 3 Lengths.

The record-breaking time of the Husky senior boat stamped the westerners as a real threat for the rowing classic on the Hudson on June 26. With long powerful sweeps, the varsity eight jumped into an early lead never to be headed. Wisconsin spurted at the half way mark when a length and a half separated the two shells but the effort was repulsed by the westerners. At the finish mark the Huskies were almost three lengths ahead of the Badgers.

Badger Spurt Fails.

Power and coördination were evident as the Huskies' first boat swept to victory over the best Wisconsin produced this year.

Both crews started with a stroke of 34 but quickly raised the count to 36, pulling desperately for an early lead. Washington's superiority soon became apparent as its shell crept away from the Badgers. At the quarter the Husky seniors held a boat length lead and at the half the distance had grown to a length and a half.

The Badgers spurted, raising the stroke to 38 and finally to 40 but the Huskies were not to be headed. Working like one unit, the westerners pulled away, crossing the finish line almost three lengths ahead.

Appoint Two New Stewards at Arlington

The appointment of two new officials for the race meeting at the Arlington Park track was announced yesterday by the Arlington Park Jockey club. George Brown Jr., steward, representing the Maryland Jockey club, has been appointed steward at Arlington, and H. P. Conkling, also of Maryland, was appointed steward to represent the National Steeplechase and Hunt association at Arlington's steeplechase events.

Brown will succeed Martin Nathanson. Both Brown and Conkling are well known in eastern turf circles.

Improved transportation and terminal facilities will expedite the movement of crowds between Chicago and the race track during the meeting, which opens on June 30. The Chicago and North Western railroad has built a third track which will be used exclusively in the special race train service during the meeting. As the crowd will be moving out of the city in the early afternoon and toward the city in the evening, there will be no conflict with the regular suburban service and no delays in train service.

The running time of the race specials will be less than 30 minutes. New platforms at the race course will obviate crowding in loading and unloading trains, accommodating five trains at once this year where only one could be handled last year.

BOXING BOARD REJECTS MOORE AS O'NEILL FOE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Milwaukee, Wis., June 17.—The state athletic commission this afternoon turned thumbs down on Jacky Moore, Chicago 142 pounder, as the proposed opponent for Mickey O'Neill in a ten round bout on the Blue Mound A. C. show Friday night. Secretary W. H. Leginge, explained that Moore lacked class and a record and recommended Georgie Balduc, the Canadian lightweight, as a suitable substitute. Balduc and his manager Jack Laken, have been in Milwaukee two weeks.

Paul Pantaleo, the big Chicago boy, arrived this afternoon to complete training for his bout with King Levinsky Friday night, but didn't work out. Tomorrow he will resume conditioning at the Ace gymnasium. Levinsky boxed six rounds with Red Bergner, the Bostonian, and showed improvement in fighting technique. He experienced little trouble finding openings for rights and lefts against the 196 pounder. Levinsky will transfer his training activities to Tom Neary's gymnasium tomorrow.

rough with his second stroke. He tried to play shots up hill in order to get a better back roll to the hole, but his ball stuck in the grass, still short of the green. He played a chip shot for four, and was down with two putts for a six, the second one he has had in two days. He was out in 40, but played one over fours in coming home.

Von Elm Four Over Par.

Von Elm was four over par for the first four holes, bunkering his iron shot on the first for a five, muffing his iron and three putting on the third for a six, and missing the green from the tee on the short fourth. He played level par the rest of the way.

Don Moe was in the rough and bunkered repeatedly all the way around. He putted three on the sixteenth for a six. He was four over par going out with 40, and was five over coming to the eighteenth, where he struck the pin with his second shot and went down with one putt for a birdie three and another 40.

Diegel was still burning the fairway at the twelfth hole and, with leadership of the field in sight, he went to pieces. He had only one four the rest of the way. The remainder was made up of fives and he was getting them only by dropping long putts.

The next stage of the tournament will consist of two days' play of 18 holes each, and then the number will be wilted almost in half for Friday's 36 hole final.

Three American Horses Lose at Ascot Opening

[Copyright: 1930: By the New York Times.]

LONDON, June 17.—An American horse, Sir Andrew, owned by William Woodward, failed by over a length to beat Lord Ellesmoro's Lemmarchus in the Coventry Stakes at the opening of the Ascot meet today.

Two other American owned horses were also in the races but they finished less creditably. A. K. MacCombere's Brugeux ran second in one of the day's most spectacular races, the Ascot Stakes, which was won by M. de St. Alary's Bonny Boy. Mortimer L. Schiff's Argonaut II. was third in the first race.

NEW BOUL MICH SHOP IS LEASED BY STRICKLANDS

Take Quarters in Medinah Athletic Club.

Kathryn and Harry E. Strickland, designers and importers of women's gowns, have leased the store at 503 North Michigan avenue—in the Medinah Athletic club—to which they will move from their present quarters in the Mälabry Court building, 675 North Michigan, in the early autumn. The lease is for fifteen years at a reported term rental of $250,000.

The store leased has second floor space. It is L shaped, with windows on Michigan avenue and an entrance and display windows on Illinois street. Altogether it has 5,000 square feet of floor space. It is to be elaborately decorated in the French style and will be divided into parlors and fitting rooms. Portmanteaux of London will execute the interior work and furnishings. The Strickland firm is in its twenty-first year. It was for seventeen years at 3139 South Michigan before coming to the near north side. Howard L. Storch of Ross & Browne was broker in yesterday's deal.

Spring Semester Closes.

M. M. Oshe, law instructor, is to give his closing lecture for the spring semester of the Real Property institute of the Cook County Real Estate board, 100 North La Salle, at 7 o'clock this evening. He will talk on "Corporations." At 8 o'clock, John F. Hecht, former president of the board, will discuss "Lights and Shadows of Subdivision Development."

The time limit for the erection of a new building at 63-69 Congress street by the Congress Hotel company has been extended from Feb. 1, 1933, to Feb. 1, 1938. A clause in a lease made by the hotel company with Catherine and Jessie Colvin on Feb. 1, 1923, provided that a structure to cost at least $300,000 be erected on the site by Feb. 1, 1933.

George H. Wahl has purchased the fifteen apartment building at 4347 Keeler avenue, lot 50x173½ feet, from H. C. Madsen for a reported $80,500.

Tea Firm Purchases.

Howard H. Olsen has sold the one story building at 5052-56 Irving Park boulevard, lot 64x125 feet, to the National Tea company for an undisclosed consideration and the tea company will occupy one of the three stores in the structure. Also the National Tea company bought a one story building at 5905-09 Montrose avenue from the Kimbell Trust and Savings bank for its own use.

George Wudeck has sold the twenty-six apartments at 7526-40 Kingston avenue to Hugh M. McHugh. The lot is 120x124 feet. Mr. McHugh gave in exchange a garage at 7604-10 South Halsted street. Barrett Brothers and McKey & Poague were brokers. Monahan & Monahan were attorneys.

COTTON HAS BULGE, BREAK

A rush of buying, mainly to cover short sales in cotton, following the heavy break on Monday carried prices up 35@42 points on July in the early trading yesterday, with new crop months advanced 32@41 points. New York and New Orleans led the advance. A realizing movement at the last, in a market poorly supported, resulted in a sharp reaction with nearly all the early advance lost, the close being at net gains of 5 to 8 points on new crop futures in Chicago, 5 to 11 points in New Orleans, and 1 to 7 points in New York. July delivery gained 26 points net in Chicago with New Orleans up 14 points and New York 15 points.

LARD AND MEATS HIGHER

Light offerings of lard and bellies, combined with buying by packers' interests, absorbed the small liquidating sales of lard and induced shorts to cover yesterday. At the close lard futures were 20@27½c higher and bellies down 10@27½c. Cash trade was quiet.

Liverpool lard was 1s to 1s 3d lower, the latter on September and October. Exports of lard were 1,082,795 lbs. and of bacon 365,000 lbs. Hog prices were 25 to 50 cents lower than Monday with liberal receipts. Prices follow:

SUGAR.

NEW YORK, June 17.—(AP)—SUGAR—Raw market was easier today under increased offerings of nearby duty frees, but shipment duty frees were steadier. The more liberal offerings in the spot market and easier London cable were responsible for renewed selling pressure in raw sugar futures with all positions selling at new low records for the season. Approximate sales, 65,800 tons. Prices follow:

Heavy Export Demand Is Back of Wheat Strength

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Wheat and other grain markets were as strong yesterday as they were weak Monday, heavy buying of futures by shorts and commission houses lifting values sharply, with the strength in the stock and cotton markets having some effect.

The dominating influence, however, was the immense export demand for North American wheat from foreigners, with the seaboard reporting 3,000,000 to 4,000,000 bu sold in all positions, mainly Manitobas. Winnipeg messages estimated as high as 20,000,000 bu Manitobas had been taken in the past 5 business days, the largest sales in a long time.

Chicago wheat futures closed 2⅛@2¾c higher for the day with July finishing at 98⅜@98½c, and September at $1.01⅛@1.01¼. Winnipeg reversed its action of the previous day and led the advance, gaining 3⅛@3⅞c on the removal of hedges against the export sales and on reports of the worst windstorms of the season in the province of Alberta which was rapidly absorbing the recent precipitation. Duststorms were claimed at many points. The weekly report of a leading Winnipeg line elevator house made condition of wheat in Alberta and Saskatchewan 87, showing a loss of 2@4 points as compared with the previous week.

Trade Less Pessimistic.

The upturn in wheat was regarded by many operators as simply a natural reaction after a six day straight decline in prices, but traders generally were less pessimistic as the heavy export business combined with a better domestic demand was taken as indicating that consumers regarded the prevailing level of values with considerable confidence. Liverpool closed only ⅝@½d lower in the face of the drastic decline in North American markets on Monday and had considerable influence in the early trading.

According to a department of agriculture report the general level of prices received by producers at the present time are probably the lowest since 1922, and there is no definite evidence that the decline has come to an end. It is understood that a local house which had hard winter wheat at an eastern port is negotiating for boats to bring the grain back to Chicago as it can secure a better price by delivering it on July contracts than shipping to the seaboard.

Threshing returns from the southwest received during the day indicated that yields in parts of that area were running well ahead of expectations. Some fields in Texas and Oklahoma averaged 15 bu per acre where only 8 bu had been looked for.

Better Cash Corn Demand.

Shipping demand for cash corn showed material improvement with sales of 225,000 bu reported by local handlers, and the spot basis was ½@1c higher as compared with the July due to limited supplies. Country offerings were also small. Removal of hedges against the shipping sales with short covering lifted futures 1¾@2⅛c over Monday's finish with July closing at 76½c, and September at 76@76⅛c. Charters were made for 100,000 bu to Georgian Bay.

Cash interests were good buyers of July oats, due to the best shipping demand in some time, with sales of 260,000 bu reported for the day. Shorts and commission houses took the deferred futures. Offerings were limited on the way up, and the close was at the top with gains of 1@1¼c, July being 36⅞c and September 37⅝c at the last.

There was no material pressure on rye, and while trade was smaller than of late the close was 2½@2⅝c higher, with July 51½c and September 56c.

FREIGHT CHARGES ON SOUTHERN COAL FOR LAKE TRADE ATTACKED

Washington, D. C., June 17.—(AP)—Attacks on freight rates on southern coal destined for the great lakes trade continued today before an interstate commerce commission examiner. W. E. Tytus, president of the Sunday Creek Coal company of Ohio, testified that many operators in his state were losing money because of southern competition.

Northern coal operators contend the rates allowed southern coal producers on coal for the great lakes trade are preferential. Tytus said the present differential of 35 cents a ton in rates on coal from mines in West Virginia, Kentucky, and Tennessee and those in the north was insufficient.

He introduced a schedule showing that mines under his control in Ohio were able to operate at only 50 per cent of capacity in June of each year, while they reached 85 per cent of capacity in December. The summer depression he attributed to the loss of the lake cargo business.

He testified that northern mines found themselves favored by rate differentials against southern coal ranging from 50 to 75 cents per ton in Ohio and lake territories. He cited in support of his argument that the present differential on the lake cargo coal is too low.

Texas Ports Win.

Galveston, Tex., June 17.—(AP)—Texas ports won an advantage over New Orleans today when the United States District court handed down a decision sustaining orders of the interstate commerce commission authorizing lower freight rates to Texas ports on commodities originating in Texas, Oklahoma, and southern Kansas where the distance to New Orleans is 25 per cent greater than to Texas points.

The case was brought by the Texas and Pacific Railway and the Louisiana and Arkansas Railway companies.

SAYS BONDS ARE VEHICLES OF 70% NEW FINANCING

Bonds are now the vehicle of more than 70 per cent of new financing in the investment market, whereas last year they accounted for but 30 to 35 per cent, it is revealed in the Business Observer, new midmonthly survey of finance and business published by the Foreman State National bank. New bond issues exceeded $2,900,000,000 during the first five months of 1930, which is 20 per cent above the same period last year.

The volume of new financing being absorbed by the investment market of 1930 is strikingly similar to the volume of 1929, but the type of securities offered is in just as definite contrast, with bonds now in the ascendancy, whereas a year ago the question was seriously raised as to whether stocks might not from then on be expected to provide most of the new capital for industry.

The most conspicuous aspect of the money market are the sharp contrasts which exist between short term and long term interest rates, the Observer says. Short term rates, including commercial paper, bank acceptances, call and time loans, have declined from 40 to more than 60 per cent from prevailing levels last year. In contrast, seasoned bond yields are down less than 5 per cent from a year ago.

Foote Bros. to Pay Stock in Lieu of Cash Dividend

Directors of Foote Brothers Gear and Machine company yesterday declared a stock dividend of 2 per cent on the common shares in lieu of the regular quarterly payment of 30 cents in cash. It was stated that the company wishes to increase its working capital to meet the requirements of its business. President W. C. Davis said that, when business conditions are more settled and additional capital can be secured more advantageously, the board will probably resume cash payments. The regular quarterly dividend of $1.75 on preferred was declared at the meeting.

FREIGHT CAR LOADINGS ARE 75,398 HIGHER

Washington, D. C., June 17.—(AP)—Revenue freight loadings for the week ended June 7 were reported by the American Railway association to have totaled 935,467 cars.

This was an increase of 75,398 cars above the preceding week, when loadings were reduced somewhat owing to the observance of Memorial day, and a reduction of 120,121 cars below loadings for the corresponding week a year ago.

GLASS PROPOSES RESTRICTION OF BROKERS' LOANS

Washington, D. C., June 17.—(AP)—Restriction of loans to brokers by national banking associations was proposed today by Senator Glass [Dem., Va.] in a bill to provide a general overhauling of the national banking law and the federal reserve act.

The bill would restrict the amount of loans by a national banking association to brokers, members of stock exchanges, finance companies, securities companies, investment trusts, or similar institutions to 10 per cent of the paid in and unimpaired capital stock of the associations and 10 per cent of its unimpaired surplus funds.

Appraises Freight Truck as Transportation Factor

BY SCRUTATOR.

One of the important trends in transportation, and one that has not had with the general public the attention it deserves, is the common carrier truck's capture of a great deal of business.

Today there are at least thirty-seven companies of considerable size carrying on an interurban service from Chicago as a base. They maintain regular schedules of delivery to about 400 points in Illinois, to 125 or more in Indiana, 200 in Michigan and seventy-five in Wisconsin. More than a score of Iowa cities are reached by scheduled freight trucks, several of them by three or four lines.

There are a dozen Ohio places served and at least one in Kentucky. The effective limit of the truck as a common carrier, on the basis of the actual operation, seems to exceed 450 miles. Kansas City and Pittsburgh are on the list of cities served from Chicago. Four or five truck lines make regular trips with overnight delivery in St. Louis and in Indianapolis.

Underestimate Number.

The number of trucking companies of common carrier class is underestimated above, as a number of them are listed, in the reports gathered by the transportation department of the Chicago Association of Commerce, as those operating from certain terminals. All are lumped in the name of the terminal.

Statistics on the number of trucks, their revenues, and the amount of freight they carry are meager. The business itself is in a state of evolution so marked that one competent traffic man says of it that it is going through the same experience the railroads went through in bygone decades.

Illinois is almost unique in that it has no laws and no regulations for trucks segregated as common carriers. Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, and Wisconsin place lines serving the public under control of some state commission. In this state there is no control of tariffs and the only regulation of the business is that voluntarily established by some of the larger and more solid companies themselves.

Classified Traffic.

The trucks are strong competitors of the railroads for traffic of the classified kind—that which bears relatively high rates. One company is said to be doing well hauling automobile tires from Akron to Chicago. Rates approximate the same per hundred pounds as those charged by the railroads, in the tariffs of the highly organized truck transport concerns. The industry, however, is troubled at present by many small firms which are still cutting rates.

Such small companies sometimes are not careful enough in caring for damage claims, and as a result experienced shippers are usually careful about learning whether sufficient insurance is carried to protect the shipper. When this is watched and the rates are the same as the railroads, the pickup and delivery at door features make the truck more economical for considerable distances.

There is still a great deal to be done along the line of standardizing rates in the middle west. This and the general adoption of a code of ethics like the one of the new Central Motor Freight association, plus a better advertisement of the peculiar advantages of trucking, may result in a considerable increase in the business.

National Tube Gets Pipe Contract with Union Gulf

New York, June 17.—(AP)—A contract for approximately 100,000 tons of pipe for the Union Gulf corporation line, which will run from Oklahoma to Pittsburgh, has been awarded to the National Tube company, Pittsburgh, a subsidiary of the U. S. Steel corporation.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, June 17.—The stock market dug in and made a stand against its oppressors today.

Many high priced key issues, so called, had the benefit of banking support and a majority of them were able to recover from 1 to 3 points a share of the losses they suffered in yesterday's disastrous break. The rest of the list had its ups and downs, gains and losses being about evenly divided in the final tabulations.

While the recovery movement was not accompanied by any wild display of enthusiasm, the smaller fry holding severely aloof and leading brokerage houses cautioning their clients not to dote too rashly on signs, it at least had the effect of halting, if not entirely ending, the all-engulfing storm of liquidating orders and thus fitting the cloud of black despair overhanging Wall street with a brighter lining. Harassed brokers got a chance once more to catch up with their work and

FORTUNATE is the advertiser whose agency can assign to his account the entire time of a man of notable advertising success and extensive business experience.

Men of that calibre and capability are not numerous in agency work—and regrettably, when they are on hand, their abilities too frequently are occupied in attending to the requirements of many advertisers.

The Roche agency has the earnings that enable it to employ the best talent which search can find and money can buy. It has the willingness to supply any advertiser, with an appropriation of real size, a virtual monopoly of his pick of that talent.

This is both a heresy and a mistake from the mass-production agency point of view. But by making it, the Roche agency has succeeded in establishing a conspicuous name for itself as a pioneer in modern advertising agency practice.

Top yesterday, $13.00; average, $11.85.

Estimated receipts at Chicago today, 9,000 cattle, 26,000 hogs, and 12,000 sheep.

The hog market took a sharp dip yesterday and brought prices to the lowest level since middle of last January. The extreme top came down 30c at $10.10, which goes back to Jan. 17 for an equal low. The general average was 30c lower at $9.65.

Prevailing quotations are only 25@35c above the lowest point of the year. However, after a 25@50c lower price basis had been established, all interests bought freely at the reduction and only 4,000 hogs remained at the close. The three larger houses handled a total of nearly 18,000 head.

November Hogs, $9.00.

A decline of 25c attracted buyers to the futures market yesterday and trading was active near the finish. On the "specials" board, a load of mediums for next November delivery sold at $9.00. June light were in fairly good demand at $10.00 and July light weights were sold at $10.10. June heavy grades brought $9.80. On the "to arrive" market, heavy hogs for next Monday and Tuesday were bid $9.70.

Additional price cuts were enforced in the cattle yards yesterday. Quotations are below any corresponding week in four years, with top sales $3.00 under a year ago. Bulk of sales for the first two days of the week at $9.00@10.75, compares with $14.00@15.15 a year ago. Only one corresponding period is credited with a lower bulk since 1924.

Losses of 25c were general yesterday. Prime 1,395 lb. steers topped the price list at $12.65, although $10.00@10.50 bought good to choice grades of light and medium weights and some common steers of beef merit ranged downward to $7.50. Butcher stock ruled weak to lower. Calves sold lower considering quality. Stockers and feeders were dull and weak to lower.

Idaho Lambs, $13.00.

Idaho range lambs reached the $13.00 line on yesterday's bulge, going back eleven days for an equal. Gains of 15@25c were general, with sorting the lightest in two weeks, due to the meager supply available after directs had been deducted from receipts. The shortage at other points brought eastern orders to Chicago.

Shipments from here on Monday alone were as large as the shipments for all of last week. Natives sold largely at $12.25@12.50, with top kinds at $12.75. Aged sheep weakened again, fairly good ewes going at $3.25 and good heavy grades at $2.50. Yearlings advanced 25c in sympathy with the upturn in lambs. A few choice lights reached $10.25.

JUNE BUTTER FIRMER

Substantial reduction in the excess butter stocks over last year's supply in the 26 leading points of accumulation showed up in a gain of ¼c or $24.00 per car in June butter contracts on the Chicago Mercantile exchange while November eased an equal amount. Sales were 117 cars and receipts 22,083 tubs.

Bulls in eggs were encouraged by the storage report and gave November contracts sufficient support after early weakness to bring them back to the previous close. Sales were 19 cars and receipts 24,106 cases. Prices follow: the ticker, which had been trailing anywhere from fifteen minutes to three-quarters of an hour behind operations ever since the trouble started, came again abreast of business.

Trading Broadens.

The day's sales came to 5,018,600 shares as compared with yesterday's total of 5,657,320. More than 800 different issues were traded in, however, making the market the broadest since the big cavein of last fall.

There were a number of items of consequence in the day's grist of news to help the bull element in its uphill fight and but for the ingrowing pessimism of the street better things might have come of their efforts. The announcement that President Hoover had signed the tariff bill, thus finally settling a vexatious controversy that has irked big business for weeks, no doubt had some effect. The improvement in the wheat and cotton markets helped, and finally there was the encouraging influence of some really worthwhile buying for foreign account by brokerage houses with European connections.

Leaders on the bull side made much of all these items and for a while in the afternoon it looked as though a life size rally were getting afoot. But liquidation developed afresh in the idle trading and the leaders turned back, virtually the whole list easing off from its highs of the day.

U. S. Steel Advances.

United States Steel common stubbornly refused to decline under persistent liquidation and closed 2½ points higher at 160¾. New York Central closed 2¼ points higher at 161½. Atchison was 5¾ points up at 212½ and Great Northern closed 3 points up at 87. Banking interests were plainly lending their support to all of these.

BOARD OF TRADE DROPS FARMERS' GRAIN CONCERN

Discovery of "irregularities" in the conduct of the grain business of the Rural Grain company, reported yesterday by its president, S. J. Cottington, was followed by a suspension of the farmer owned concern from membership on the Chicago Board of Trade, the directors of the board announced late in the afternoon.

E. V. Maltby, an officer of the grain company; Mr. Cottington, and the company itself all were suspended from trading. The explanation was given in a letter issued by Cottington, which said: "Owing to irregularities discovered in the conduct of our business our capital has been exhausted and we are unable to meet the demands of our creditors."

The company's affairs were placed in the hands of Walter F. Lynch, Chicago attorney, who indicated that an audit of the books probably would be completed today, at which time a statement may be made as to the reported "discrepancies."

GUARANTY TRUST COMPANY OF NEW YORK, CORPORATE TRUSTEE

Albert H. Harris, Esq., chairman of the executive committee of the board of directors of the company, has furnished us with the following statement regarding these bonds:

PROPERTY. The Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis Railway Company's lines consist of 2,693 miles of railroad, of which 1,693 are owned, 875 are held under lease or contract and 125 miles are trackage right over other railroads. The company's line from Cleveland to St. Louis is the main line of the New York Central system between those cities. Other lines give access to large traffic centers of the middle west and comprise an important part of the New York Central system.

LEASE. As one of the steps towards the unification of its system, the New York Central Railroad Company, which owns over 98% of the company's common stock and over 85% of its 5% preferred stock, has leased the company's properties for a term of 99 years from February 1, 1930.

Under the provisions of the lease the New York Central is obligated to the company to pay the principal and interest of the company's obligations (including bonds of this issue), maturing within the term of the lease, and is also obligated to pay dividends at the rate of 5% on the company's preferred stock and 10% on the company's common stock not owned by the New York Central. This lease and the assumption thereunder by the New York Central Railroad Company of liability in respect of the company's obligations now outstanding, including the bonds of this issue, have been authorized by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The attorney general of the state of New York has given an opinion dated April 24, 1930, that, based on the statement of the company that the financial record of the New York Central satisfies the requirements of the savings bank law, the bonds of the Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis Railway Company, including the bonds of this issue, are by virtue of the obligation of the New York Central under the terms of the above-mentioned lease, legal investments for savings banks in the state of New York.

SECURITY. These bonds are secured under the company's refunding and improvement mortgage executed to Guaranty Trust Company of New York and Frank L. Littleton, trustees, under date of June 27, 1919. The mortgage covers as a direct lien 1,693 miles of railroad owned and the company's interest in 328 miles of railroad held under lease or contract, a total of 2,021 miles of railroad, exclusive of trackage rights. After giving effect to the issuance of these series E bonds, there will be outstanding in the hands of the public $60,052,600 refunding and improvement mortgage bonds and $5,000,000 twenty-year 4½% gold debentures of 1911 and not exceeding Fcs. 6,120,000 of the company's twenty-year European loan of 1910 bonds equally secured under the mortgage. Debt secured by prior liens upon the mileage owned in fee is outstanding in the hands of the public to an aggregate amount of less than $64,000,000. Upon the issuance of these series E bonds the total debt secured by mortgage upon the owned mileage and outstanding in the hands of the public will be equivalent to about $76,900 per mile of road.

In each of the five fiscal years prior to the above-mentioned lease the company's income applicable to fixed charges amounted to more than twice its fixed charges.

PURPOSE OF ISSUE. These bonds have been issued and sold to provide for payment by the company of indebtedness incurred for the purpose of retiring $15,000,000 principal amount of its ten-year 6% refunding and improvement mortgage gold bonds, series A, which matured on July 1, 1929, and to reimburse the company's treasury in part for expenditures for additions and betterments to its owned and leased lines heretofore made and not previously capitalized.

THE ABOVE BONDS ARE OFFERED, SUBJECT TO PRIOR SALE AND TO THE CONDITIONS STATED BELOW, AT 98% AND ACCRUED INTEREST FROM JULY 1, 1930, TO YIELD 4.60% TO MATURITY.

The right is reserved to reject any or all applications, and also, in any case, to allot a smaller amount than applied for. All orders will be received subject to the delivery to us of the bonds as planned, and to approval by counsel of the form and validity of the related documents and proceedings.

The amounts due on confirmed sales will be payable at the office of J. P. Morgan & Co., in New York funds to their order, and the date of payment (on or about July 2, 1930) will be stated in the confirmations of sale. Definitive bonds are to be delivered.

SHORT COVERING CHECKS CHICAGO STOCK DECLINE

Final Quotations Moderately Higher.

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

Selective buying and short covering arrested declining prices on the Chicago exchange yesterday as trading continued at an active pace. Weakness in a few of the prominent issues gave the closing list an appearance of irregularity, but in most instances final prices were moderately higher.

Transactions for the day again exceeded the half million share mark. The opening was not particularly encouraging and it was not until around midday that stocks showed any decided tendency to rally.

Mo-Kans Gains 4 Points.

Cities Service was weak on early trades, slipping to new low ground below 25, but picked up later to finish a fraction higher. Small but notable gains were chalked up for Middle West Utilities and Associated Telephone in the utility group. Missouri Kansas Pipe Line which was subject to violent fluctuations in Monday's trading regained its equilibrium and moved ahead to a high above 26. At the close the issue showed a net gain of 4 points. Among the high priced utilities advances of 7 and 9¼ points were made by Commonwealth Edison and Public Service, respectively.

The showing made by the motor and accessory shares was not as impressive. Auburn touched a new low before closing at 116, and Borg-Warner eased a fraction. Pines Winterfront was conspicuous with an advance of 2 points.

Grigsby Trading Heavy.

Grigsby-Grunow sold below 17 and showed a small net loss at the close. Dealings in the issue were heavy, sales approaching 36,000 shares.

There was a flurry of activity in investment trust shares but resulting price changes were insignificant. Chicago Corporation had the greatest turnover and both the Continental Chicago issues were exchanged freely.

The Zenith Radio company announced that plans for its new distributing organization in the Chicago area have been completed. The new unit will be known as the Zenith Radio Distributing corporation. Alvin S. Burdick, president of Abbott Laboratories, stated that earnings of the company for the first five months of the year showed a gain over the corresponding period of 1929.

CHICAGO CURB EXCHANGE STOCKS

Rallying tendencies appeared in the Chicago curb list late yesterday after an irregularly downward trend throughout the early trading, and a number of losses of around a point were reduced to minor fractions. Several of the heaviest losers of the previous session turned in good gains for the day. American Superpower spurting near 3 points and United Gas new stock and warrants finishing well up.

All your favorite sports are immediately at hand—and that goes for the whole family, too. Don't argue about father's fishing and mother's bridge and sightseeing and Bobbie's swimming and Jane's horseback riding—come to Colorado and have them all, with much more besides.

Come any time. Enjoy the refreshingly cool summer or the balmy, sunlit autumn. And come to SEE—not only the most sublime of all scenery but also the delights and manifold opportunities of Colorado life. You may decide you want to live in Colorado permanently, and that's a temptation well worth risking.

SYNOPSIS.

Catherine West of Boston, on her way to Paris, meets Geoffrey Macadam in the Havre boat train. Catherine tells him that she is going to visit her cousin's widow, Mme. Bender. She is apprehensive about the coming visit, because she had received, before sailing, a letter from Hermione Cushing, who tells her that Mme. Bender is not well. Macadam is a lawyer and he tells Catherine that his firm handles Mme. Bender's affairs. He had heard that she was ill. Arrived in Paris, Catherine is disappointed when her cousin's chauffeur is not at the station to meet her. Geoffrey sees her safely to her hotel and she promises to call him. Arrived at Mme. Bender's apartment, she is greeted coldly by the servants. Jeanne, Mme. Bender's maid, tells her that Mme. Bender had attempted to commit suicide the night before. The next morning Catherine goes in to see Mme. Bender, who is pathetically glad to see her. She tells Catherine how she had tried to poison herself by mistake.

Geoffrey invites Catherine to dine with him and she tells him of her vague fears. The next morning Catherine calls on Miss Cushing, who takes her to her milliner, Mme. Baron. She sees a man she has noticed hanging around the Bender apartment. Back in the apartment she finds the gallery open for the first time and she goes in only to discover that a number of pictures and tapestries missing. She asks Jeanne about them and the maid tells her they were sold shortly before Mr. Bender's death. Catherine feels she is lying and suspects her and Eduardo thieves. She finds Jeanne is exerting a baneful influence on Mme. Bender.

Geoffrey again takes Catherine out to dinner and she unburdens herself to him. He promises to secretly put an investigator on the case. He asks her to marry him, but she wants to be certain of her feelings. Catherine goes to visit Geoffrey's sister.

Geoffrey discovers Blom, the mysterious person seen around the Bender apartment, is a possible heir to the Bender fortune. Shortly after this discovery Blom's engagement to Mme. Baron, Miss Cushing's milliner, a widow, whose maiden name is the same as that of Mme. Bender, is announced.

Fire breaks out in Mme. Bender's apartment early in the morning and she is burned to death. Most of the building is saved. Catherine had returned suddenly to Paris the day before. The servants deny to Geoffrey that she came to the apartment. Geoffrey suspects Eduardo, the butler, to Blom's office. He sends for his investigator to watch the place. Blom calls his father and together they call on the commissariat de police, who assign Inspector Bazin to hear their case. Geoffrey returns to see if the servants have been questioned heard from Catherine.

Catherine did go to Mme. Bender's apartment on her return from Fontainebleau. It was after midnight and entering the side door, she reached her room without encountering any of the servants. Shortly after, smelling smoke, she investigates and finds it is coming from Mme. Bender's room. The door is locked. She dashes to get the keys and arouse Jeanne, who fights with her to prevent her from opening madam's door. She sees the butler, Eduardo, coming at her with a heavy candlestick—and then a crashing blow on her skull robs her of consciousness.

INSTALLMENT LXIX.

A SERIOUS ACCUSATION.

As by an afterthought the inspector spoke again, suddenly. "By the way, you account for the fact that a light was seen in the young lady's window at one-fifteen—in fact, about the time you were attempting to rescue Mme.?"

There was little doubt that this news came as a distinct shock to the butler, although not a muscle of his swarthy face moved, and his small eyes studied the questioner steadily. It was half a minute before he answered. "It's the first I've heard of it. Maybe one of the women went in the study early in the evening and left the light on."

"Ah, that seems possible. Still, if mademoiselle took it into her head to go mostly out just then, I take it there was a good chance of her doing so?"

"I suppose so," returned the man.

"That will do, I think. And now if you will conduct us to the maid we would like if she has anything more to suggest."

For the first time a trace of hesitation appeared in the confident manner. "I'll ask the doctor if you can see her," he muttered, making off to the door. "He is with her now."

Feeling sure that the fellow was anxious to have a private word with his associate, Geoffrey shot a questioning look at Bazin, but the latter did not notice him. Already he was striding after the Portuguese with long easy steps. They had reached the door at the corner, giving on the largest bedroom, and the one formerly occupied by Mme. Bender. The butler's thick hand was already on the knob, but with a firmness not at all discourteous the inspector pushed it aside.

This will prove a severe blow to poor Mlle. West," said the doctor.

"Allow me," he said, and the following instant he and Geoffrey stood within, while by the simplest maneuver Eduardo had been left alone in the passage.

The two men paused for a moment, their eyes accustoming themselves to the semi-twilight, for the curtains of apple green damask were drawn across the windows, excluding every ray of sunlight.

In an alcove to the right stood a wide decorated Italian bed, with a table beside it, upon which was spread a roll of gauze and an open leather case, evidently the property of the black clad, pompous figure, at this moment adjusting his thick glasses to take an inquiring survey of the intruders. Geoffrey saw a look of recognition come over the heavy, benignant face.

"Ah, monsieur," began Girard, coming forward and seeking to subdue his booming voice, "What a shocking affair—incredibly shocking! That poor woman there is completely prostrated—would not give up, however, until I threatened to place her in the hospital."

"Is she badly injured?" asked the inspector.

"Ah, no, not physically. Some painful burns about the hands and arms. It is her nervous system which is suffering, and no wonder. I have just given her an injection of morphia, and she is going to lie quietly and try to sleep. You wish to speak to her?"

"Only to ask a few questions. I shall not be long."

"This will prove a severe blow to the poor Mlle. West," said the doctor, preparing to depart. "I thank God that she was away when it happened."

Geoffrey did not attempt to undeceive him. He allowed the other to press his hand with kindly solemnity, then shutting the door upon him, turned towards the alcove with a taut feeling of expectancy, letting his eyes rest upon the still figure lying upon the bed.

The inspector had switched on a reading lamp beside the bed, and its shaded rays fell now upon the drawn and pinched countenance, revealing the expression of dull apathy Geoffrey had noticed earlier in the day.

In a few words the inspector explained his business. The prostrate woman let her opaque eyes rest upon his face for a full minute, then slowly closed them upon Geoffrey, her ragged brows contracted with puzzled inquisitiveness.

"But surely monsieur was not serious in what he said this morning?" she murmured. "You say that mademoiselle came here last night?"

"That is what we have got to find out," replied Bazin soothingly. "We must not tell yet what has happened to her. You were asleep up till the time her room became filled with smoke?"

"Yes, monsieur, I woke up half suffocated."

"And before that—was everything as usual?"

"Not quite, monsieur. Madame had a caller, a lady, who remained with her till seven o'clock. This lady had always an exciting effect on madame, and when she had gone last night I had great difficulty in quieting her."

"What did you do?" inquired the inspector.

"I massaged her for a quarter of an hour, and at nine o'clock administered the usual dose of veronal prescribed by the doctor. At half past ten looked in and found her just dropping off to sleep. Then I went to bed."

"Have you any idea as to how the fire started?"

There was a long pause.

"Candles!"

"Yes, monsieur. Madame must have waked up, got out of bed, and lighted the candles before the prie-Dieu. I saw plainly the streams of melted wax."

"But surely it was dangerous to have these candles so close to the draperies?"

"Most dangerous. Indeed, when I discovered recently that madame had been burning her candles during the night I took them away, fearing she might de herself an injury."

"So you took them away! Then how——?"

"That is what I am asking myself, monsieur. It is evident that unknown to me madame had obtained others, as well as matches. Some one must have given them to her secretly. That person, whoever it was, is responsible for madame's death——"

The cold deliberation of this statement caused both listeners to stiffen. There was something totally unexpected.

"But is it possible that any one knowing madame's condition could have done so foolish a thing?"

There was the faintest perceptible shrug of the supine shoulders.

The young lady you tell me is missing—Mlle. West——"

Geoffrey made an angry movement forward, the cool infamy of the suggestion acting on him like the prick of a spur. Catherine responsible for the woman's death! Even as his lips parted to voice a furious protest he caught the warning glance from the Frenchman's eye.

"That statement implies a serious accusation," Bazin replied somewhat coldly. "You are aware of what you are saying?"

The lined face remained inscrutable.

"I do not think that mademoiselle realized the gravity of her action, but consequently I accuse her of nothing but thoughtlessness. But if I am questioned in court as to the cause of my mistress' death——" she allowed her sentence to end in ominous silence, and with an air of exhaustion closed her eyes.

GASOLINE ALLEY—DEALING IN FUTURES

YOU SEE, PHYLLIS, IF WE COULD GET A CASH DEAL FOR SKEEZIX OUT OF MME. OCTAVE, BESIDE THE BRAZILIAN TIMBER HOLDINGS, WE WOULD BE SITTING PRETTY.
THEN SHE WOULD TAKE THE STEAMSHIP LINE AND PAY THE DIFFERENCE IN CASH BETWEEN THE VALUE OF THAT AND HER ONE-THIRD OF THE ESTATE.
YES. THE STEAMSHIP BUSINESS IS WORTH MORE THAN THE THIRD SO WE SHOULD HAVE A GENEROUS CASH SETTLEMENT. THEN WE WOULD TAKE THE TIMBERLANDS WHICH WOULD INCREASE IN VALUE UNTIL SKEEZIX COULD TAKE HOLD OF THEM.
THAT MIGHT BE ALL RIGHT IF THE CASH SETTLEMENT WERE LARGE ENOUGH.
OF COURSE WE HAVE SKEEZIX TO EDUCATE AND TAKE CARE OF UNTIL HE BECOMES OF AGE. DON'T SIGN ANYTHING, WALT, UNTIL WE'VE TALKED IT ALL OVER.

New Philosophy Is Glimpsed from Ideas of Einstein

But It Will Take Years to Develop Savant Says.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

Dr. Albert Einstein's latest conception of reality as space in which events occur, such as this world and this life, a traffic accident, the fall of a meteor or the death of a sparrow, will take a long time in working out of the scientific strata of thought into the light of common day. Ultimately it may change the conception of the universe and bring about a new philosophy of life.

Today even such a man as Dr. Ward Vinton Evans, professor of chemistry at Northwestern university and president of the Chicago chapter of the American Chemical society, finds difficulty in expressing in everyday metaphors what Einstein is trying to explain in Berlin.

"If the preachers knew and talked about Einstein and the second law of thermo-dynamics, they could get somewhere," he said.

"Einstein is becoming a philosopher. I have noticed that most big scientists do as they grow older. I don't know whether it is the nature of their work, nor what the law behind it is, but they become less sure, perhaps, of things that they were sure of when they were young.

"The second law of thermo-dynamics indicates that the world is running down. If so, who wound it up?

"Einstein and the Compton effect may show us that we are in equilibrium. And yet, does that apply to the rest of the universe?

"The development of the Einstein theories may show us the truth about some things in molecular physics we do not understand and also explain stellar aberrations. But it will take time. It was 50 years after Willard Gibbs wrote his theories in a Connecticut scientific publication before they were taken up and understood. Things are translated into different languages, filtered through many minds, and finally come back in a form that people appreciate.

"There are only a few men in this country, like the Comptons, Langmuir, and G. N. Lewis, who understand Einstein now. Frankly, I do not follow him in his new dimensions. The theory of relativity—the fourth dimension—was easy enough. You cannot separate the experiment from the experimenter. That goes back to mind.

"Take a handful of birdshot and throw it through a wire fence at a flock of chickens. The chickens will tell you that that fence was a barrier. The shot, if interviewed, will tell you that there was no barrier there, except for one or two shot that hit the wire. Now, they all tell the truth as they see it, yet no one has the truth.

"If you say a train is passing you at 50 miles an hour, it is not true. You must take into consideration the speed that you are traveling as you stand upon the earth, the speed at which the earth is revolving around the sun, the speed at which our galaxy is traveling through the universe. If you go up in an airplane traveling at 100 miles an hour you will think you are standing still unless you take a field of reference. The automobile on the ground traveling at 50 miles an hour will look as though it were standing still. Things are only what they appear to the observer, and we form a four dimensional universe, with time as the new dimension.

"Now, we learn, all ideas of light, time, the ether and related phenomena, are absorbed in the all inclusive concert of space. That might be explained in mathematical symbols, but not in any other way at this time.

"Einstein's mind comprehends far beyond the average mind, possibly things that he does not understand himself yet. It will take years to catch up with him."

Dr. Irving Langmuir, great research chemist of the General Electric company, the man who invented the modern radio tube, said recently at a dinner of the American Chemical society that helium atoms could only be described mathematically in six dimensional space. That is close to Einstein. He was also close when he said:

"People don't talk about matter any more. It's all mixed up and nobody worries about it."

Perhaps Dr. Shailer Mathews, dean of the Divinity school of the University of Chicago, may work out the Einsteinian problem in his religious laboratory, for it all relates back to an emergent, creative evolution in which mind takes the first place, and intelligent order rules.

Dr. George C. Stewart to Be Consecrated as Bishop at Rites Today

Consecration of the Rev. Dr. George Craig Stewart, rector of St. Luke's Episcopal church, Evanston, as bishop coadjutor of Chicago will take place this morning at 10 o'clock. The procession, including 200 bishops, clergymen and officials of the Episcopal diocese of Chicago, will form at Abbey Garth a half hour before the beginning of the service.

Microphones have been placed in the church, which will carry the service into the parish house adjoining and out into the streets. Portions of the service will be broadcast by station W-G-N. The most Rev. James De Wolf Perry, primate of the Episcopal church, will be the consecrator. He will be assisted by dignitaries from all sections of the country, including Bishop William T. Manning of New York, Bishop Sheldon M. Griswold of Chicago, Bishop Warren Lincoln Rogers of Ohio, and Bishop Charles Woodcock of Kentucky.

The visiting dignitaries will be guests at a luncheon of St. Luke's vestry at the North Shore hotel. George K. Gibson, chairman of local arrangements, will preside at the luncheon. At 3 o'clock the visitors will inspect Western Theological seminary. Tonight Bishop and Mrs. Stewart will be guests of honor at a dinner of the Chicago Church club at the Hotel Sherman.

The Inquiring Reporter

Every Day He Asks Five Persons, Picked at Random, a Question.

The Question.

The Answers.

Victor Frohlich, 1900 West Garfield boulevard, attorney—I have no wife, but if I had I wouldn't expect her to open my mail unless she had my permission. I certainly wouldn't open her mail. In my profession I have had cases of home breaking caused by just that.

Earl R. Benedict, Hotel Sherman convention bureau—Yes, sometimes she does, but not always, as my business mail comes to my office. I don't mind her opening the mail, as all our mail is read by both of us. Even the bills. She pays part of them and I pay the rest.

Anthony Czarnecki, 6877 Hobart avenue, collector of customs—My wife and I are partners in business and pleasure and never argue about mail. Much of my mail comes to my office, but seldom do I open any personal mail for either of us till I get home.

R. W. Roberts, 529 Berteau avenue, superintendent of service—Yes, for she has my permission to do so. We have nothing to hide from each other and there is no reason for one not to open the other's mail. Many quarrels begin in just such a foolish way. What's hers is mine, and vice versa.

James Errico, 6021 South Kolin avenue, department manager—I am not a married man, but if I were it would be all right for my wife to open my mail, providing it was not marked "personal." When you get married you must unite all your customs.

Adult School to Graduate Pupils from 15 Countries

Fifteen nationalities will be represented in the graduation exercises on June 26 of the elementary department of the Dante Adult school, 840 South Des Plaines street. Many of the graduates, ranging in age from 16 to 30 years, had previous educational training in their native countries, but resumed study to learn the English language and the history of the United States.

Ascot Proves Ascendancy of Long Skirts

Gowns of Victorian Day Predominate at Races.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ASCOT, June 17.—The brilliant sun that shone down at the smart Ascot track during the opening of the races this afternoon illuminated one fact of importance to British women, namely, that the long dress, despite the stubborn antagonism of thousands of the country's short skirt enthusiasts, has definitely won the day.

The Ascot race season is the greatest outdoor society event of the year, and the fashions seen on display here may be interpreted as the proper thing. Today there was not a single short skirt in view, from the distant enclosures where anybody can pile in for a half dollar, to the exclusive loges reserved for the leaders of British society.

The beautiful women gathered in the loges were garbed much as were their predecessors at Ascot gatherings in the time of Queen Victoria, with wide brimmed hats and turf dusting skirts. Some even wore trains—to the annoyance of their escorts who had to execute continual jumps to dodge the swishing yards of material.

Some dresses contained as much as a dozen yards of printed chiffon, ninon or georgette. The usual skirt was a mass of frills from waist to hem, or gathered at the waist and flowing outward until it reached an enormous circumference. Despite amplitude, however, simplicity was the keynote of the dresses.

Black coats of all kinds were popular, many women wearing two piece ensembles with neck furs of silver fox or summer ermine. Brightly colored shoes usually accompanied the flowing frocks, some being of red and blue leather, and others of spotted silk or colored crêpe de chine.

The new dresses discreetly cover the calf and merely allow a peek at the ankle as in grandfather's day. An added old fashioned touch was given to some dresses which were high necked with whalebone supports. Old fashioned elbow gloves were also worn with sleeveless gowns.

King George, Queen Mary, the Prince of Wales, Princess Mary, and Prince George drove to the races and occupied the royal box. Aga Khan, the Indian prince, the Spanish ambassador and Marquissa Merry del Val, the marchioness of Lansdowne and the duke of Norfolk were among the hundreds of other social figures present.

New Peoria Bishop Is Consecrated by Cardinal Mundelein

Belleville, Ill., June 17.—(AP)—With Cardinal Mundelein of Chicago as consecrator, the Right Rev. Joseph H. Schlarman today was consecrated bishop of the Peoria diocese of the Roman Catholic church during solemn but colorful ceremonies in St. Peter's cathedral here. Between 15,000 and 20,000 persons attended the rites.

Msgr. Schlarman, who was appointed bishop in April by Pope Pius XI., succeeds Bishop Edmund M. Dunne, who died last fall. Msgr. Schlarman has long served the Belleville diocese as pastor of the cathedral and chancellor of the diocese. He is the third bishop of the diocese, which was established in 1877.

Scores of dignitaries of the church attended the rites, including the consecrators, the Right Rev. Henry Althoff, bishop of Belleville, and the Right Rev. Edward F. Hoban, bishop of Rockford.

Bishop Schlarman will depart for the Episcopal See, over which he is to preside after preaching his farewell sermon here on June 24. He will be installed in the Peoria cathedral and chancery office on June 26.

Hoover's Cradle Is Found Amid Hens in Iowa Barn

West Branch, Ia., June 17.—[Special.]—The cradle in which President Hoover was rocked as a baby has been resurrected from a manger in a cow barn on the Wilbur Watters farm near here where it sheltered the nests of setting hens for many years. It is a well built crib of walnut, with gracefully turned rockers. The cradle was purchased by Mr. Watters at the public sale following the death of the President's father, Jesse. It was discarded after the last of the Watters children grew too large to be rocked.

Summer Camp Is Opened to Chicago Needy

First Guests Arrive at Algonquin.

BY KATHERINE KELLEY.

Nearly 100 Chicago mothers and children were at home last night on the grounds of Camp Algonquin, THE TRIBUNE'S camp for the underprivileged, the hardships of winter forgotten and their thoughts only on the joys in store during the next two weeks.

The vanguard of the season's 1,800 visitors went by train to the town of Algonquin, about fifty miles northwest of Chicago. It was a glorious trip, that three hour ride over the Chicago and North Western. The day was cool, babies were happy, and mothers serene. The older children pressed wondering eyes to window panes and noticed every cow and horse along the way. Of the 50 children less than a dozen had ever been to the country before. Of the mothers, half had never been on a summer vacation in their lives.

The little girl on crutches began wondering before the train reached the western suburbs if it "wasn't about there now." The two year old Negro twins, Lawrence and Lester, didn't really care when they reached camp if they could only sleep the whole way there. The blue eyed baby with the pink frilly bonnet cooed and gurgled.

The mothers held their sleeping babies and visited with one another. There were some whose husbands had been out of work for more than a year, or earned barely enough for food and rent. But as the train neared its destination their discussion turned to the things they would do in camp—rest, sew, and "not have to take care of the children day in and day out."

Algonquin was reached shortly before dark. At the station were two trucks, a large touring car, and Joel D. Hunter, superintendent of the United Charities of Chicago, which administers the camp. The campers were whisked bag and baggage the mile and a half to the camp, which lies along the Fox river.

Supper was waiting in the Board of Trade refectory. Mrs. Astrid Save, camp superintendent for several years, welcomed the travelers with a smile, and her staff of counselors saw that there was plenty to eat. There was little evidence when the diners had finished that the menu had included macaroni, crackers, bread, apricots, cookies, and milk. Then the mothers and children, tired but happy, were assigned to their cottages and the babies to the nursery.

The nursery was one of the busiest places in camp. Nurse Spiser had in charge 14 babies under 2 years of age. Dr. Henry C. Niblack, head of the infant welfare bureau of the Chicago health department, who will conduct infant welfare clinics at the camp every week, was on hand to see that each baby's diet started off right.

Today the staff and the campers will get down in earnest to the pleasures of vacation life. There will be games and hikes about the grounds for the older children. The kindergartners will pass happy hours in the sand piles, the babies will sleep long hours in the open porches of the nursery, and the mothers will, for the first time for many of them, have whole days ahead with nothing to do but enjoy them.

The official opening of the Camp Algonquin season is also the official call to the friends of the fund. From now on every dollar that can be raised will be needed to give these mothers and children their vacations.

Mrs. Morrisson to Give Dinner at the Tavern

BY THALIA ——.

Mrs. James W. Morrisson, who is said as well versed on matters of civil concern as any woman in Chicago, is to be hostess for what should be an interesting gathering on Friday evening. She has invited a group of about thirty guests for a dinner party for some of the members of the American Council of the Institute of Pacific Relations at the Tavern.

Mrs. Morrisson was one of the delegates to the conference of this organization last fall in Kioto, Japan, and the affair is one of the first large affairs she has given since her return from Europe a month or so ago. After attending the conference Mrs. Morrisson spent six weeks visiting that hospitable former Chicagoan, Mrs. Willard J. Calhoun, in Peking.

The Morrissons and their son and daughter-in-law, the Robert Morrissons, are now in Minneapolis for the wedding today of Miss Eleanor Cook of that city to their nephew, Brewster Atwater, son of the Walter H. Atwaters of Evanston. The Atwaters' other son, Robert Morrisson Atwater, married Miss Lois Healy, daughter of Mrs. John Jay Healys of Evanston, last week. The Chicago attendants at the wedding are to return tomorrow morning.

The marriage of Miss Betty McNair, daughter of Frank McNair of 1430 Lake Shore drive, to Frank S. Sims, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin W. Sims of 112 Bellevue place, last evening was one of the few evening nuptials of the season. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Stephen Keeler at 8 o'clock at St. Chrysostom's church. A large reception followed at the Blackstone hotel.

The bride's gown was of eggshell satin with rose point trimming at the neck line and a long, five pointed train sweeping from the waist line. Her bridal veil fell from a coronet cap of lilies. The maid and matron of honor, Miss Caroline McNair and Mrs. Walter Sanger Hinchman, wore Patou net lace frocks and carried shower bouquets of lilies of the valley. The bridesmaids, Miss Helen Shimmin, Miss Priscilla Sims, Miss Edith Kritzbury, Miss Joy Fletcher, and Miss Faye Attenbury, wore turquoise blue gowns.

George Getz Jr. served as best man for Mr. Sims. The ushers included Francis Kleutgen, Arven Bentley, William Miller, Edwin Sims Jr., John Hammie, and Richard Coffin of Ann Arbor, Mich.

Mr. Sims and his bride will sail on today from San Francisco for a wedding trip to Honolulu, returning in late July to pass the remainder of the summer at the Sims' ranch summer place at Au Gres, Mich. After Nov. 1 they will reside at 73 East Elm street.

The marriage of Miss Kathryn Bermingham to Charles H. ReQua Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. ReQua of Winnetka, is to be solemnized this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock at the residence in Lake Forest of the bride's mother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Howard J. Bermingham. The Rev. Robert W. Prince is to read the service before a small group of relatives and close friends. Miss Bermingham will have no attendants. Haven ReQua is to be best man for his brother. Mr. ReQua and his bride are planning to reside in Santa Fe, N. M., following their wedding trip.

The junior auxiliary of the Children's Memorial hospital will hold a sale of bathing suits, white shoes, parasols and other articles at the White Elephant Rummage shop today. The auxiliary is financing the convalescent camp that the hospital maintains at Lake Villa. Mrs. Francis Kirman is in charge of the sale.

Edward Brewster, son of the Walter H. Brewsters, has just completed his freshman year at Yale university. In connection with his course of study he is to go on a trip on a United States cruiser to the Panama Canal Zone.

Edward T. Blair of 1516 Lake Shore drive is to sail tonight on the S. S. Europa for his annual summer sojourn in France. Also sailing on the Europa is Frederick B. Tuttle, who is bound for Germany; Charles H. Morse Jr., who has finished his term at Yale university and is to be in France for the summer, and Mrs. William A. Smith of 325 Fullerton parkway.

Miss Katharine Dudley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence H. Dudley of Wilmette, is sailing this month with a cousin, Miss Boyd of Toronto, for a summer in Europe. Mrs. Dudley left on Monday for a month's stay at Cobourg, Canada.

Chicagoans sailing today on the S. S. Aquitania for Europe include Mr. and Mrs. Gustav Hessert of the Drake hotel, Mrs. Weymouth Kirkland and her daughter, Miss Eleanor Kirkland; Mr. and Mrs. Oliver N. Caldwell, Mrs. Blair E. More, and Miss Marion McKinlay.

Bright Sayings of the Children

My little boy had learned to lace his shoes, but when the metal came off one of the laces I had to do it for him. While getting ready for a picnic I was quite busy, so he succeeded in doing it nicely by himself. The next day I reminded him when he came to me for help that he had laced them the day before, and he said, "Yes, but I had SO many troubles I just had to taste 'em and taste 'em!"

BEAUTY ANSWERS

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

P. X. D.: Eye exercises should be suggested and directed by one who knows the strength of the eyes. If exercised beyond their strength it means additional trouble.

J. D.: MASSAGE, INTELLIGENTLY applied, is a great beautifier. It helps the blood flowing freely through the tissues, the flesh firm, and the skin unlined. If you need facial massage you must take the time to give yourself this treatment daily. In a few weeks you will notice a marvelous change. Instructions for giving massage may be had for a stamped addressed envelope.

Chicago's Artists Make Their Plans for Summer Days

BY ELEANOR JEWETT.

Summer plans for various of our artists are already drifting in. Pauline Palmer is planning on leaving for Provincetown early in July to spend the hot weeks where the Atlantic fogs and cold hold the temperature to something approaching comfort. Gerald A. Frank is going west to paint somewhere in California or among the wildnesses of the Rockies.

Frederic M. Grant is probably bound for the Pacific coast, and Charles P. Killgore is headed also toward California. Robert Lee Eskridge, who has recently completed the delightful murals in the new children's hospital at the University of Chicago, is summering near Chicago, being installed as master in the William Monroe house at St. Charles while the Monroes are in Europe.

Emile J. Grumieaux, president of the Chicago Society of Artists and an instructor in the National Academy of Art, is conducting a Sunday outdoor sketch class in Palos Park this summer. Mr. Grumieaux is a fine teacher and mixes philosophy of art and life with his teaching. His students learn a great deal of art history while they are studying under him, for he has a background of experience and information which is unusual. The sketching class is made up of ambitious young persons who are engaged commercially during the week. Outdoor painting on Sundays gives them a day in the open as well as a brilliant opportunity to go on with their art.

In this day of traveling exhibitions and loan exhibitions it is a wise painting which knows its own gallery. Grant Wood of Cedar Rapids exhibited a portrait of his mother in the Chicago Art institute in January. After the exhibit closed the young artist was asked to send his painting on the annual tour from this show. The canvas has been home long enough this spring to hang but two weeks in the Cedar Rapids gallery. At the moment it is included in the annual exhibition of contemporary American artists in the Toledo Museum of Art at Toledo, O., where it will remain most of the summer.

The Knoedler galleries opened on Monday their summer exhibition of works by American artists, among whom are included Childe Hassamm, George Inness, Rockwell Kent, Mary Cassatt, Carl Melchers, Arthur B. Davies, and Louis Kronberg.

WEDDINGS

The marriage of Miss Barbara Louise Pratt, daughter of Mrs. Forest Pratt of Evanston, to James Withycombe Reichert will take place at 8:30 o'clock this evening at St. Luke's church in Evanston. Miss Gertrude L. Owen will be maid of honor for Miss Pratt. The bridesmaids will be Miss Margaret Larkin of New York City. Miss Margaret Russell of Cleveland, and Miss Gladys Foracher, and Miss Annie Joe Howel of Chicago. John Frederick Reichert III. will be best man for his brother. The ushers will include Kenneth Nicola of Cleveland, A. C. Routh of Sandusky, O., Robert A. Walker of La Grange, Robert T. Porter of Chicago, George Reichert Jr. of Shelby, O., and James J. Spear of Cleveland.

Dr. and Mrs. Elmer Ellsworth Simpson of 6735 Merrill avenue announce the marriage of their daughter, Dorothy Clara, to Richard Francis Strong Starr of Easton, Md. The ceremony was performed on June 7 at the residence of the groom's family, "White Hope," at Easton, Md. Mr. Starr is director of the Harvard-Kirku archaeological expedition in Mesopotamia. He and his bride will arrive in Chicago on June 23 to spend several weeks here before returning to Boston. They will sail in September for Mesopotamia.

PATTERNS BY CLOTILDE

[Registered U. S. Patent Office.]

WOMAN'S OR MISS' DRESS.

The skirt of this pretty dress has the low placed circular fulness, and the smart pointed outline at the front with downward curving towards the back aids in giving an appearance of slenderness. The bolero is finished with a piping, and the belt is leather. A printed silk crêpe showing a navy blue ground and having springlike flowers in vivid red and yellow would be lovely for this design. The piping should be of plain red, also the belt.

The pattern, 3475, comes in sizes 16 and 18 years and 36, 38, 40, and 42 inches bust measure. Size 36 requires 3⅞ yards of 39 inch material with ¼ yard of 11 inch light contrasting, and ⅝ yard of 39 inch dark contrasting.

Americans May Give Paris a Clinic to Aid in Cancer Study

BY HENRY WALES.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, June 17.—European cancer specialists are interested in the glandular deficiency theory formulated by Drs. Walter B. Coffey and John Davis Humber, both of San Francisco, and are preparing to give Dr. Coffey opportunity for extensive experiments in the leading Paris hospitals.

Dr. Coffey, who is planning to sail for America Friday on the Bremen, today said he is delighted with the open mindedness of continental scientists and the great interest with which his theory was received.

According to Dr. Coffey, the Pasteur institute, Curie foundation and other organizations interested in cancer research have offered to extend all their facilities should Dr. Coffey wish to send one of his associates to demonstrate the treatment.

Dr. Coffey indicated today that Dr. Humber might accept the offer and establish a clinic here, where the methods of treatment may be closely studied and checked by European scientists.

"Even if we do not decide to send some one to Paris to personally administer the treatment, we are sending over a quantity of the suprarenal extract prepared in my laboratories," Dr. Coffey said. "The leading cancer specialists in Paris, while not willing to commit themselves on the efficacy of the treatment, expressed keen interest and without exception asked that they be sent samples of the extract. This extract will be tried out in the big hospitals of Paris on hopeless cancer cases."

Hats are Perennial and Powerful Lure to Every Woman

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

What one good hat can do to us of the hat hunting sex is something we never recognize until we get a shelf cluttered up with three or four or five of them. Out of the batch there is the one beloved we turn to on every occasion we want to look our best. It may not go with the gown, but it does go with the face.

Sometimes I wonder if we women wouldn't be better hatted if we followed the male examples of one for the straw season and one for the others, and if the shapes weren't all of a more standardized pattern. Maybe the idea wouldn't work at all. Milliners wouldn't like it and women would like it less. For nothing, not shoe purchases, gloves, handbag, or dress, subscribes quite the same pleasure to the average one of us as a hat hunting day. While we're hunting! When we get back home and next day put the darned thing on we frequently wonder how we could have fooled ourselves yesterday the way we did.

Hats are terribly tied up with beauty, because you can put on years with one and take them and a few more off with another. They can change the shape of the face for better or worse. They can expose or hide facial defects, and they can accentuate the beauty of the eyes, the cheek, and neck line and the general facial contour.

The worst of hat buying is that you set out with your mind made up to something that will go with something, but the flesh shure am weak when a woman seats herself before a mirror surrounded by hats. All the resolutions are likely to take wing when a heavenly blue chapeau is brought on, though it was a black dress you were planning the hat for. I don't know what can be done about it unless a course of spine strengthening exercises is taken before one goes hatting.

Maybe we know from past experience that a brimless hat is our worse bet, but aren't we just as apt to come sailing home again with a brimless-er one that is even more merciless toward facial weaknesses?

Perhaps it's prayer we ought to commit ourselves to before we saunter forth, with a few s. p. petitions sent up during the hour of purchase.

Pleads for Clergy That Understands Troubles of World

The Rt. Rev. Harwood Sturtevant, Episcopal bishop coadjutor of Fond du Lac, Wis., gave the address yesterday at the 45th commencement at Western Theological seminary, Evanston. He declared that the greatest need of the church is "spiritually minded clergy who are as successful at the altar as they are graceful at tea parties."

Bishop Sturtevant said there is no lack of clergymen who must have $2,500 a year or more, but that there is a real lack of those who can get along on less and will.

"We pray that this seminary will supply a priesthood that can pray as well as preach, that values men's souls above their pocketbooks," he said. "The distracted state of the world calls not so much for reason and argument as it does for prayer and understanding hearts. In an academic atmosphere it is easy to yield to a sort of intellectualism that makes reason the only organ of knowledge."

Food Talk.

Ounce for ounce, cottage cheese contains as much protein (food which builds tissue and makes blood) as lean round steak. It also contains an abundance of lime, that mineral which is so essential in the building of teeth, bones, and blood. While it is not as rich as lean beef in its supply of phosphorus and iron, that which it does contain is of a fine quality. Cottage cheese, therefore, is a valuable food from the nutritive point of view.

It is also an inexpensive food. A good quality can now be purchased for 20 cents a pound. And some of you will be interested to know that this is a commercial product.

In purchasing cottage cheese one should always insist on freshness. It spoils easily. The high moisture and protein content make it just as ideal a food for bacteria as for man. The acid in cottage cheese which is never sufficient to protect against the invasion of bacteria and molds is easily broken down. The product should be used, therefore, soon after purchasing. Any that is left over should be kept in the refrigerator.

Cottage cheese is well adapted to the diets of both children and adults, and it can be used in the preparation of many pleasing foods. It makes excellent sandwiches and salads. Combined with cream, chives or pimento, and molded, it may well take the place of meat loaf. It also makes delicious pie and cake. There are some foods with which it combines unusually well—pineapple, prunes, pears, chives, parsley, pimentos, tomatoes, and lemons.

Women Work from Necessity, Says Labor Bureau Head

BY DORIS BLAKE.

One who admits himself in his signature "Crank" petitions us to start a movement to drive women out of the business field in the interests of marriage.

"If they were driven back into the home, they'd have to make a go of it," he hints as panacea for current matrimonial disturbance.

To "Crank" we feel our best response would be the findings of Mary Anderson, head of the women's bureau of the department of labor, on why women, married and unmarried, work.

She says: "With the development of the modern industrial system, articles which formerly were made in the home at low cost had to be purchased at much greater outlay of money. With the resultant new scale of living costs many men became unable, under existing wage standards, to meet the family needs. Many women began to realize that they, too, must join the wage earning ranks to earn a livelihood and to help hold home and family together.

About single women wage earners, Miss Anderson finds that their family responsibilities are in general much heavier than society has been accustomed to recognize. Sons do not forego marriage and careers to anything like the extent that daughters remain at home because of the need of parents or younger brothers and sisters. Contributions from daughters to the parental home are greater than those of sons.

In answer to the protests made that married women who have husbands to support them take jobs from men and single women, the women's bureau investigations reveal that the great majority of these married women have sought paid jobs because of financial needs and not desire for a career or to escape household drudgery.

They have become bread winners because of the husband's insufficient or irregular earnings, or because of his unemployment, illness or inability to provide for his family. In other instances, married women have become wage earners to help buy a home, to give children greater opportunities, or to raise the family above the poverty level.

In other words, women work because they have to.

DORIS BLAKE ANSWERS

Take Out Younger Girls.

"Dear Miss Blake: My girl doesn't care to go with me on account of her age. She is older than I. Please advise. "JIM."

Don't make any effort to hold her; try your luck with younger girls.

Shattered That Romance.

When I was attending high school a wonderful girl, in my opinion, came to town and started to school. She was attractive and I didn't rate so well with her, due to much competition.

A special movie came to town, and when I had asked her for the fifth time, she consented to go. That was a happy moment for me. When we reached the theater it was necessary to wait in line about fifteen minutes before I was able to purchase the tickets. At last I was at the ticket window. The regular price had been 35 cents, but, due to extra entertainment, the price was 50 cents. I had 75 cents, so we didn't go to the movie.

Put yourself in my position!

C. C. G.

Just Generally Hospitable.

Recently I invited a friend to lunch with me in a loop restaurant. After lunch I took the check and stepped to the cashier's window to pay it, my friend following directly behind. I had just received my change and was about to move on, when I saw her arm thrust through the pay window with a check and money. I was horrified at what I considered my thoughtlessness and reached for the check.

"I didn't know the waitress put our bill on two checks," I explained. "You must give that to me."

She refused to let go of the check but I had already taken hold of it and began to pull it from her hand, talking all the while. Finally a voice said laughingly, "Well, of course, if you insist on paying my check——" and I looked up into the face of a perfect stranger! My own friend, who was much taller than I, had stepped aside, and the one who had taken her place was of the same height and wore the same color coat, so that, looking back but not up, I had seen only a familiar shoulder and arm, and acted accordingly. Ensemble Adds Gayety to Summer Flittings

BY BETTINA BEDWELL.

PARIS.—[Special Correspondence.]—Gone are the days when women took traveling seriously. Airplanes and Graf Zeppelins, not to speak of submarines and tanks, have brought darkest Africa and altitudinest Andes within easy reach, and it is doubtful if a single comic opera tourist, who thinks it necessary to dress up like an English big game hunter to board a train, can still be found.

Women who summer in the south of France, where you board the little train to do your shopping in the next town as carelessly as you hail a Paris taxi, and women in America who so often have to run into town from the country place for one errand or another during the summer like cool pretty costumes that are practical but don't suggest traveling.

An ideal ensemble for such is shown in our drawing. Jeanne Lanvin makes it of myrtle green crêpe sprinkled with white pin-dots. The simple frock has a long sleeved blouse and moderately gored skirt. The amusing bertha-plastron adds a touch of crisp freshness. It's in white pique and may be easily removed for frequent washing and ironing, as it slips over the head and the dress is complete without it. A pique band collar ties it on at the neck, and it is held in place by the crêpe belt of the frock which passes through loops hidden behind its tabs.

Graduated cutout triangles form a yoke on the circular hip length cape of the green crêpe which is unlined and finished with a band collar that may be tied in a bow if you like. Cutout motifs which allow the white pique of blouse or plastron to show through are a favorite decoration with Mme Lanvin this summer, and they give a pretty lightening effect to dark costumes. Our small sketch shows you what happens to the bertha-plastron in the back.

FREAK STORM VISITS LONDON; CAUSES HAVOC

Buildings Are Flooded, Streets Torn Up.

BY ROBERT SAGE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON June 17.—A deluge tumbled down on London this evening, causing floods and storm havoc in the fashionable west end section. Deafening thunder and freak lightning preceded a sudden downpour of rain, which, although the storm itself was brief, was terrific in its intensity and unprecedented in its results. More than 1,000 people were driven from their homes.

Business blocks, west end clubs and hotels were flooded. In the center of "clubland," Northumberland avenue, the Constitutional club basement was flooded with four fet of water. Chairs, chests and beds floated around.

Piccadilly Paving Wrecked.

The National Liberal club was flooded with 4½ feet of water, wrecking the electric system and plunging the clubrooms into darkness.

Piccadilly thoroughfare was flooded with a foot of water and the wooden blocks in the roadway were forced up.

At the houses of parliament 5 or 6 inches of water rushed into historic Westminster hall, while in the surrounding buildings basements and floors were flooded.

Owing to the suddenness and intensity of the downpour thousands of pedestrians were drenched before they were able to reach shelter.

Electricity Cut Off.

In Ludgate Circus, 50 yards from THE TRIBUNE office, a manhole cover weighing 560 pounds was blown 20 feet in the air by the force of the rushing flood waters.

Several deaths were reported through fright at the height of the storm, and there were many auto crashes, with numerous casualties from disorganized traffic.

Five Killed in France.

PARIS, June 17.—(AP)—Five persons were killed and considerable property damaged by violent rain storms in various parts of France yesterday.

A wall of water twelve feet high swept the outskirts of Bar le Duc, drowning a woman and a child. Several houses in surrounding villages were crushed by the impact of the wave.

50,000 CHINESE TROOPS DEFEAT MAIN REBEL ARMY

SHANGHAI, June 17.—(AP)—Led by President Chiang Kai-shek, 50,000 Nationalists today defeated the southern rebels' main column south of Wuchang and recaptured Yochow and Changsha in Hunan province, which the rebels had taken a few days ago during their march month. Another rebel column approached Shasi, important Yangtze river city above Hankow, while still another swung eastward into Kiangsi province, threatening Nanchang and Kiukiang.

Meanwhile 50,000 northern alliance rebels were reported to have captured Tsinan, capital of Shantung province, after a week of fighting. For several days their artillery fire was heard in Tsinan and it was rumored the Nationalist commander had agreed to surrender the city.

Other northerners, pushing Nationalist forces southward along the railway, reached Chumatien, about 175 miles north of Hankow, their objective.

BRITISH FLIRT WITH GANDHI TO END REVOLUTION

May Ask Leader to Modify Terms.

BY CHARLES DAILEY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BOMBAY, June 17.—Further intimation of Great Britain's willingness to grant amnesty to prisoners and also to meet certain of Mahatma Gandhi's demands came today when it was announced that Sir Prabhashanker Pattani is conferring with Bombay government officials and that he will probably visit Gandhi to ascertain his views on a compromise and the conditions for the modification of some of his four points.

Coincidentally, on Tuesday Viceroy Lord Irwin will meet a delegation of newspaper publishers, a possible result of which may be the permission to resume suspended publications. A further coincident is the arrival tomorrow of Pandit Nehru, acting president of the Nationalist congress committee, for a conference with local leaders.

Business at a Standstill.

Sentiment tonight indicates that both sides wish to call a halt until the atmosphere clears, since business is at a standstill as a result of the boycott. The cotton crisis is becoming increasingly serious, and is reflected in a heavy declines in mill shares. The non-tax payment campaign has already been felt in the leading provinces, which face heavy deficits.

Although picketing of foreign shops continued in Bombay today, the Nationalists devoted their principal energies to keeping the curious out of the fort area, scene of the picket "war," and also sending pickets only as successors to those arrested. About 25 Congress secretaries and the editor of the Bulletin were arrested and sent to jail for six months.

Picketing Is Resumed.

Troops at Bombay were confined to their barracks today with the police also making efforts to avoid further clashes. Traffic moved as usual in the fort section at Whiteway, where 40 English and Indian police were on guard.

Arrests continued today at Calcutta and other parts of Bengal. Reports from other parts of India tonight stated that the police are forcibly lowering the Nationalist flag, but that it is still flying in Allahabad and Delhi.

Arrest Frank O'Malley in Raid on His Old Saloon

Frank O'Malley's old time saloon at 933 North State street was raided by dry agents yesterday afternoon and stripped of its furnishings. A small quantity of whisky and three half barrels of beer were destroyed. O'Malley and his bartender, Robert Hubert, were arrested by the raiders.

Dry agents also raided two 100 gallon stills at 2453 Fillmore street, where John Rio, Joseph Stitl, and Joseph Bonner were arrested, and a 75 gallon alcohol plant at 1706 West 14th place, arresting August Mallo.

DAVID THREATENS TO CALL MAYOR BEFORE BENCH

Superior Judge Joseph B. David twice threatened to summon Mayor Thompson to his court yesterday during the hearing of a suit brought against various city officials by Chris O'Brien, owner of the Normal baseball park at 61st street and Racine avenue. Through Attorney William V. Daly O'Brien instituted mandamus proceedings after he was denied a permit to operate an open air dance hall at his park.

According to testimony, the permit was refused by Commissioner of Police Russell on the grounds that O'Brien had associated with another dance hall proprietor whose place was raided on a liquor violation charge. Judge David was told the mayor has jurisdiction over permits, but that the work is actually handled by the police commissioner.

Acting Commissioner Alcock was summoned, and he explained that he was as yet unfamiliar with this phase of his work. Judge David ordered that the permit be issued by Thursday or he personally would summon the mayor.

Boy, 12, Missing 6 Days; Is "Bound for Florida"

Robert Collins, 12 years old, of 2033 Cortland street, disappeared from his home last Wednesday and left word for his mother "that he would see her in Florida next fall." When Robert left home he was dressed in a light blue shirt, long brown trousers, and wore tan tennis shoes. He also had on a large rimmed straw hat. He is 4 feet 9 inches tall and weighs about 90 pounds. He is of medium complexion with light brown hair and blue eyes. He attended the Langland school and was in the fifth grade. His mother, Mrs. Marie Collins, is very anxious to have him return home where he will be forgiven.

Warns of Fake $10 Bills Circulating in Chicago

Capt. Thomas J. Callaghan of the United States secret service yesterday warned Chicago merchants of an influx of counterfeit $10 federal reserve notes bearing the code numbers of the Federal Reserve bank of Kansas City. Fifteen of the spurious notes have been found, he said, 12 in one loop store. The paper is somewhat thicker than that of the ordinary $10 bill.

THORNE HEIRESS WHO ELOPED IS HOME FOR VISIT

Mrs. Katherine Thorne Gillespie, Chicago and Lake Forest debutante, who startled society 15 months ago when she jilted Clymer S. Bowen, a Yale man, and eloped with George [Big Boy] Gillespie, Arizona cowboy entertainer, is back in Lake Forest, alone, for her first visit with old friends since she became a bride.

"Katherine has been working hard in Hollywood and came home merely for rest," said one of the family at the Thorne residence at 425 North Sheridan road, Lake Forest. Her father, Robert J. Thorne, Chicago capitalist and former president of Montgomery Ward & Co., said his daughter was not to be interviewed, but denied she contemplated a separation from Mr. Gillespie.

Parental opposition, which developed when Miss Thorne eloped with the cowboy, was dispelled after a "love test" separation, when Mr. Thorne took his daughter to the Hollywood bungalow Mr. Gillespie had rented. Only two months ago, the couple opened a miniature golf course in Hollywood, with Gillespie as manager and his wife as cashier.

RENCH, STICKNEY OFFICIAL, GETS YEAR FOR RUM

Anton Rench, president of the village board of Stickney and alleged representative of the Capone booze syndicate, was sentenced to one year in the Grundy county jail and fined $1,000 by Federal Judge Woodward yesterday.

Rench received the maximum sentence on his conviction of possessing liquor and maintaining a nuisance at the La Ruth bungalow, 4033 South Oak Park avenue. His wife, Erna, who was convicted only on the nuisance charge, was fined $500, and James Sindelar, bartender, was sentenced to three months in the Kane county jail and fined $500 on charges of selling liquor.

Assistant United States Attorney Edward A. Fisher opposed a plea for leniency. He asserted that residents of the suburb had complained of "intolerable conditions," and that the raided roadhouse operated by the Renches was a headquarters of gangsters and crooked politicians.

BREAK GROUND ON TUESDAY FOR NEW LANE HIGH

Ground will be broken on Tuesday for the new $5,500,000 Lane Technical High school at Addison street and Western avenue. Elaborate ceremonies will mark the initial step in the construction of the new school, with city officials, members of the board of education, 6,000 students and 25,000 alumni, and fifteen school bands taking part in the program.

The board of education yesterday awarded to the O'Neill construction company the contract for the excavating and other preliminary work on the school. Eighteen other bids for the actual construction of the building were rejected, due to alleged excessive estimates. The board will advertise for new bids next Wednesday.

Kirk Munroe, Author of Books for Boys, Is Dead

Orlando, Fla., June 17.—(AP)—Kirk Munroe, 79, author, died here yesterday in a sanitarium. Writer of 35 books for boys, Munroe was best known for his "Flamingo Feather," "Through Swamp and Glade," a story of his explorations in early Florida, is used as a reference work on Seminole Indian life.

King of Norway Gives Audience to Chicagoan

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BUTLER NAMED ACTING STREET SUPERINTENDENT

Joseph J. Butler, deputy superintendent of streets, was appointed acting superintendent last night by Commissioner of Public Works Wolfe to fill the vacancy in the department that has existed since the death of Thomas H. Byrne last summer. Patrick J. Donovan, an assistant superintendent, was appointed to fill Butler's old position.

There has been a fight over the vacant superintendency in the city hall. At different times Butler, Edward F. Moore, deputy commissioner of public works, and Daniel A. Serritella, city sealer, have been slated for the position according to rumors. In the midst of the battle the council took Wolfe's authority to make an appointment away by leaving the position out of the 1930 budget. At a recent council meeting an appropriation was made for the position for the remainder of the year.

POLICE RADIO STATION GOES INTO OPERATION

Seventeen squad cars already are equipped with receiving sets. It is planned to install them in all "flivvers" and squad cars.

All broadcasting will be from the main studio in the detective bureau at 11th and State streets. Two other radio transmitters will be located at the Town Hall and Wabash avenue stations.

Crime flashes will be broadcast on wave length too short for the average radio set to pick up.

A FRIEND IN NEED

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

A Family Needs Help.

"I am writing to you about a very needy family. The home was burned to the ground recently, destroying everything. I wonder if you could get donations of clothing and furniture for them. The father wears size 42 or 44, the mother, size 50, the daughters, 16 and 18, the boy, 12 or 14, and there is a small baby. A. M."

Can you help to repair the damage caused by this fire and relieve the desperate situation in which this family finds itself? Clothing you may be planning to discard the pieces of furniture which you will not be using again would give them the start they need to reëstablish their home.

Needs Dress Form.

"Will you kindly ask in your column if any one has a dress form to give me? I do sewing for a living and am badly in need of one. Mrs. E. K."

Fitting will become less of a problem and her work undoubtedly will show an improvement when this woman secures the dress form she asks for. Have you one not in use which she may have?

FARM AND GARDEN

BY PAUL POTTER

Dahlias set out now can be expected to flower in two months and thus add color to a garden that needs flowers in the early fall season. By planting the bulbs now all danger of spring frost is past, although the bloom will be at its best far before the average killing frost appears in the fall.

The standard varieties are adapted to a wide range of soils and conditions, it has been found, and their culture is consequently simple. Plants are widely diverse in size and flowering habits, recognition of which in the last few years has increased the rating of the dahlia as a late summer flower. Even well into the fall season, when frosts nip at the foliage, many buds survive the lightest frosts and are able to draw upon the reserve strength of the main part of the plant enough to mature flowers.

These tuberous rooted tender perennials, successfully grown in the Chicago area, require some special winter care and need to be taken up in the fall and stored in a protected place. They should be placed in rows about three feet apart with about three feet between each plant in the rows, fully in the sun and with the tubers planted flat about six inches deep.
